District Teachers Request Meeting With School Board

The High School Dist. 211 Education Association last night requested a meeting with the district's board of education to be held today to discuss their five-month-old teachers' contract dispute.

At Herald press time the school board was meeting in closed session to discuss the status of the district's negotiations with its teachers and had not yet responded to the request for a new meeting.

About 59 teachers attended the board meeting to her Association Pres. Doug Verdonck read a statement to the board asking for the meeting. The Dist 211 board and the association have been deadlocked on the issue of whether to provide guarantees on "working conditions" including teacher evaluation, class size, and teacher assignments in the new contract.

The board has offered to form committees with the teachers association to study problems on the working conditions but refuses to place any guarantees on them in contract language.

TUESDAY NIGHT 235 of the association's 380 members voted to support the association's position demanding that guarantees on working conditions be inserted in the contract. At that meeting the teachers also agreed that they will not go on strike even though the contract dispute is not settled and school is scheduled to open today.

In reporting the teachers' action to the board, Verdonck said, "We think it is of the utmost urgency that we return to the bargaining table and that we remain there until we have settled the differences which have divided us so far."

Verdonck also affirmed that the teachers will return to work without a contract. The last negotiations meeting between the board and association was held on Aug. 14. A meeting scheduled last Sunday was canceled by the board.

Verdonck called the board action in canceling last Sunday's meeting "an act of indifference not to mention bad faith." He said the association officers are willing to meet with the board today and over the weekend in an effort to reach tentative agreement on the entire contract including salaries for the coming school year.

Until agreement is reached on the contract, teachers will be paid according to the salary schedule in effect last year. Teachers who were in the district will receive a raise for the additional years of working experience.

IN OTHER ACTION the board voted to deny a request for a one year leave of absence from Ron Avery.

Avery has been head of the association's negotiating team since last spring and had requested the leave so he could go to work for the South Dakota Education Association as a professional negotiations consultant.

Supt. Richard Kolzy recommended that the board deny Avery's request pointing out it does not fit with the board's policy on leaves of absence. The board's policy provided that leave may be granted to teachers for "professional study." Avery was a physics teacher at Palatine High School.

Cycling No. 1 Activity For Youngsters

by MARILYN HEISER

The wheels have it this summer — bicycle wheels that is. Judging from the number of children turning Schaumburg and Hoffman Estate streets into bike trails, cycling is the No. 1 activity for the under-13 set.

When their legs or pedals give out, kids today are opting for much the same kind of games that the last generation enjoyed.

Except the names are different. Blank looks greet mention of such time-honored favorites as steal the bacon, elimination, blind man's bluff, and kick the can.

But the basic premise of games seems to be the same. Tagging, catching, shoving, and generally ganging up on each other still go on, but under new names.

When a group of 10-year-old boys was asked what the current favorite games are, loud cries of "Mug" and "Smear" rang out. For the uninitiated, "Mug" refers to wrestling in the swimming pool. And "Smear" involves tackling whoever is unlucky enough to be in possession of a football when the game is in progress.

PATRICK YOUNGS, 609 Donna Ct., Schaumburg, and Danny Duerdoth, 1524 Colwyn Dr., Schaumburg, who yelled louder than the others about mugging and smearing, seem to be experts at the games.

BUT THOSE cherishing memories of sunny days with hide 'n' seek and red rover and red light, green light should take heart. Some children did recall mention of those games before.

A few 10-year-old girls conceded they had played those games "when they were little." Diane Sherwood, 8, of 313 Desmond Dr. and Susan Ahlert, 10, of 321 Desmond Dr., both of Schaumburg, even admitted to an occasional game of jump rope, catch, or hopscotch.

None of the girls volunteered any information about doll playing. But the doll manufacturers probably needn't pack up shop tomorrow.

Theresa Rooney, 9, 161 Bode Rd., Hoffman Estates, was rather secretly carrying around a cardboard box filled with pieces of cloth and assorted objects. Upon questioning, she revealed it was to become a house for her Barbie doll.

The age of the media also is definitely upon us. Kids pedaled past with transistors plugged into their ears, tuned, of course, to rock stations.

And a large number of boys claimed they learned their favorite sports from watching TV. Do you wonder how TV teaches you how to hold a bat or kick a football or stay afloat in the swimming pool? Physical education teachers will be interested in knowing they too can be replaced by the tube.

Fortunately for the gym teachers in the area, Mike Irwin, 324 Bramble Ln., Schaumburg, and a few of his friends also ranked street hockey high on their list of favorites. Television has not yet featured street hockey. Unless, of course, it will be featured soon on "The Wide World of Sports."

The girls also go for the competitive sports. Jeanette Karney and Donna Caldwell, both 11, of 165 Bode Rd., Hoffman Estates, mentioned baseball and football as their favorite games. Jeanette was, however, carrying around a transistor radio, tuned for the top 40.

MIKE HAGAN, 11, of 350 Alcoa Ln., Hoffman Estates, said watching television occupies much of his time. No favorite shows, though. As long as it's on, he felt it was probably worth watching. If Mike's lackadaisical attitude becomes prevalent, A. C. Nielsen should consider giving up their ratings and go into another field.

Bob Shoemaker, 12, of 131 N. Woodlawn St., Hoffman Estates, who was stopped as he and friend Mike pedaled furiously past, opted for baseball, football, and swimming. He did, however, look too glued to his bicycle seat to have much time for off-the-cycle activities.

It all seems pretty tame stuff. Except for one boy who gave his name as John Wayne and said his favorite game was spin the bottle. And Rex Reed, 300 Cloverdale Ln., Schaumburg, who claimed no relationship with the movie columnist, spoke up for poker.

A chorus of "sometimes for pennies" chimed in on that one. Someone should tell these kids about gambling laws before the habit gets out of hand.

Honorable Mentions

Two area elementary school students have won honorable mention in an environmental poster contest sponsored by a gas company.

Receiving awards were David Carlsson, 705 Hingham Ln. and Robert J. Ziegler Jr., 813 Duxbury Ln., both of Schaumburg.

Both are students at Thomas Dooley School.

Attend Music Camp

Brenda Kay Stansfield, 210 Harper Ln. and Debra J. Smith, 122 Geronimo St., both Hoffman Estates, recently attended the 31st annual Egyptian Music Camp at Du Quoin State Fairgrounds.

Brenda, 14, plays the flute, and Debra, also 14, plays trombone and piano.

Male Chauvinists. It's Your Kind Of Car Wash

A bevy of bikinied beauties will be washing cars Sunday at a car wash sponsored by the sisterhood of the Woodfield Jewish Congregation.

The Bikini Car Wash will be held at Vermiglios Marathon Car Service at Golf Road and Highland Boulevard, Hoffman Estates. From 10 a.m. on, the bikinied girls will wash cars.

The cost will be $1.50 for full-size cars, $1 for compacts, and 75 cents for a second car brought in by a customer.

Plan 40-Acre Complex On Roselle Road

A planned-unit development on Roselle Road across from Townsquare Shopping Center was recommended to the village board for approval Wednesday by the Schaumburg Zoning Board of Appeals.

Applegate, developed by Alden Corp., Minneapolis, Minn., would consist of 9 three-story and 18 two-story buildings for a total of 756 dwelling units — 108 efficiency rental apartments, 378 one-bedroom and 278 two-bedroom.

Two swimming pools, tennis courts and stables will be included in the 40-acre development about one-quarter mile south of Schaumburg Road, and approval was given with the restrictions that the plans meet village engineering and Metropolitan Sanitary District regulations.

Only tenants of the development will be able to board their horses there. In response to a question about the legality of riding horses on Schaumburg streets, secretary Sylvia Parsons informed the board that the village has an ordinance "requiring that you carry a plastic bag and shovel if you ride on public streets."

A SPECIAL-USE permit will have to be granted by the village board to allow the stables. Final plans for the development must be approved by the fire department prior to issuance of building permits.

Construction on the site must be approved by the fire department prior to issuance of building permits.

Construction on the site must begin one year from approval and must be completed five years after that. Howard Levin attorney for the developers, said construction could possibly begin by January.

Applegate is designed by Babbin and Assoc., Chicago. The firm's only other building in the area is 600 E. Algonquin apartments.

Buildings will cover almost 18 per cent of Applegate; parking 30 per cent and open space 53 per cent. Density of the development is 19.5 units per acre.

Zoning Board Chairman Russell Parker noted that the development meets all PUD requirements. Applegate developers have agreed to donate $100 per unit to the Schaumburg cultural center and an additional $20,000 to the Schaumburg general fund. Alden Corp. has also made a suitable donation agreement with School District 54, Parke said.

The village board will act on the development at its Sept. 12 meeting.

3 Receive Degrees From MacMurray

Three Hoffman Estates students received degrees from MacMurray College, Jacksonville, recently.

Frank R. Getz earned a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics and physics. He is the son of Mr. Raymond Getz, 110 Mohave St.

Kathy Jean Molbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Molbeck, 134 Kingman, received a bachelor of arts in physical education.

Earning her bachelor of music degree was Deborah Rosenkrantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Rosenkrantz, 243 Ashley.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

Sen. George S. McGovern's national campaign chairman, Lawrence F. O'Brien, charged that the White House was using "every ounce of political muscle" to block release of a government report on Republican campaign contributions.

MSD OKs Million For Sewer Work

by ANNE SLAVICEK

The Metropolitan Sanitary District yesterday approved a million-dollar contract for the construction of an interceptor sewer leading to the Upper Salt Creek Reclamation Plant.

During the same meeting the MSD trustees also accepted more than $3 million in federal and state grants which will be applied to the construction costs of five interceptor sewers in connection with the reclamation plant.

The contract was awarded to the Jay-Dee Construction Co., on a low bid of $1,015,554, for the construction of Interceptor Sewer No. 4.

The 4,428-foot-long sewer will run parallel to Ill. Rte. 53 from a point south of Longacres Lane north to a point 1,600 feet south of Kirchoff Road in Rolling Meadows.

The sewer will be part of a system to divert flow from the overloaded North Side Sewage Treatment Works to the new Salt Creek Reclamation Plant.

The federal and state grants provided $3,364,380 for the construction of interceptor sewer Nos. 1, 2, 4, 10 and 11. A federal grant, earmarked for interceptor sewer No. 4, was in the amount of $811,800.

THE BOARD also accepted a $734,080 grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to be applied to Upper Salt Creek Interceptor Sewer No. 11.

That sewer is west of Meacham Road running from a point even with the Salt Creek plant north to Higgins Road in Schaumburg.

The MSD also accepted a state grant to be applied to the cost of Upper Salt Creek Interceptor Sewer Nos. 4 and 11.

The state contributed $369,000 toward the cost of Interceptor Sewer No. 4 and $333,700 toward the cost of Interceptor Sewer No. 10. That sewer runs from the Salt Creek Reclamation plant west and south to Plum Grove Road.

Two grants from the state of Illinois for two other interceptor sewers leading to the Upper Salt Creek Reclamation Plant were also accepted.

The state contributed $661,900 to the cost of the Upper Salt Creek Interceptor Sewer No. 1 and $453,900 to the cost of Upper Salt Creek Interceptor Sewer No. 2.

Interceptor sewer Nos. 1 and 2 run parallel to Rte. 53 from the reclamation plant north to Golf Road.

In other action the MSD board approved final payment of $2,995 to Elk Grove Village for work on the Elk Grove temporary pumping station.

State's Attorney Campaign Going 'Well': Carey

Bernard Carey, Republican candidate for Cook County state's attorney, said yesterday his campaign is "going very well."

Carey appeared at the groundbreaking ceremonies for the Woodfield Hockey Center in Schaumburg Industrial Park.

"The polls show us (his opponent is Democratic incumbent Edward Hanrahan) neck and neck," Carey said. "In 1970, the polls were very accurate."

"We're a minority party in the county," he continued. "Hanrahan is kind of the Paul Bunyan of Cook County."

Carey joked that he was not yet "big time" so he was not in Miami Beach this week for the Republican convention.

Routes To Be Coordinated

Little Progress On Bikeway

Sparse attendance by park district representatives held up progress on area bicycle trail hookups yesterday. Five of the ten park districts in the informal coalition showed up to exchange maps of their proposed routes.

A move to coordinate local bike trails began this spring. While each park district is responsible for planning its own route, the meetings are attempting to get the community trails to meet at municipal boundaries.

Railroad tracks and multi-lane highways are barriers between communities, such as Buffalo Grove and Wheeling. Other districts in the original group are Palatine, Arlington Heights, Salt Creek, Elk Grove, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows and Prospect Heights.

Many park district trails are still on the drawing boards. Others, like Elk Grove Village, are in use.. The Palatine Park District has all plans set pending passage of an October referendum to fund the trail.

The goal of the group is one continuous bicycle trail throughout the Northwest suburbs. Some of the more grandiose plans call for blacktopped routes through Commonwealth Edison or forest preserve rights-of-way. Other districts are relying upon existing streets and parks for their trails.

Edison rights-of-way may be the answer to routes in Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and other communities whose plans are not yet firm. A recent lease arrangement between the utility company and Palatine could set a precedent for other park districts, Atty. Roger Bjorvik told representatives at the last meeting.

Much of the land for Palatine's proposed trail is a 185-foot swath through the right-of-way. The actual trail is the middle 85 feet, with 50 feet on either side licensed to residents along the path. Upkeep, formerly the responsibility of Edison, goes to the park district and the residents.

Bjorvik has been active in organizing the districts and is considering other possible lease arrangements with the utility company for bicycle trails.

With half the districts at yesterday's meeting, the representatives could only rehash their current plans. Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Arlington Heights and Salt Creek trails are still in their infancy, but park district workers are coordinating possible joining points with each other.

When park representatives couldn't move ahead on trail plans, they turned to general problems of bicycle safety.

"I know police have enough to do, but until people start getting stopped for offenses, the problem won't improve. You don't go driving down State Street at 90 miles an hour because you know a police car is sitting there waiting. The same goes for bicyclists," Salt Creek representative Jim DeVos said.

Another meeting was set for Sept. 28 at 1:30 p.m. in the Olympic Park administrative offices, Arlington Heights.

Alcoholic Anonymous Sets 2 Meets A Week

Two open meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous will be held each week at Alexian Brothers Medical Center, 800 Biesterfield Rd., Elk Grove Village.

Meetings will be held from 8:30 to 10 p.m. Saturday in Stritch Hall and 6:30 to 8 p.m. Monday in the dining room.

At open meetings all interested persons are allowed to attend. The programs are planned to inform the audience of the background and working of AA. These meetings differ from closed meetings to which a person must be invited and in which he must be willing to participate. There is no audience participation at open meetings.

Mixed Criticism, Praise For Area Hospital Plan

Members of the Northwest Cook County Health Care Needs Study Committee offered some criticism and some praise to officials of Schaumburg and Rush -Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center yesterday concerning last month's announcement of plans to build a major hospital in Schaumburg.

The group, which has commissioned a comprehensive study of the health care needs of the Schaumburg Township area, was meeting for the first time since plans for a $12 million hospital were announced.

The committee said that Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's is a highly respected institution and that they saw the possibility of locating it in the area as an asset to the community.

They were quick to point out, however, that the announcement of the plans to build came in the midst of a study that was to have determined the exact health care needs of the area for the next 15 years.

BOTH SCHAUMBURG Village Atty. Jack Siegel, who represented Mayor Robert O. Atcher, and Roselle Mayor Robert Frantz said that the announcement by Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's in no way diminishes the importance of the study.

Siegel said Schaumburg believes the study should continue "We feel this study will show the need for a number of hospitals in the community," Siegel added.

Frantz agreed with Siegel and said that it was good the announcement came at the time it did, because these plans could be incorporated in the study. He said if the study indicated some unusual need the hospital could modify its plans.

Roy E. White, assistant administrator for Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's, attended the meeting, but in many cases was unable to answer questions regarding how the medical cener chose Schaumburg for the location of the new hospital.

WILLIAM SILVERMAN, director of the Chicago Hospital Council, was highly critical of Schaumburg action calling the negotiation with Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's an "inordinately high-handed decision."

Dr. Sheldon Waldstein, executive director of the North Suburban Association for Health Resources, the agency that is coordinating the local study, said the announcement went against the agreement that all parties had made to delay any plans until after the study is completed.

Salon To Offer Discounts For Elder 'Playgirls'

Discounts will be granted to all senior "playgirls" at a new beauty salon opening in Schaumburg this October. Mrs. Shirley Gariffa made the offer yesterday in response to a Herald article.

Mrs. Gariffa said she has not worked out the details of discounts for the elderly at her new shop, "Playgirl" in Churchill Square Shopping Center, between Golf and Higgins Roads.

"It's something we do tend to forget," Mrs. Gariffa said, "and though there aren't many elderly persons in the area, it is important to take care of them. I want elderly women to come to my shop, even though it's going to have a 'swinging' decor and atmosphere."

The owner and manager of the new shop plans also to offer free exercise equipment for customers who might have to wait a few minutes for their appointments. Six beauticians will be on the job when "Playgirl" opens.

"It's important to an elderly woman to feel and look good," Mrs. Gariffa said. Pink and red colors and French furniture will be featured in the salon.

Plan Unit Ponders Renaming Some Streets

A renaming of selected streets in Hoffman Estates is being considered by the village's plan commission.

Streets with duplicate names elsewhere in the community, and streets where names change across major roads, will be reviewed for clarification.

The commission asked Tech-Search, a company in Lake Bluff, to review street names in the village and recommend changes where confusion exists.

Richard Regan, plan commission chairman, asked the commission to look over Tech-Search's recommendations and make corrections if needed. Since its inception, Regan said the plan commission has put all new streets in the village on the grid system, to tie in with the street system in Schaumburg.

The intersection of Roselle and Schaumburg roads is numbered zero, with all street prefixes termed "north" and "south" in relation to this intersection.

Because of street duplications and confusing names, firemen, policemen, and visitors have difficulty locating streets in the village. Regan said all residents will be given one year notice before streets are renamed.

Duplication of Hoffman Estate street names are now occurring in the Lancer Park subdivision in Schaumburg. Regan said "in the distant future the two villages will merge" and such duplication will be confusing. He said a letter will be written asking Schaumburg officials to check to make sure new names do not duplicate Hoffman Estate street names.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the commission recommended approval of a plat survey for a one-story office building with basement to be built on west Higgins Road, behind the Medco Medical Building.

The office building will be used for Avco Financial Services and will be one of three commercial buildings to eventually be built on a two acre site.

The major question before the commission was the number of parking spaces required. The amount of parking needed for the B-2 (business) class is not written into the zoning ordinance.

The commission recommended three spaces are needed for each 500 square feet of office space. The office building will contain about 4,000 square feet of office space. At the suggested ratio, this would require 24 spaces.

However, because of the limited number of people expected to use the building, the commission recommended approval for the plat with only 21 spaces. The developer, Earl Larson, said construction on the building will begin in about a month or six weeks.

The commission deferred action on engineering plans for Barrington Square units four and five because Kaufman and Broad, the developers, had not provided proof they will conform to the recommendations of John Hosack, village engineer.

ACTION WAS also deferred on the Moon Lake Village land improvements for new developments. The fire district is still waiting for a site change and the school district wants soil borings to make sure the school site is buildable.

Regan announced Donnie Rudd, who recently resigned from the School Dist. 54 Board of Education, will continue as a plan commission member representing the school district. In addition, Rudd will become liaison for the commission with all school districts serving Hoffman Estates.

A letter to the Illinois Tollroad Commission, requesting talks on an access to the Northwest tollway at Roselle Road, has yet to be answered, Regan said. The Plan Commission has been working on the matter for over a year and will continue to push for the Roselle Road ramps, he added.

Recycling, Bicycling Topic Of Health, Safety Panel Here

Two types of cycling came under consideration at Schaumburg's health and safety committee meeting Wednesday. Agenda items included both recycling and bicycling.

Committee members agreed to ask the health department to investigate possibilities of obtaining a second glass bin for installation at the municipal recycling center located behind the Weathersfield Fire station on Schaumburg Road.

The present three compartment bin quickly fills up with clear glass while portions for colored glass remain empty for longer periods, said Trustee Peter Justen, committee chairman.

Under the present arrangement, Justen believes the center is operating at about 55 per cent of its potential.

Justen believes the recycling program would become more efficient and profitable with a separate bin for clear glass. He also favors rearranging separators in the original bin to allow for a larger clear glass collection.

The bin is being provided by Arc Disposal and separators were installed by village public works personnel.

In the area of bicycling, Justen said he favors investigating the feasibility of establishing bike trails in the village.

In a recent discussion with Hoffman Estates Trustee Diane Jensen, Justen said he learned that the neighboring village is in the process of setting up trails. The project is being coordinated by the Hoffman Estates Police Department.

On committee recommendation, Justen will assign examination of the proposed project to a member of the village Clean Environment Committee.

Soil, Water Problems At Sites Eyed For Annexing

Major soil and water problems exist in park and school site locations in the 236-acre parcel west of Winston Knolls that Centex Homes wants to annex to Hoffman Estates, Richard Regan, plan commission chairman, said Wednesday.

Quoting from a report on the area by the North Cook County Soil and Water District, Regan said the cost of correcting these problems may be prohibitive. Palatine Township School District 15 is aware of the soil conditions, Regan said, and has asked for soil borings to make sure the school site is buildable.

According to the report other problems on the site can be corrected with soil erosion and water control. Regan said he will go over the report to make sure no streets or homes have been plotted in the areas with major soil and water problems.

"The day has passed when developers can just come in with their own experts. Fortunately, we have agencies like the Soil and Water District to verify site conditions for us," Regan said.

THE HEARING on the preannexation was continued to Sept. 13 because Centex Homes still did not have the studies requested by the commission.

A resident from South Barrington read a letter from the Windemere Association Inc., a subdivision in that village, expressing concern over the shallow well Centex had proposed for the site. The association said their water supply could be imperiled and requested two deep wells on the site.

Regan assured them the plan commission also wants two deep wells. He asked the South Barrington resident to restate his position at the Sept. 13 hearing.

John Black, the village's water consultant, is currently preparing a study of the water table in the area, Regan said. A copy of the report will be made available to the Windemere residents when it is finished.

4 Arrested In MEG Raid

Four persons from Hoffman Estates, Des Plaines and Glenview were arrested by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) when they attempted to serve an arrest warrant at a Hoffman Estates address Wednesday.

The person for whom the warrant was issued, a female juvenile, was not found at the address, but in searching the home for her the agents found the other subjects in possession of hypodermic syringes, said Clarence Emrikson, Niles police chief and spokesman for MEG.

Charged with possession of a hypodermic syringe were a 16-year-old juvenile living at the address; Richard Schildren, 20, of 2515 Victor Ln., Glenview; Mark Pagni, 21, of 170-A Northwest Highway, Des Plaines, and Victoria Pomerick, 18, of 895 W. Wolf, Des Plaines. They are to appear Tuesday in Niles Branch of Cook County Circuit Court.

Pagni also was charged by the Hoffman Estates Police Department with aggravated battery, said Hoffman Estates Police Chief John O'Connell.

When the agents were conducting their search, accompanied by a Hoffman Estates patrolman, Pagni was found attempting to dispose of additional hypodermic syringes in the toilet, said Emrikson. When the patrolman stopped him, Pagni allegedly assaulted the officer.

The battery charge also is to be called in court Tuesday.

The female juvenile for whom the warrant was made out is believed to have fled to Florida, said Emrikson.

Youth Outreach Worker Hired

Jerry Lipsch, 26, of Chicago was hired as Schaumburg Township Youth Outreach worker Wednesday. The appointment was made by the Schaumburg Township Board of Auditors on the recommendation of the Committee on Youth.

Lipsch, studying for a Master's degree in Social Psychology at the University of Chicago, plans to move to the area in the near future.

He will work with Larry Walker, director of youth services for the township. Both men may be reached by young people or adults who need counseling by calling 894-8132 or 358-TALK (8255). The TALK number is The Bridge in Palatine, a township sponsored telephone counseling service for the troubled. The Schaumburg Township workers donate their time at The Bridge in return for help from the Palatine facility.

Lipsch's experience includes two years of work in Baltimore as a tutor in a community organized project to help ghetto youngsters. He also has two years experience as an outreach worker in the Back of the Yards area in Chicago and work with young people of the Woodlawn area.

He will be paid an annual salary of $8,200.

In related action, the board of auditors accepted resignations from Committee on Youth members Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jennings and Chuck Hanlon.

Supervisor Vernon Laubenstein appointed Mrs. Barbara Arnold and Mrs. Jenny Burson to the COY.

Schaumburg Police Praised

Schaumburg police received two complimentary letters citing them for excellent work in several recent arrests.

Representatives of the Lancer Corp. and Servicemaster Security and Investigation Co. both lauded police for their investigation.

Lancer official Neal Hunter praised policemen Michael Egan, Howard Winkelhake and Fred Schmidt for their efforts in arresting several persons earlier this month who were suspected of burglarizing several model homes. He also credited Detective Sgt. James Dillion and Detective Harvey Woods for their investigation of the incident.

Hunter cited all of the officers involved as being a credit to the department and the community.

In a second instance, D. F. Dias, vice president of Servicemaster, the company which provides the security guards at Woodfield Mall, also praised the detective bureau.

Dias credited Detectives William King, Cliff Johnson, Kenneth Alley and Woods with being instrumental in stopping a series of thefts involving Servicemaster guards at the shopping center.

He also cited Detectives John Barabas and Charles Barr for long hours of preliminary investigation that led to the arrest late last month.

"The fine police work demonstrated by the Schaumburg force is most praiseworthy," Dias said.

Township Auditors Reject Plea For $500 Legal Fund

Schaumburg Township Auditors Wednesday turned down a request for a $500 donation sought by officials in Maine, Niles and Northfield townships to establish a legal fund.

Kay Wojcik, Schaumburg Township clerk, spoke out against the donation but said she sympathized with the group's aim to fight a referendum for abolition of township offices.

"But why should we have to donate this township's tax money to fight those townships' battles?" she asked.

If Schaumburg Township residents had requested such a referendum it would be a different issue, "but that's not about to happen," she said.

SUPERVISOR Vernon Laubenstein and Mrs. Wojcik pledged total involvement in the three townships' cause and said they would offer the group their time and services for a door-to-door canvass — but no money.

In other business, the auditors approved a statement of objectives and goals for the mental health board as submitted by Mrs. Connie Schoeld, chairman.

Mrs. Schoeld said her committee plans to meet with the Elk Grove Community Service group, which recently received a state grant and will serve the Schaumburg Township area. The area also is serviced by the Northwest Mental Health Clinic.

She urged the board to meet with both groups to ascertain that proper services will continue in the community.

R. LeBeau Chairman Airport Study Panel

Raymond LeBeau was appointed chairman of the Schaumburg Airport Study Committee Tuesday by Mayor Robert O. Atcher and the village board. LeBeau has been a member of that committee and is the village's public relations representative.

LeBeau will replace Denis Ledgerwood, who earlier had been elected chairman of the committee. Ledgerwood has since been appointed to the village board. Ledgerwood will continue to serve on the committee in a liaison capacity for the village board.

Appointed as a member of the airport committee was Tim Smith, a member of Schaumburg Jaycees who is active in the Septemberfest committee. He will fill the membership vacancy created by LeBeau's elevation to the chairmanship.

Atcher also announced that Ledgerwood will fill the same committee posts for the village board that had been held by Larsen. These include chairmanship of the finance committee and membership on the public works/sewer and water, clean environment, public safety and health committees.

Carnival To Fight Muscular Dystrophy

Two more neighborhood carnivals against dystrophy will be conducted by Wheeling children this weekend.

Starting at 11 a.m. today, Lori Keefer and Patti Just will sponsor a carnival at 1341 Marcy Ln. Their carnival will feature a bean bag toss, dart game, pie toss and Bozo Buckets.

On Saturday, Cindy Kazak of 343 Maureen Dr. will begin her carnival at 10 a.m.. Games will include darts, Bozo buckets and a bean bag game. A comic shop and refreshment stand will also be at the carnival.

The children got the idea for their carnivals from two characters on the "B.J. and Dirty Dragon Show" on WFLD-TV. Money raised by the children will be donated for research to fight muscular dystrophy.

Wives, Children To Return To Texas; Husbands To Stay

Wives and children of a Mexican-American family living on an over crowded farm on Bode Road, Hoffman Estates, will return to Texas Saturday.

Their move follows an agreement yesterday between representatives of the Tower Construction Co. and the family, said John O'Connell, Hoffman Estates police chief.

The company, charged with criminal management of property after discovery of 72 building code violations, will give the men of the family about $400 to find other housing, O'Connell said.

The men plan to stay in the area in construction work until October 1. Five related families have been living in the farmhouse and several other buildings for about $200 rent per month.

The families have lived in the area since last November, and the children attended school here.

Owners of the building have assured the village that they will tear down the house and surrounding buildings early next week, O'Connell said.

The Northwest Opportunity Center is assisting the men in locating adequate housing.

St. Viator Excites Me: President

Brother Leo V. Ryan, a nationally know educator and management specialist, has been named President of St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights, a post which he assumes today as the school embarks on its most innovative and experimental school year.

Brother Ryan, who numbers among his degrees a doctorate in management and educational administration, is one of the architects of St. Viator's new fall programs and comes to the school with what a spokesman for the St. Viator Board of Trustees termed "special academic and management credentials, an international experience and a nationally recognized competence . . .

Acting under the more prestigious title of president of the institution, Brother Ryan will be the chief administrator for the Catholic high school and be the steward of the education offered by the school to its enrollment of 1,100 boys.

FOR BROTHER Leo Ryan, the job is one he describes in terms of challenges rather than dilemmas, avenues of exploration rather than reasons for timidity.

On the eve of the formal announcement of his appointment to the office of president, Brother Ryan said he anticipated only good fortune for the school's new programs.

Beginning with the new school year this fall, students at St. Viator will be allowed to choose between four programs offered by the high school. Participation in one of the four — science, social science, humanities and a traditional curriculum — is aimed at bringing students and teachers into a greater participation with the learning process. The structure is considered highly innovative and geared to the idea of the student as a partner in — rather than just a recipient of — the task of education.

Brother Ryan explains this new role for the school with the language and the gestures of a man for whom the intellectural pursuits of education absorb and force his hands to inscribe parabolas and stages of logic in the air.

Brother Ryan, in addition to his academic background, comes to the presidency of St. Viator from stints of government and church service which took him far abroad. He was the first Catholic churchman to be a member of the Peace Corps, serving from 1966 to 1968, much of it in Nigeria.

FROM 1968 to 1969, Brother Ryan served in Rome as consultant to several Vatican agencies concerned with education and development.

He is a member of many distinguished national committees of education and religion.

And now, he is at St. Viator, a place he says excites and challenges him and which he describes, characteristically, as "an opportunity to serve."

" For me," he says, "there is nothing more personal than education. Nothing more challenging than the student and the teacher together, finding something together for the benefit of the student. Always for the benefit of the student."

BROTHER LEO V. RYAN

Wheel Tax Decision Is Expected Next Monday

A decision is expected Monday on the suit challenging the constitutionality of Cook County's tax on vehicles in unincorporated areas.

The class-action suit was filed four months ago in behalf of unincorporated area residents throughout Cook County.

The suit contends the annual tax on vehicles is unconstitutional because revenues benefit all Cook County citizens even though the tax is collected only from those living in unincorporated parts of the county.

Plaintiffs in the suit are the Prospect Heights Improvement Association (PHIA), a large homeowners group; and the Cook County School Bus Co. of unincorporated Elk Grove Township.

The county board enacted the yearly tax rate last December. Taxes on new car sales and on mobile homes in the county were approved at the same time.

SHORTLY THEREAFTER homeowners groups in various parts of Cook County organized a drive to have the tax thrown out. Several protest rallies, including one at Hersey High School in Arlington Heights, were held to raise funds for the legal fight and to collect signatures on petitions opposing the tax.

After the filing of the suit the revenues from the controversial wheel tax were placed in a special account pending the outcome of the legal battle.

In July Cook County Board President George Dunne announced that revenue from the tax would be earmarked for the Cook County Sheriff's Police, which is concerned primarily with law enforcement in unincorporated areas.

Arguments on the suit were heard by Judge Edward Sarnow July 21 in circuit court. He announced then that a ruling would be ready.

An attorney for the plaintiffs has said that he expects the losing side in the suit to appeal the matter to the Illinois Supreme Court.

A Student For Youth Panel?

The Hoffman Estates Youth Commission Tuesday discussed the possibility of filling its vacant seat with a high school student chosen by a youth advisory board.

Mike Mulcahy, commission member, said he will try to find a workable way for high school students to choose a representative for the seat.

He suggested the possibility of using the high school newspapers to promote the formation of a youth advisory board.

If such a board were formed with representatives from the Catholic and public high schools which include Hoffman Estates students, the board could elect one of their members to sit on the commission, Mulcahy said.

When the possibility of a youth member was discussed at an earlier meeting, commission members questioned if someone under 18 could have a vote. Frank Alexa, commission chairman, said Tuesday that there are no regulations prohibiting a young person from voting.

"There's no age requirement," Alexa said. "All of our recommendations need final approval from the village board anyway."

In other business, the youth commission voted to change its monthly meeting from the fourth Tuesday of every month to the third Wednesday.

Alexa also said he attended a meeting in June with officials from the health department and the schools where the expansion of the health education program in the high schools was discussed. He said Carl Zebb, principal of Conant High School, is interested in instituting a venereal disease education program.

The youth commission, Alexa said, was asked by Zebb to help in setting up the program.

Hockey Center Ground Broken

Ground was broken yesterday for the Woodfield Hockey Center, Schaumburg Industrial Park, northwest of Golf and Meacham roads.

Center president Wesley Bartlett of Hoffman Estates said the facility, scheduled to open Nov. 15, will serve the northwest suburban area. Seating for 375 persons, a pro-shop and concession facility are included in plans.

Most of the ice time will be used by leagues and teams in the area, he said, adding he feels a civic obligation to provide open skating hours for the community.

Hockey's booming popularity, Bartlett said, will necessitate keeping the National Hockey League regulation rink open "as many hours a day as the demand requires — maybe all night."

Instruction and rental equipment will be available if the demand develops, Bartlett said.

CONSTRUCTION BY Bohlin Building Corp. of Mt. Prospect at the three-acre site will begin immediately, according to George Becker, agent for the owners.

Woodfield Hockey Center, Ltd. is a group of hockey enthusiasts including Rod Brake and John Parker from Schaumburg, Bob Swansston and John DiNardi from Hoffman Estates and Gord James, Elk Grove Village.

The sale of the land for the rink was negotiated by Richard LaReno, vice president of Arthur Rubloff and Co., developers of the Schaumburg Industrial Park.

The building was designed by McCarthy-Hundreiser and Associates, Arlington Heights.

The Great Garter-Length, Garter-less Stay-Up Sock That's Going Nowhere.

Mid-Lengths t.m. by Burlington.

It's a fact. Mid-Lengths won't dip. Or droop. Or slip. They stay a hip half-calf high without garters. Even after lots of fancy footwork.

Burlington used Lycra spandex in a special construction to put stay-up power throughout the entire sock. This makes Mid-Lengths conform to the shape of the calf, caress the entire leg. Gives them a snug-feeling hug that won't give in under action, won't give out even after the longest wear.

It's something new for every type of sock wearer. Mid-Lengths comes in many handsome styles, in a masculine array of colors. $1.50 and $2 the pair.

Carey To Speak At GOP Meeting Monday Night

The Republican candidate for state's attorney of Cook County, Bernard Carey, will speak Monday night at the meeting of the Regular Republican Organization of Elk Grove Township in Mount Prospect.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be at the Mount Prospect Community Center, 600 S. See-Gwun, Mount Prospect.

Carl Hansen, GOP township committeeman, said the public is invited to the meeting — one of Carey's first appearances in the Northwest suburbs during this campaign. Hansen urged all township residents to listen and meet with Carey, who Hansen called, 'The leader of our top-flight team of county candidates."

Hansen said Carey will answer questions after his talk.

Carey, who is running against incumbent State's Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan, is special assistant to Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott. Carey currently is in charge of Scott's investigation and prosecution of the state's claims against the estate of the late Paul Powell.

Bernard Carey

A resident of South Holland, Ill., Carey ran unsuccessfully in 1970 as the Republican candidate opposing Richard Elrod for sheriff.

Districts Bargain For Small Classes

by WANDALYN RICE

High School Dist. 211 teachers are not alone in their demand that the board of education place language on "working conditions" in their new contract.

According to a release issued this week by the Illinois Education Association, 8 of the 26 "critical" districts in the state also are bargaining on at least some of the conditions proposed by 211 teachers.

Dist. 211 teachers and the board have been negotiating for five months on the contract but have yet to reach a single major agreement. The main issue so far between the two sides is whether guarantees on class size, evaluation, teacher assignment and transfer and other "working conditions" will be included in the contract.

Other districts negotiating at least some of the same things, according to the IEA, are the Downstate districts of Champaign, Urbana, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Rockford and Freeport.

In the Chicago area neighboring Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 and Blue Island Elementary Dist. 130 also are negotiating on "working conditions," according to the IEA.

THE MOST COMMON demand in the area of working conditions among the eight districts is for guarantees on maximum class size. Several districts, however, are also asking for guarantees of teacher participation in curriculum meetings, as Dist. 211 teachers are.

In the local area, two elementary school districts already have contracts that include provisions similiar to some of those asked for in Dist. 211.

Although in neither case is the language identical to that proposed for Dist. 211, both Arlington Heights Dist. 25 and Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 have contracts spelling out teacher evaluation procedure and promising to publicize vacancies and opportunities for promotion so teachers may apply.

In addition, Dist. 25 has a provision that affirms that the board has the right to make teacher assignments, but says it will not make "unreasonable demands" on teachers or require any extra non-teaching duty, such as study hall supervisor or hall monitor.

In Dist. 59, teachers have the right to file grievances for "intolerable" teaching loads assigned to teachers. The contract defines as "intolerable" any load "in severe opposition to current education research."

DAVID TOMCHEK, area representative for the IEA, said this week that Dist. 25 and 59 have the most comprehensive contracts in the immediate area. However, he said Barrington High School Dist. 224 has an even more comprehensive contract from the IEA standpoint.

In Barrington, Tomchek said, grievances that are not settled by the board and teachers are submitted to binding arbitration by a third party and all board policy on curriculum must be submitted to a council of teachers before being acted on by the board.

The Dist. 211 board has said it does not want to put "working condition" guarantees in the contract because it will open the items to formal grievance procedures. Board spokesman Robert Seger has accused the teachers "of being more eager to file grievances than to solve problems."

However, spokesmen for both Dist. 25 and 59 report no more than three or four grievances reaching the superintendent since their contracts have been in effect. Dist. 25 has had its agreement since 1970 and Dist. 59 has had the agreement for one year.

DIST. 59 Supt. James Erviti said of the three formal grievances he has seen this year, "none concerned working conditions. The disputes generally were over whether someone was going to be paid for a certain day or for summer school work."

Erviti said he likes having the evaluation procedure spelled out in the contract because "it makes us get the job done." He added that this year the board did ask for some minor changes in timing of evaluations to make the process easier administratively but added, "that hasn't been a big problem."

High School Dist. 214, whose teachers' group last year withdrew from the IEA, does not have many working conditions spelled out in its contract.

The contract does, however, allow teachers to file formal grievances over violations of board policy, which is generally assumed to include such things as evaluation procedures and filling of vacancies.

A spokesman for Dist. 214 said the district had only one grievance reach the superintendent last year.

What Teachers Are Asking . . .

Last spring, the Dist. 211 Education Association presented proposals for language on "working conditions" to the district's board of education.

Following are the items now included in the teachers' proposal:

—Professional assignments: No teacher would teach more than five classes a day and no department chairman would teach more than three classes. No one would be required to accept non-teaching assignments such as hall monitor or study hall supervisor. No teacher would teach more than two subjects during the same term.

—Evaluation: Evaluation criteria for teachers would be spelled out by a joint administration-association committee. Procedures for teacher evaluation would be detailed in the contract.

—Curriculum and instruction: All recommendations from individual schools for change presented to the district-wide curriculum committee would be approved by majority vote of teachers in the affected department beforehand. Curriculum committees would be required to meet publicly with advance notice of meeting. Principals of schools would be authorized to approve changes in teaching methods suggested by teachers if it would not change curriculum. Teachers would be given time off for curriculum planning at the request of the curriculum committee and would be paid for two full days of preparation before the start of school.

—Staffing: At no time would the number of students in a class exceed the available facilities. Remedial classes would be limited to 15 students; slow or low-average classes to 20 students; average, accelerated and honors classes to 25 students; physical education classes to 35 students. No English teacher would teach more than 100 students per day; no P.E. teacher more than 175 students per day; and no other teacher more than 125 students per day. No counselor would have more than 250 students assigned to him.

—Vacancies, transfer and promotions: Notice of all vacancies in buildings would be publicized. Transfers from one building to another would be honored on the basis of seniority if all qualifications are equal. Promotions would be made on the basis of experience, competency and qualifications. The board would continue its policy of promoting qualified persons from within the district.

—Grievance: teachers would be able to file grievances on any alleged misapplication of the contract. If the board and association could not solve the problem, the grievance would be submitted to binding arbitration.

—Termination: In order to terminate either a tenure or non-tenure teacher, the district officials would be required to follow certain spelled out procedures.

Television In Review

GOP Winners On The Tube

by LOUIS CASSELS

If the 1972 presidential election is decided on the basis of which party makes more effective use of television — not an altogether implausible hypothesis — there's little doubt who'll win.

At their national convention which ended in Miami Beach Wednesday night, the Republicans proved vastly more competent as TV producers than were the Democrats who met in the same hall five weeks earlier.

The stone-broke Democrats, who can't afford to buy much TV time, threw away the opportunity to present their little-known presidential nominee to the nation over all three networks for free.

Instead, they wrangled away precious McGovern to make his big speech at 2 a.m. CDT. That's about as stupid a piece of programming as you can imagine.

BY CONTRAST, the Republicans got their interparty hassle over rules reform and the necessary tricky-track of convention business out of the way in afternoon sessions on soap opera time.

They carefully reserved their evening sessions for hard-hitting political speeches, culminating in President Nixon's acceptance speech Wednesday night, which went on the air at 9:25 p.m. CDT, about as prime as time can get.

Moreover, the Republicans got a big boost — and I can't down the suspicion they were counting on it — from the crowd of protesters milled around Collins Avenue and Convention Hall on the final night. The protesters may have thought they were embarrassing the Republicans, but what they actually accomplished was to give the GOP convention the one element of showmanship it had conspicuously lacked — a little drama.

I don't seriously suspect the protesters were hired and brought to Miami Beach by the Republican National Committee. But they could hardly have served the GOP cause more effectively if they had been.

IT SEEMED to me that NBC and CBS were very mindful — perhaps too mindful — of the criticism they got as to the 1968 Democratic convention in Chicago. Then, they were accussed of focusing on riots outside the hall instead of convention activities in the hall.

Wednesday night, both networks bent over backwards to avoid anything remotely smacking of sensationalism in their coverage of the protest disorders. And as soon as the convention session got under way, they hastily moved indoors and kept their cameras focused almost exclusively on the rostrum.

ABC, by sticking to its policy of waiting until 8:30 p.m. CDT to begin coverage, missed the boat on that only exciting live action of the GOP convention. By the time Howard and Harry got on the air, all they had to show were film clips of what the other two networks had shown live two hours before. It seemed to this old reporter like poetic justice.

Lawford: I'm No Politician

by VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Peter Lawford noted the other day that only he and ex-brother-in-law Steve Smith among all the male Kennedys and in-laws have failed to run for public office.

Actor Lawford also said Sen. George McGovern had not approached him with an offer of the vice presidential candidacy.

Instead the Democratic candidate sought out Pete's former brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, who is now a member of the ticket. Lawford was not miffed at being passed over.

"I don't think I will ever run for public office," he said, laughing.

"But I've often thought Steve Smith should. He is a very solid fellow. Steve would make a fine senator."

But in any event members of the family, even those peripherally connected with the name Kennedy, retain a magical attraction for the public — especially voters.

LAWFORD EXPLAINS it this way:

"John F. Kennedy was so much what everyone was looking for that anyone associated with him carries some of that mystique."

During Sen. John F. Kennedy's campaign in 1960 Lawford was a key figure in organizing rallies and fund raising events at which Hollywood stars performed on behalf of the man who was to become President.

Then again in 1968 Lawford was a busy worker for Bobby Kennedy.

During this year's early primary campaigning Lawford retired from the field.

"I was turned off politics after seeing JFK and Bobby shot down," said the divorced husband of Patricia Kennedy. "The loss of my brothers-in-law was just too much."

"THIS YEAR I decided to do nothing for the McGovern campaign. Then Sarge got on the ticket and called me, asking if I'd pitch in and help. I explained that Warren Beatty had been doing a great job getting Hollywood people to support the ticket and I didn't want to appear to be jumping on the bandwagon — if that's what you could call it."

Somewhere inside actor Lawford the old Kennedy associations sprang to life. The clan was calling.

"I told Sarge I'd be happy to work for the Democratic ticket," he said. "If Beatty thinks I might be useful then I'll be delighted to do whatever I can."

At the moment Peter is busy co-starring in "They Only Kill Their Masters" at MGM.

Harassed Delegates Glad It's Over

by BOB LAHEY

There was a collective sigh of relief among Illinois delegates when their chartered 707 lifted off the ground yesterday to return the delegation from the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach.

It was a wearing trip for the Illinois delegates and marked from start to finish by poor service from the airline, personnel at the fancy Playboy Plaza Hotel, cab and bus drivers and occasional harassment from demonstrators.

The level of service was established on the flight to Miami Beach when ovens on the American Airlines charter flight broke down — resulting in no lunch for half the passengers — and it deteriorated from there.

There was a jovial mood in the delegation on the trip to Miami and early in the week there was a detectable tolerance toward antiwar demonstrators who kept trying to disrupt convention proceedings, with little success.

That tolerance faded as the week went on, and went up in the smoke of tear-gas bombs on the final night of the convention when police finally were forced to take concerted efforts against demonstrators who assaulted delegates and sabotaged buses.

MOST OF THE ILLINOIS delegates escaped any direct threat from the demonstrators, although one bus was smeared with paint on its way to the convention hall and many of the delegates were forced to debark and walk a mile or more back to their hotel after the convention, when protesters blocked traffic.

But reports of confrontations between delegates and protestors were rampant in the delegation, and they were reported in resentful tones.

One man from Springfield related how a young woman delegate from Danville was surrounded and harassed outside the hall by members of her age group.

"She was in tears when she finally got into the hall," he reported, "and all she could say was, 'I don't kill babies! Why do they call me a baby-killer?' "

IF THE DEMONSTRATORS had had any prospect of winning support for their views of the Nixon administration and the war in Vietnam, they effectively erased it with their attacks on the delegates.

Inside the hall, Nixon-Agnew sentiment grew steadily during the carefully orchestrated convention, climaxing with the triumphal appearance of the President and his running mate at the convention's late session.

Nixon's unprecedented gesture of remaining to shake hands with delegates after the convention adjourned was a master stroke of making people feel themselves a part of the action.

It was what those who got to meet him talked about as they packed their bags and headed back home.

It made them come away from the hall feeling proud to be members of President Nixon's party, and they came away convinced that they are going to be winners in November.

The losers, they felt sure, were those people out in the street who had come to Florida to louse up their victory.

Peggy Selz Calls Self: Woman Behind The Woman

by CINDY TEW

MIAMI BEACH — "Call me back later, I'm in the middle of a crisis," said Peggy Selz, administrative assistant to Hope McCormick, Illinois, national Republican committeewoman.

Though there have been few serious crises this week for the Illinois delegation to the convention, there was enough to keep Peggy from relaxing at the Playboy Plaza pool until Wednesday.

Peggy, who calls herself the woman behind the woman, has been working for Mrs. McCormick since 1968. She implements policies and projects advocated by the high-ranking Republican woman.

"Mrs McCormick has been in charge of housing and transportation for the Chicago-area delegates, alternates and press to the convention," said Peggy, a striking short-haired brunette. "We've been working on arrangements since April".

Though Peggy said most of her work was done in the Chicago office, she spent a few days at the Playboy Plaza in July checking out the accommodations and facilities first hand.

"I HAD TO KNOW exactly what was here and what catering facilities were available so that people interested in giving cocktail parties knew what to expect," she said. Peggy also helped arrange a shuttle bus service for delegates, alternates and the press from the hotel to the convention center.

One of the main jobs in preparing for the convention, and perhaps the most tedious was the paper work involved.

"I sent out reservation forms, then collected and sent in the hotel deposit," said Peggy.

Once the delegation arrived ,the charter buses were coordinated and other minor details checked, Peggy took a few hours off Wednesday afternoon. At poolside she admitted, "It's been a lot of work — a lot of fun, too."

Peggy loves her behind the scenes job, and is content to stay out of the political limelight — she sees no political office in her future.

"I'm the woman behind the woman," she said.

Coroner Action Disappointing

The decision of the Cook County Board of Commissioners to give the voters the opportunity to choose between a coroner or a medical examiner is of dubious merit.

While we support, wholeheartedly, placing the issue before the voters, we were disappointed by both the drastic alteration of the proposed referendum and the highly political manner in which the issue was discussed.

If adopted by the voters in November the referendum will eliminate the elective coroner's office and replace it with an appointive medical examiner's office.

As proposed by Com. Floyd Fulle of Des Plaines, the chief examiner would have been a licensed forensic pathologist and would have been chosen and directed by a commission comprising the chiefs of the pathology departments of the major medical schools in the county.

While it may have been necessary to require the chief be a pathologist rather than a forensic pathologist (a somewhat rare commodity), the move by the Democrats to require merely a licensed physician was inappropriate.

Unfortunately the Democrats who control the county board also exercised their "clout" to maintain complete political control over the office, negating one of the basic concerns of the entire controversy.

While we have supported the abolishment of the coroner's office because of its inefficiency and its lack of contribution to the cause of justice, we have expressed also our desire to remove the office from political control.

Rather than approve Fulle's suggestion regarding the selection and direction of the chief medical examiner, the Democrats on the board, in a flagrantly political move, voted to have the chief examiner appointed by the president of the county board.

That alteration in the proposal effectively places the office under greater political influence than ever before.

Action equally disappointing on the part of the controlling Democrats was their vote to silence a citizen during his attempt to address the board on the subject.

The citizen was Donald Mulack, Republican candidate for the coroner's office, who has been running on a platform of abolishing the office.

The Democrats in control contended Mulack was trying to make a political speech at the meeting and voted to rule him "out of order."

Mulack, however, was speaking to the point and as a resident of this county had every right to be heard by the commissioners.

Only minutes earlier, the commissioners sat patiently as the current coroner, Dr. Andrew Toman, made a highly political speech, defending himself and the conduct of his office for the past 12 years.

It is saddening to note the Democrats on the county board apparently are compelled to react with obvious hostility to protect one of their political colleagues by denying the right of a citizen to participate in the workings of his government.

There can be no significant degree of credibility in county government until this cheap political maneuvering is ended.

Religion's Growing

That "old-time religion" is making a comeback.

Latest statistics published by the National Council of Churches show that total church membership rose slightly last year to 131 million, and the greatest gains were registered by fundamentalist sects. Most of the "liberal" Protestant denominations lost members or barely held their own.

Any number of explanations of this phenomenon are being offered:

The mainline churches have diluted their basic messages and have been sidetracked into ecumenical movements and social action; people are looking for security, and retreating from the social turmoil of the 1960s; it is a reaction of the doctrinal confusion of the theologians and so on.

The churches that are gaining members, observes Dean M. Kelley of the Council, are generally those that have held on to old-time beliefs, shunned contact with other churches or secular causes and proclaim that they alone have the truth. They are strong on discipline, missionary zeal, conformity and even fanaticism.

The churches that are losing members are those that profess tolerance of diversity and openness to dialogue with others.

Efforts to foster interfaith cooperation "may be conductive to brotherhood, peace, justice, freedom and compassion," he writes. "But they are not conducive to conserving or increasing the social strength of the religious groups involved."

It is interesting to note that a concurrent phenomenon is the continuing upsurge of interest in witchcraft and satanism and occultism in all its forms. This, too, is a return to a kind of "old-time religion."

In this age of Einsteinian relativism, of manned landings on the moon, of instant worldwide communication, people are looking for something.

County Line

Shushed By The County Board

by ROGER CAPETTINI
Metropolitan Editor

As Bobby Fischer apparently is the world's greatest chess player, he is also becoming known as one of the world's biggest fanatics on noise pollution.

Seems the noise in the hall in Reykjavik, Iceland, is still bothering Bobby quite a bit, even though it doesn't appear to be hurting his game.

But, he says, he cannot concentrate properly, and has told his aide there is no excuse for the amount of noise in the hall.

Lest anyone think Bobby may be getting a little ridiculous in his demands for quiet, consider the new amendments to the county anti-noise ordinance being considered by the county board.

Initially the amendment categorically prohibits any distinct and loudly audible noise caused by crying, shouting or calling, or from any whistle, rattle, bell, gong, clapper, hammer, drum, horn, hand organ, musical instruments, radio, phonograph or electronic devices.

Now the amendment states a licensed peddler can cry or call or shout to advertise his wares, but only between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. But no one else can.

Guess that's the end of parades.

After that all-encompassing section, the amendment gets into the amount of noise that will be tolerated from various sources, with the maximum level getting lower and lower as the years go by.

For example, a motorcycle manufactured after Jan. 1 will be allowed to emit only 86 decibels. A motorcycle built after Jan. 1, 1980, will be allowed to make only 75 decibels of noise.

The same limitations will apply to trucks and almost the same requirements will be placed on cars if the amendment is adopted.

Another section of the proposed amendment deals with lawnmowers, riding tractors and snow removal equipment. Items fitting that classification, built before Jan. 1, 1975 will be limited to 74 decibels (or "deebees" in the jargon of those in the anti-noise circles).

Lawnmowers, snow removers and the rest built after Jan. 1, 1975 will be limited to 70 decibels and those manufactured after Jan. 1, 1978 better be held down to 65 decibels or else.

All of which probably means nothing to the average person, as it meant nothing to me on first examination. It's all just a pile of numbers unless you have some idea of how much noise is 75 decibels. Is that ear-shattering or is it more like a whisper?

Well, just to give you some idea, a meter in the county board room, measuring the sound level while the amendment was under discussion, was bouncing between 50 and 60 decibels. A little higher at times, depending on which commissioner was speaking.

That's the level of average conversation — of the average sound level in an office — 50 to 60 decibels.

In other words, after 1978 your lawnmower, limited to 65 db's, will not be permitted to make any more noise than a friendly conversation in your living room.

As a matter of fact, a home stereo unit, adjusted to a normal volume, will completely drown out a lawnmower. The average level of a stereo is said to be 80 decibels.

For additional comparison, consider the sound inside an auto — without radio or conversation, that is — averages about 80 decibels — far more than will be tolerated for lawnmowers.

The noise fanatics will jump up and down cheering if the amendment is adopted. "Finally we will have quiet," they will shout, thereby breaking the law.

No doubt, however, their shouts of joy will turn to cries of despair when they see the price tag attached to that new lawnmower. After all, the manufacturers will have to spend a lot of money figuring out how to make their lawnmowers quieter than the inside of a car. And who do you think will eventually pay the price?

Then the anti-noise fanatics, bored to death with their super-quiet world, will scream indignantly about the rising costs of goods and why doesn't the government do something about it?

It's the same old story. The public demands higher-powered, more productive, faster and more efficient lawnmowers. Simultaneously they demand lower prices. And then they rub salt in the wound by complaining about the noise the machines make, and how the product is inferior because it has a plastic handle instead of steel.

Under the public pressure, however, government will continue to legislate against every little thing which may bother someone at any given moment. Next we may see a law requiring daily baths because someone was offended by the body odor of a construction worker in a diner.

Meanwhile, the whole county will get quieter and quieter. And the people will find themselves sleeping a lot more.

Then when a monstrous jet roars over, rattling the windows, instead of complaining, someone will say, "Boy it's nice to hear a little noise once in a while, isn't it?"

Fence Post Letters To The Editor

'Township Services Worth Saving'

If you are not aware of it, there is an organized effort underway by the Palatine League of Women Voters (usually a group devoted to politics above selt-interest) to abolish the township form of government. This group claims that the township government is wasteful, a duplication of county functions, and that administrative costs are excessive.

This group of well-informed (up 'til now) persons would provide as a substitute the wonderful services of Cook County. George W. Dunne, president of the Cook County Board of Commissioners has assured this group of primarily village residents that the county can provide all of the services. They have adequate manpower, trucks, interest in the residents, etc.

What is George Dunne supposed to say? That his County forces cannot provide the same service? Do not be duped! The League of Women Voters says that it costs the Palatine Township organization $2,857 per mile to maintain roads and bridges. The village does the same service (they claim for $1,787. Drive on the Palatine village roads and drive on the township maintained roads. Then decide about maintenance. When Palatine village streets are covered with snow (except the primary thoroughfares) check the township roads. You'll find them plowed. It is no wonder that the township costs are higher — the township provides the service.

Apparently a considerable number of village residents feel that they should not contribute to the township road and bridge assessment. They have a point. So as far as I am concerned, eliminate it from their tax bill. As a township resident in an unincorporated area, I'll gladly pay more. I'll gladly pay more because the township performs. I'll gladly pay more because I know who to call to register a request for service or a complaint.

Call the County Building and see what kind of a run-around you get. If you've resided in Cook County I don't have to elaborate. But, unless you take action at the polls, then the organized action of the League of Women Voters with their campaign may well result in the elimination of the township form of government.

So if you are in the unincorporated areas surrounding Palatine (those served by the faithful employes of the township) then you had better work to get out the vote. It is difficult for us to lobby because we are scattered but unless we do, we will trade efficient service for Cook County service — synonomous with NO SERVICE.

I choose not to live within the village limits because of the oppressive taxes. So I do not blame the village residents from seeking relief. However, there must be a better way to give them relief (which seems to be the main complaint of the League of Women Voters) than to throw us unincorporated residents on the mercies of Cook County.

However, the petition of 2,032 village residents has been registered. Come November 7 — the general election — there will be a question on the ballot. Unless you make a concerted effort to enlist the vote of every non-village resident against the proposal to eliminate the township form of government, then you better buy snow tires, plows, road repair equipment and be prepared to go it alone. Cook County will provide the same kind of efficient service they do for all other endeavors — a bare minimum which then only results from concerted, concentrated pleas of distraught taxpayers.

Reuben W. Strickland

Colfax St. Rerouting 'Senseless'

I resent the Palatine Herald's one-sided and sarcastic front page news article stating that Colfax St. residents would prefer bumping to paying. Residents and business are not against road repairs — but a four-lane highway from Smith St. to Quintens Road — starting nowhere and ending nowhere — and assessment of $11,500 on 239 feet frontage is just a bit too much. This to be paid over a period of 10 years at 7 per cent interest. We are Colfax Street residents for the past 20 years and have learned to love the village and have watched it and our family grow. Palatine has been happiness for us, but we were just as happy with the post office and railroad station in town. They are moving the town out to us and we should pay for it. The old Northwest Highway was rerouted because of the accidents on the bend and a new highway built; now the village fathers want to reroute the traffic back onto the old highway (Colfax). Seems pretty senseless and very expensive.

A Correction

Don't dash out of the house today in search of a $20 miniature household electronic calculator, because they don't exist yet.

The Herald reported on Wednesday, in an editorial entitled "The Calculator Craze," that such machines cost less than $20. However, we meant $200, rather than $20.

Readers Thanked

I would like to thank all of the Herald readers who answered our plea for blood donors for my nephew George Hoglund. His heart surgery was successful and he is now home and doing very well. A normal life can now be anticipated by this little boy. Many thanks to all you thoughtful people.

A special thanks to the people at Lutheran General Hospital blood bank for all their help.

Word-A-Day

Business Today

by JOHN N. GREGORY

CHICAGO (UPI) — Five times a year Jay Thalheim pitches his tent in the heart of a metropolitan area and launches his "medicine show."

The "show" actually is a trade fair. Thalheim produies five of them a year as head of the only publicly owned trade fair production company in the nation, Thalheim produces five of them a year of New York. While his shows seldom include medicine they've been known to cure more than one supplier or buyer of a financial problem.

"My specialty is bringing together ingredienets that will make a deal — a potential buyer and a potential seller," Thalheim said while visiting here to study a trade fair.

A typical Thalheim production begins with extensive research.

"I'VE GOT TO determine whom I'm going to interest, then decide on the type of show that figures to bring out the maximum number of suppliers and buyers," Thalheim said.

Unlike shows put on by trade associations, Thalheim's productions feature a package deal put together by a trade fair specialist. Thalheim is one of about two dozen independent producers of nontrade association shows.

Thalheim relies heavily on a direct mail campaign and personal contact work. He also advertises in trade journals and relies on word-of-mouth communication.

A staff of 11 employes handles the normal operations at Thalheim. The number balloons to 1,000 or more at show time.

Thalheim shows are booked at least one year in advance and his fees are collected well before the show begins. The firm has no inventories and no accounts receivable and most of its assets are in cash and short term investments.

THALHEIM SAID his firm's financial statement shows annual revenues of about $1.5 million and earns about $300,000 after taxes, or 58 cents per share. The Thalheim family retains controlling interest of the firm's 525,000 shares which are otherwise spread among about 600 other persons.

Since going public the company's stock has been split twice on a 5-for-4 basis.

The trade fair concept, as Thalheim sees it, is the most efficient way to bring together buyers and sellers in a particular industry.

The trade fair concept, as Thalheim sees it, is the most efficient way to bring together buyers and sellers in a particular industry.

"They get more done in three-four days than they could in many months of traveling around to see what's going on in the industry," Thalheim said.

"Statistics in our industry indicate that each person attending a four-day trade fair spends about $160. That type of revenue on a year-around basis looks pretty good to a lot of cities," he added.

Loans Available For Vietnam Vets

Vietnam veterans are urged to take advantage of three new areas of Small Business Administration (SBA) financial and management assistance.

Robert A. Dwyer, Midwestern regional director, said the programs are a result of President Nixon's call for a renewed commitment by all federal agencies to veterans of the Vietnam period. An estimated 5.8 million veterans have returned to civilian life.

According to Dwyer, these veterans will now be eligible for business loans, federal government contracts, and management assistance under SBA programs which previously were restricted to socially or economically disadvantaged persons.

"SBA has broadened its directives so that veterans will receive the best possible break as they return to civilian life and enter the business community," Dwyer said. "They now can take advantage of the most liberal financing programs our agency has."

First, honerably discharged Vietnam-era veterans now are eligible for Economic Opportunity Loans (EOL) up to $50,000 for 15 years at a low-interest rate. Criteria for such loans are more liberal than in other SBA lending programs, although the veteran still will be required to satisfy certain credit and character requirements and to furnish reasonable assurance that the loan will be repaid. Such loans are available to veterans who wish to expand an existing business or to establish a new business.

AS WITH ALL SBA loans, the EOL program is predicated on the assumption that the veteran cannot obtain financial assistance through his bank or other normal lending channels at reasonable terms or cannot obtain funds under SBA's regular business loan program.

Federal government contracts comprise the second major SBA program for the veterans. The agency obtains for small businesses a fair share of purchases made by the government for goods and services. Under Section 8a of the Small Business Act, the agency obtains from other agencies prime contracts and subcontracts the work to small firms.

Additional information is available at the SBA offices in Chicago, 219 S. Dearborn St., and Springfield, 502 E. Monroe St.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walston & Co., noting the recent sunspot activity and solar storms, doubts this has had any influence on the stock market, as suggested by another analyst. More to the point is the hassle over prices on 1973 autos which Walston says helped depress the market. But it adds that the upturn of some depressed groups, specifically the oils, has brightened the market outlook.

E. G. HUTTON says one of the keys to the stock market performance has been "the clouded status of the dollar on the world currency scene." Hutton says foreign investors think the U.S. economy is the strongest among Western countries but are withholding investment funds until after November. Hutton feels the American public will have to participate in the upturning market to restore confidence among foreign investors.

Personal Finance

by CARLTON SMITH

How long has it been since you fretted and fumed as you slowly worked your way to the head of the line at the teller's window, only to have a "NEXT WINDOW PLEASE" sign go up in your face?

Or found yourself in a line that didn't move at all because the man at the window had brought in the weekly receipts from Sam's Shoe Store?

Frustrating, isn't it? All right, we're going to do something about it. You are about to become a member of the "Get Your Bank on the Ball" club.

We went to a friend with wide connections in banking circles to ask why this should be and whether banks can't do something about it.

"It does not have to be," he replied. "Indeed, a number of banks are doing something about it." He supplied the following examples:

A CHICAGO bank, the Central National, offers depositors a gadget called the Electronic Instaposit unit. You just put your checks in a drawer and receive a stamped receipt.

There's even more elaborate gadgetry in a branch of Surety National in Los Angeles — instant cash machines, check validators and closed-circuit TV. They promise to get depositors out in three minutes or less.

Fine for depositors — but what about the customer who just wants to cash a check and gnashes his teeth while the teller counts the 8½ pounds of silver brought in from Sam's Shoe Store?

At First National in Memphis, customers queue up in one master line, which feeds off to the teller windows as they open up. Several banks around the country, our informant says, are using this one to keep customers happier.

They should be even happier with the version of the master line used at Equitable Trust in Baltimore. A customer receives a numbered card as he enters. Then he sits in a comfortable lounge area, where he can drink coffee or fan through magazines until his number is flashed on an electronic scoreboard that matches up his number wit the number of an open teller window.

A number of banks — in Atlanta, St. Louis, New York, Milwaukee and Dallas — ease the strain on customers' nerves with an idea borrowed from the supermakets: express lines for customers with a single item of business — one check to cash, one deposite to make.

AS WE ALL know, the lines are longest and slowest during the noon hour. This is precisely when your teller hangs up a sign and ambles off to lunch. The only bank, to our knowledge, that keeps a full crew of tellers on duty during the noon hour and on payday is Ohio Trust in Toledo. And the Yellowstone, in Laurel, Mont., is the only one with a policy of simply keeping all windows manned at all times during banking hours. Good for you, Yellowstone.

Some simple ideas here that shouldn't put too much of a strain on the brain. Why aren't they in wider — in fact, universal — use?

I'm glad you asked that. That's where you come in. You are now a member of the "Get Your Bank on the Ball" club. First, you get the name of your bank's president. Olsten Services Reports An Increase In Business

The Olsten Temporary Services office in Palatine experienced a 12 to 17 per cent increase in business in Palatine, according to Burt Dolan, manager.

"We are experiencing an upsurge of orders in all placement categories, and we believe this to be indicative of better economic times to come for Palatine," Dolan said. Personnel managers are hiring temporary personnel in a wide variety of office situations, including administration, research and development, data processing, marketing and production.

According to William Olsten, chairman of the board of Olsten, this news ties directly into the nationwide picture.

"Computerized evaluations of the current temporary services employment picture in our 115 offices, from coast to coast, indicates a rise in business for nearly every office," he said.

Dolan noted that the temporary business has always served as an indicator for the rest of the country. Just prior to the economic downturn of two years ago, Olsten had already begun to feel the slowdown. Now that our business is on the rise across the United States we believe it to be a solid harbinger of better economic times to come," he said.

The Olsten Corp. was founded in 1950 in New York City by William Olsten and is recognized as the third largest supplier of temporary help in the United States.

Hotel, Motel Unit To Meet

The Illinois Hotel and Motel Association will hold its 71st annual convention today and tomorrow, at the Arlington Park Towers Hotel, Arlington Heights.

Pres. Phil C. Hauter said today's program will include Arch Blackard, chief appraiser of the Illinois Department of Transportation, discussing the advertising control act of 1971, and Steven H. Adelman, Price, Cushman, Keck & Mahin, on the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

Tomorrow, Hauter will conduct the association's annual business meeting, followed by a Washington report, from Albert L. McDermott, association Washington representative, and Credit Creating Consumers, by Richard R. Burgtorf, regional manager-hotel sales, American Express Co.

Back Door Selling Causes Problems

In a recent American Purchasing Society survey, 37 per cent of the purchasing agents said that "back door selling" was a problem in their organization.

Twenty-two per cent were quite emphatic, indicating that the problem may be serious.

"Back door selling" is the process where sales people avoid the normal channels of the buy-sell situation and elect not to call on the purchasing department. Either through their own belief, or in fact, they feel the purchasing department has no real authority to make the buying decision. It is estimated that buying practices as a result of this process cost American business almost a billion dollars each year.

National Building Code Planned

A new national building code will be emerging over the next two years under a combined effort of the three major building code groups in the United States. Up until now, each of the three organizations has issued its own building code.

Mount Prospect Building Director Buell Dutton, a trustee of the newly-formed Council of American Building Officials, said the action earlier this month in forming the new group was taken under the threat of having a federal building code written.

"Such a federal code would be disastrous," Dutton said this week. He said at least one federal agency is already contemplating such a federal code.

"We were also under pressure to do this for a long time by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the National Homeowners Association," he said.

The "we" Dutton referred to are the three coding groups. These are BOCA International (building officials and code administrators), International Conference of Building Officials and Southern Building Code Congress.

THE THREE groups already have combined efforts to write a standard one- and two-family dwelling code about six months ago. This code and others prepared by the three groups are model regulatory codes which are voluntarily adopted by local governments throughout the country.

Dutton said the move toward standardization of the codes (which are in the fields of plumbing, fire prevention, mechanical and building areas) will aid contractors who "don't know what to design to" because each community is different in the codes it has adopted.

The trouble with a federal code rather than a voluntary one, according to Dutton, would be that under a federal code amendments would be almost impossible. Thus the code would not take into account any improvement in construction methods.

"It is an attempt to retain autonomy too," Dutton said.

Committees have been set up to work on the combined plumbing, mechanical and fire prevention codes, Dutton said. These are expected to be completed within a year. He said the combined building code will take slightly longer.

The conference was held in Chicago Aug. 3 and 4. Dutton became a trustee as he is a member of the BOCA governing body and a past president of BOCA.

Farm Bureau Moving In '73

The Cook County Farm Bureau, now based in Arlington Heights, will move to a new building in Rolling Meadows sometime next year.

Gordon Fix, executive secretary of the bureau, said he is hopeful construction can begin this year on the one-acre site on the west side of Hicks Road, just north of Euclid Avenue.

The University of Illinois Cooperative Extension (home economics) Adviser may join the farm bureau in its new facility. The U. of I. service is now based in the U. S. Postal Service building in Des Plaines.

The present farm bureau building, at 201 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, has been sold because the bureau needs more space, Fox said.

The office has 20 employes, and the U. of I. Cooperative Extension (agriculture) Service, which shares the building, has four employes.

When the farm bureau opened its doors at its present site in 1934, Fox said, it had "five or six" employes.

The farm bureau is attempting to sell seven acres of property adjoining its Hicks Road site.

The local farm bureau services the northern half of Cook County; another facility in Tinley Park serves the southern half.

Free Lox, Bagels Sun. At Beth Tikvah

A free lox and bagels brunch for all unaffiliated Jewish families in the Northwest suburban area will be held Sunday by the membership committee of Beth Tikvah Congregation from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Families attending the brunch at the temple, 275 Hillcrest Blvd., Hoffman Estates, will be able to meet Rabbi Hillel Gamoran and members of the board of directors of Beth Tikvah.

Representatives from each of the affiliate temple groups will also be on hand to acquaint newcomers with services available. A report on the progress of the building expansion program will also be presented.

New members may register their children for Hebrew School and Religious School at this time. For further information, contact the temple membership chairman, Ira Kopin, 882-3149, or the temple office, 529-4545.

Manpower Shortages Hit Post Offices

by BARRY SIGALE

A freeze on the hiring of full-time employes by the U. S. postal service has resulted in manpower shortages and problems in delivery at area post offices.

The problems have resulted from a March 29 directive from A. T. Klassen, U. S. Postmaster General, informing all postal officials that no one could be hired for permanent full-time duty from then until the freeze was lifted. An extension of that original 90-day directive is now in effect.

According to a spokesman at the main post office in Chicago, the freeze was ordered because of a nationwide economy move by the postal service.

"We were hit by greater expenses, higher costs and because we were overstaffed," the spokesman said. "Moreover, we're over $2 billion in debt every year. And 85 per cent of the costs to the postal service is for personnel. We were a little bit loose in our hiring in the past," he said.

Employment in the postal service was at an all-time high just before the freeze, about 740,000 persons. Now, through attrition retirement, firings, etc.) that number has been reduced and only critical vacancies are being filled.

In the Northwest suburbs the nationwide problem was clarified and some of the problems explained.

"BY REDUCING the work force we are keeping from going into a postal rate increase next year," said John Koultentes, Des Plaines postmaster. "We're doing everything we can to avoid needing a rate increase."

There currently are 265 postal employes servicing the Des Plaines and Rosemont area, according to Koulentes, down from a high of 282 employes. And the decrease in personnel has caused problems in delivery.

"It's been rough since the freeze," said Koulentes. "We've had to double up on some routes. But we're fortunate we still have a large number of dedicated people. We're still on schedule, though."

Koulentes explained that it's now a "day to day thing" whether there will be a problem with service.

"It's like any other business," Koultentes said, "when you have x-number of sick days and vacations. We do our best to cover up. We do a lot of maneuvering."

Koulentes said local post offices are allowed to hire temporary help for 90 days, but that most of these employes "don't do that good a job in so short a time. Service is affected when a new sub is put in. We've even had to use clerks occasionally to move the mail. But we did that before the freeze, too."

Thomas Devitt, head of postal operations at the Wheeling Post Office, said delivery in Wheeling and Buffalo Grove has been affected more by the freeze than most other area post offices.

"THE TURNOVER has hurt us," Devitt said. "Other post offices around here have enough people. We're up five routes in the last year. But we're still doing alright. We're getting by."

There were 75 people employed by the Wheeling Post Office before the freeze, Devitt said, compared with about 60 employes now.

"It's a tough job, getting the mail out. We have 90-day people but the new man is overwhelmed by what he has to do."

At the Arlington Heights Post Office, which serves persons in Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village and Rolling Meadows, postmaster Robert Proebstle said service to the three communities has not been affected.

"With a work force this large (285 employes) we have a great deal of leeway in order to maintain service. We can have people work overtime to maintain our services. After all, that's the ballgame."

Unions representing postal employes, the National Association of Letter Carriers and the National Association of Post Office Mail Handlers among others, were opposed to the freeze and voiced their opposition on the national level.

But the postal service spokesman downtown said the freeze would provide more opportunities for workers to advance in the system.

"We're only filling positions from within. Before, it was from the outside. You had to have a political sponsor to become postmaster."

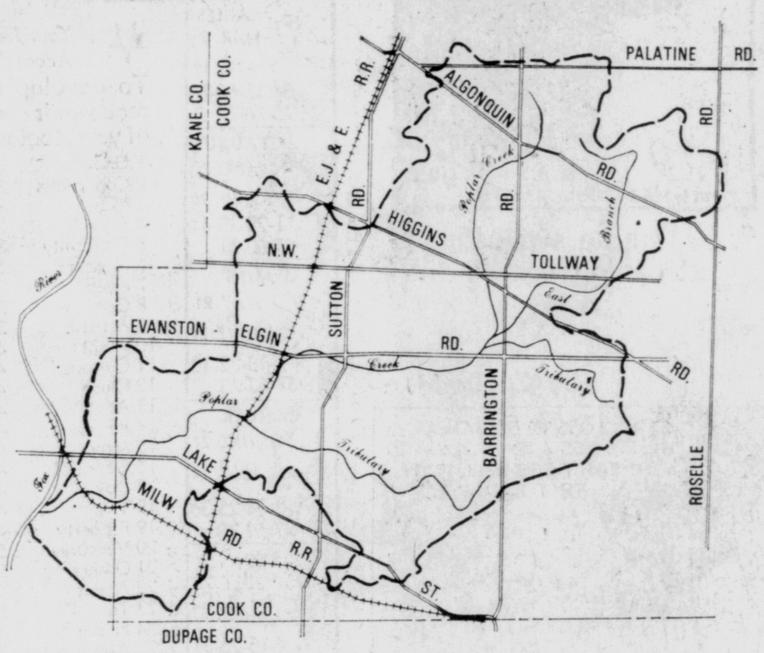
For Poplar Creek Watershed

Sewer Treatment Plant Set

by ANNE SLAVICEK

After a five-year delay, the Metropolitan Sanitary District's plan to build a sewage treatment plant to serve the Poplar Creek Watershed is again on its way to implementation.

The plant, which would be located in Cook County just east of the Kane County line, would treat sanitary sewage from the Cook County portion of the Poplar Creek watershed. It would be one of two plants serving the general area.



Portions of Schaumburg and Hanover Park are included in the area to be served by the new plant along with Barrington Hills, Streamwood, South Barrington, Hanover Park, and unincorporated areas in Schaumburg, Barrington, Palatine and Hanover Townships.

To reactivate the work to get federal funding to help pay for the Poplar Creek wastewater plant, the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission will schedule a public hearing next month.

The NIPC planning commission agreed Wednesday to hold such a public hearing in order to amend its Regional Wastewater Plan.

THE AMENDMENT to the plan calling for two sewage treatment plants in the Poplar Creek-Elgin area instead of the one plant specified in the plan is necessary before the MSD can receive federal funds to help build the Poplar Creek plant.

Plans for the plant began in 1967, but the project was delayed by NIPC's suggestion that the MSD and the Elgin Sanitary District (ESD) cooperate in using facilities at an Elgin wastewater treatment plant to serve the Poplar Creek area.

NIPC said the combined facility would save an estimated $3 million in 35 years by having two separate plants — one in Elgin and one in Cook County to serve the Poplar Creek area.

After NIPC proposed the cooperative program the MSD contributed $10,000 and ESD contributed $5,000 to finance a study of the NIPC proposal for the single sewage treatment plant.

Despite the study, which indicated a combined plant would mean a savings of $5 million in the next 50 years, the MSD and the ESD have been unable to reach an agreement for a combined facility.

NIPC's planning committee conceded Wednesday that its efforts for a combined plant were not fruitful and agreed to seek to amend the Regional Wastewater Plan to allow the Poplar Creek plant to be considered for federal funding.

But despite NIPC's willingness to amend its plan now, a spokesman for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency said at the meeting the EPA may require NIPC to present valid reasons why the wastewater plan should be amended from one plant in the area to two plants.

The EPA representative clashed briefly with MSD General Supt. Ben Sosewitz who was at the meeting seeking a public hearing to get work on the Poplar Creek plant underway as soon as possible.

Sosewitz said he did not think the federal government should interfere with such local planning matters and should accept any change in the regional wastewater plan that is accepted by the state.

Sosewitz told the NIPC planning committee that all savings which may have resulted from combining the two proposed plants into one have been lost as construction costs have risen during the delay.

"It took us a long time to accept the concept advanced by NIPC for a single plant," Sosewitz said.

Even so, he said the MSD went along and did pursue the idea of unifying its facilities with those in Elgin, he said, by helping to finance a study and by negotiating in good faith with the ESD.

But the ESD has rejected the combined plant as "unworkable," Sosewitz said, because of their economic position as well as other reasons.

As a result the MSD has adopted the building of a poplar Creek plant as its formal solution to the problem, Sosewitz said.

"Much of the savings already have dissipated in the five-year construction delay," he said.

Sosewitz said additional delays would be caused by pursuing the use of the Elgin plant because Elgin does not have the land available to expand to provide the additional service to the Poplar Creek area, while the MSD already owns the site for its Poplar Creek plant.

"We've been as patient as we know how," Sosewitz told the commission in urging that the NIPC wastewater plan be amended.

Another advocate of allowing the Poplar Creek plant to get underway was Streamwood Mayor Nick Kosan.

Kosan asked NIPC to, "get us off the hook," caused by the Illinois Pollution Control Board's findings that treatment done by the Streamwood sewage treatment plant is inadequate.

A moratorium on MSD permits caused by the pollution control board's actions has meant a $1 million loss to Streamwood in taxes, jobs and building permits and has stopped the growth of his town, Kosan said.

The Streamwood plant will be shut down once the Poplar Creek plant is completed. Work to upgrade the Streamwood plant to last until the Poplar Creek plant is completed began Wednesday, Sosewitz said.

The MSD superintendent said that despite the inability of the MSD and the ESD to reach agreement on a combined plant, the MSD was offering to oversize its Poplar Creek plant to take care of any additional growth in the Elgin area which cannot be handled by the Elgin plant.

Although ESD commissioners attended the NIPC meeting they did not comment other than to agree with Sosewitz's assessment of the failure of the negotiations.

Sosewitz said after the meeting the MSD had first sought federal funds for the Poplar Creek Plant in 1967.

He said the MSD had opposed the original adoption of the existing NIPC Regional Wastewater plan because it included only one wastewater treatment plant for the Elgin-Poplar Creek area.

It looks good in races too.

If the sleek fastback lines and the well-appointed interior of the GT-6 make it look like more show car than sports car, don't be fooled.

The GT-6 is the national E Class champion racer in SCCA competition. It has been the champion for two years running.

So if you're thinking of buying one, don't be afraid that you're simply paying for style or the sumptuous reclining seats, or for standard equipment detailing like the walnut facia and the self-defrosting rear window.

Figure you're investing in an all independent suspension system, a 2-litre, 6 cylinder engine, disc brakes in front, rack and pinion steering, good acceleration and a good track record.

The good looks come as a bonus.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE – Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The Lighter Side

When GOP Convention Depended On A Democrat's Wife

by DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — To an experienced observer, the turning point at this year's Republican National Convention came early Monday.

It came immediately after Florida Gov. Reubin Askew's welcoming speech when an enterprising television reporter on the convention floor managed to reach Mrs. Askew for comment.

Much depended on her reply.

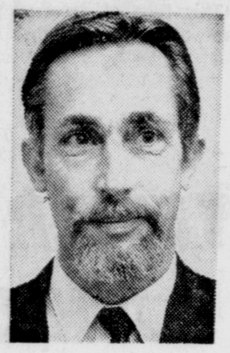
As a Democrat, Askew faced a credibility gap of formidable proportions. Would he be able to convince the GOP delegates that they were sincerely welcome?

Or, he being a member of the opposition party, would his remarks have a hollow ring, arousing suspicions among the delegates that he was only paying lip service to the cause of welcomeness.

IT WAS patently obvious that unless the delegates were made to feel genuinely welcome, they would become surly and restive, throwing the entire convention into tumult.

One can only theorize as to what the results might have been, but here are a few distinct possibilities:

—During the Salute to Eisenhower program, John Wayne might have mounted to the rostrum and said some unkind things about Ike.



Dick West

—Frank Sinatra might have re-defected back to the Democrats.

—Tricia Cox and Julie Eisenhower might have gotten into a sisterly argument over who should sit where in the presidential box and wound up pulling each other's hair in full view of the television cameras.

—Mrs. Nixon might have been seen frowning.

—Spiro Agnew might have bolted the party to become Sargent Shriver's back-up man on the Democratic ticket.

THAT NONE of these things happened is a tribute to Askew's prowess as a welcomer.

Dr. Luigi V. Populi, the noted political scientist and authority on welcoming speeches, predicted on the eve of the convention that Askew would be able to bring it off.

"You wait and see," he said. "Askew will make those delegates feel so welcome they will adopt the platform with hardly any dissent and renominate Nixon by acclamation."

Nevertheless, the atmosphere was still fraught with suspense as we experienced observers in the television audience waited to see how the delegates would react.

It was Mrs. Askew who provided the key. For if she didn't like her husband's speech, chances are the delegates wouldn't feel properly welcomed by it.

With the convention, then, hanging in the balance, Mrs. Askew forthrightly 'opined that it was a "warm" speech, radiating cordiality and oozing hospitality.

And all of us experienced observers went "Whew!"

Winners In Hardy Oven Contest Are Announced

One student won both first and second place, and two sisters won prizes in the short story contest sponsored by Virginia Hardy's Oven of Mount Prospect. Prizes were announced by Kerry Masada, manager of the store at 1586 S. Busse Rd.

Paula Knoderer and Cynthia A. Tidd, Arlington Heights, and Sally Heinz, Mount Prospect, are first prize winners of $50 U.S. Savings Bonds.

Miss Knoderer won both first and second place in the high school division of the contest. Miss Tidd won first prize in the junior high division and Miss Heinz in the elementary school division.

Second place winners in addition to Miss Knoderer are Mary Heinz, sister of Sally Heinz, in the junior high division, and Carmella Schiavone, Mount Prospect, in the elementary school division.

This place in the high school section is Marlene M. Ewald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald F. Ewald, 2700 Cardinal Dr., Rolling Meadows. She attends Forest View High School.

Miss Knoderer, 103 N. Reuter, Arlington Heights, attends Arlington High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Knoderer.

Sally and Mary Heinz are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Heinz, 1204 Robert Dr., Mount Prospect. Both attend Dempster Junior High School.

Miss Tidd, 15 attends Rolling Meadows High School, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tidd, 1606 S. Princeton Ave., Arlington Heights.

Miss Schiavone attends Dempster Junior High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schiavone, 1403 Palm Dr., Mount Prospect.

All winning stories of the Mount Prospect Virginia Hardy's Oven contest are automatically entered in the national contest sponsored by the chain of stores specializing in pies and breads. National winning stores will be printed on the firm's 1½ million pie boxes next year.

This is where shoplifting stops being "fun."
If you've ever thought about doing a little shoplifting, think again.
Think how easy it is to get caught.
Think how it must feel to get caught.
Think how you'd answer the question that's on every job application, "Have you ever been arrested? If so, explain."
Think how—to the people you know, and the people you love, and yes, even to yourself—you can never be the same person again.
Think about it.

Junior Achievement Seeks Hoffman Estates Center

by MARILYN HEISER

A Junior Achievement Center in Hoffman Estates to serve students from throughout the Northwest suburbs was requested this week at a meeting of the village's Youth Commission. John Walsh of JA presented arguments for the facility in a speech explaining the goals and operations of JA in Chicagoland.

The facility would be used by high school students from area villages. The commission was concerned primarily with the expense Hoffman Estates would have to assume if the village donated such a facility.

Walsh said a facility in Hoffman Estates would be desirable because it would help attract more Northwest suburban students to the JA program. At present, the area JA center is in Des Plaines, a site JA will lose.

"Freshmen and sophomore students, dependent on adults for transportation, often don't participate because Des Plaines is so far away," Walsh said.

"THE LOCATION WE rent in Des Plaines will be raised this summer and we'd like to move further west. Firms in the area, such as Motorola and Union 76, have also expressed interest in a Hoffman Estates center," Walsh said.

JA is a non-profit organization supported by contributions from major industries. The students in JA form companies, and sell stock at $1 a share to capitalize, produce and sell a product. Products include items such as trivets, radios and stuffed pillows.

The goal of JA is to give students firsthand experience in the operation of the private free enterprise system. Advisers from major companies assist the students in each company they form. The students learn business techniques such as producing and selling an item, to keeping books and liquidating a company.

In addition to forming a company, area students participate in a trade fair at Woodfield Shopping Mall and are eligible to enter contests honoring the best JA students.

The facility needed for a center in Hoffman Estates would have to contain 5,000 to 7,000 square feet. Six to eight different companies of approximately 15 students each would meet at the center Monday through Thursday nights.

Walsh said the facility would have to be one that could be partitioned for the separate companies. An area for a workshop where the students make their products is also needed.

BECAUSE THE proposed center would serve high school students from the entire Northwest suburban area, the commission wondered if other communities would be willing to help with the cost of the facility.

Walsh said possibly Hoffman Estates would have a facility used for other purposes during the day and available for a center at night. This type of arrangement, he said, has worked well in other areas.

IN ADDITION TO its convenience for students in the surrounding area, Walsh said a Hoffman Estates center would be closer for businessmen who live in the area and advise the students at night.

He also said JA would like to use a rent-free facility, so it would have more money to put toward college scholarships, granted each year to deserving JA students.

The commission said it would consider the possibility of finding a JA facility "That'll be our big problem," Frank Aleva, commission chairman, said.

Harper Girds For First-Day Traffic

Harper College officials are making plans to avoid a gigantic traffic jam Sept. 11, the first day of fall semester classes.

Factors that will contribute to the traffic situation are increased enrollment, delay in paving of additional parking areas on campus, and Algonquin Road construction.

Harper's director of business services, Donald Misic, heads the college parking committee, which reports that arrangements have been made for temporary additional parking on campus sod. Attendants will direct traffic flow.

"We are informing students of the parking problem as they register and urging them to form car pools before classes begin. In past years, most car pools have been formed later in the semester," said Misic.

"Complicating the approach to the campus will be construction on Algonquin Road from Rte. 53 to Roselle Road. The project will continue for a total of 260 working days. This will slow all traffic in the vicinity."

MISIC RECOMMENDED that students allow extra time for driving to Harper and for parking after they arrive.

"Students might also try alternate routes to find the best one for their drive to campus."

Harper College has paved parking facilities for 1,200 student cars. Last year 600 cars were temporarily parked on sod when lots overflowed. This year, the temporary space will be doubled. In case of rainy weather, emergency parking will be arranged along campus roads.

Work on the delayed construction of three additional parking lots is expected to begin soon, and completion date will depend on weather conditions.

This fall, college officials expect an increase in total enrollment of more than 20 per cent over the fall 1971 figure of 9,193. This includes full, part time and continuing education students who enter and leave the campus at all hours of the day and evening.

"With continuing enrollment increases, we will probably always be behind in parking facilities at Harper."

The Doctor Says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — You asked what people do for insomnia. I don't use sleeping pills, I just check up on myself and see what bad habits I have. Usually, it's because I've been drinking too much tea, coffee, colas, booze — take your choice. So I either cut down or cut out and sleep. People are really dumb about their bad habits. They pretend their living habits aren't hurting them and then when their poor bodies protest at last, they stuff dope down their gullets thinking that will solve all their problems.

I think a lot of women would not have gall bladder trouble if they drank enough water. I've talked to a lot of them and everyone of them admits that they haven't drunk any water in years. They think their illness isn't their fault and that they're just unlucky. One or two of the fat old biddies blame it on the "will of God" but they'd have a fit if the old wino down the street blamed the "will of God" for his bad liver. No difference.

I think you doctors are to blame to a certain extent. Instead of giving pills why don't you tell those people who only need to reduce or to revise their bad habits to do just that? But of course, they wouldn't do it. They like to stuff their innards with poison.

Dear Reader — Your hostility is showing. I am glad to note that you are a woman and not a man or I would have thought you were a male chauvinist pig. However, your observations that people's habits contribute to their illness applies to both men and women. In other words, to some "fat old buzzards" as well as to use your phrase some "fat old biddies."

I agree that doctors should do more to encourage people to do things to prevent illness. The problem is that most of the things people need to do about their living habits to prevent illness aren't very popular. People don't like to limit the amount they eat or the amount they drink or to stop smoking and others don't like to do any exercise. Yet these are some of the most important aspects of maintaining good health and preventing illness. If you read my column very often you will know that I frequently encourage people to adopt better living habits. I'm glad to have such a militant disciple on my side.

HERE'S A NEW thought on why men are less susceptible to urinary tract infections than women. Dr. William Ferrar at Stanford University has reported that the prostatic fluid of normal men contains an antibacterial substance that completely destroys bacteria obtained from patients with urinary tract infections. This substance is being investigated further to see if it can be clearly identified and synthesized to be used in treating infections. I have always thought of the male prostate as being of relatively dubious value since it causes a lot of men a great deal of difficulty, but it may turn out that it does have a purpose even in protecting against urinary tract infections, which might explain its inconvenient location at the outlet of the bladder.

Win At Bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

South lost no time losing the first two tricks. Not that he could do anything about it. Dummy's king of diamonds was right in front of East's ace and queen.

East shifted to a spade and South let this ride around to dummy. South had lost two tricks and had to get away with just the loss of one trump if he wanted to make his contract.

He reflected that it would have been so much nicer if he had just raised his partner to three no-trump.

The normal trump play would be to cash dummy's ace and lead toward his queen. That would work if East held the king of trumps but South knew East pretty well.

East was one of those players who liked to bid. He appeared to be holding a five-card diamond suit. With an extra king he would surely have been in the bidding.

Therefore, South led a low trump from dummy and played his seven. West won with the 10 and led a second spade. South but South had salvaged the game and rubber.

West could cover, duck or go fishing,

Rep. Schlickman To Receive Judicial Award

Eugene Schlickman

State Rep. Eugene Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights), an active supporter of improvements in the judicial system, has been chosen to receive an award from the Committee on Courts and Justice at its awards luncheon next Tuesday.

Schlickman, one of the sponsors of merit plan legislation in the House of Representatives, has previously served as chairman of the Committee for Modern Courts, a member of the Illinois House Judiciary Committee and supported and worked for merit selection of judges and the judicial article in the new Illinois Constitution.

Schlickman also has received the John Howard Assn. award for outstanding legislative leadership in the field of criminal rehabilitation.

Red-Hot Arlington Heights Tops Another State Champ In Tourney

by JIM COOK

RICHMOND, IND. — Streaking Arlington Heights snapped another skein in its bid for the Great Lakes National Regional championship here Thursday.

This time it belonged to Trenton, Mich.

The Illinois American Legion titlist dramatically interrupted the Michigan champ's eight-game winning mark, 4-3, behind the brilliant six-hit pitching of righthander Mark Leonhard.

Arlington initially halted Belleville's 13-game streak in earning the Illinois state crown, then bested undefeated Kokomo, Ind. southpaw Tom Underwood for his first loss in 13 games to gain the winner's bracket in the regional.

Heights will now face the winner between Findlay, Ohio and Richmond, Ind. in a quarterfinal match Friday, at 8 p.m.

Cleanup hitting Dave Giles, in the throes of an 0-for-12 batting slump, broke out of his personal drought with a key one-out double in the top of the ninth to highlight a thrilling, decisive rally.

His booming two-bagger up the power alley in left-center boosted Pat Broderick around with the game-tying tally. Tony Fricano waited one-out later to send a routine fly to center, but the sun shone on Arlington and also into the fielder's eyes, the ball dropping for another double which eventually sent Giles home with the winner.

Leonhard was masterful through the first five innings. Trenton touched him for a one-out triple in the second and that was it. Mark was protecting a 1-0 advantage at the time — courtesy of an inside-the-park home run by third baseman Dave Zare.

Dave belted a fast ball an estimated 420 feet on the fly to straightaway center field and cruised around the base paths while the ball bounced up the sloping terrace and off the wooded center field fence nearly 500 feet away.

Arlington's margin grew to 2-0 in the third off Trenton's starting pitcher Pat Dolan, who boasted a sparkling 9-1 record upon taking the mound. Dolan walked Jim Prandini to start the frame, but Bob Harth forced his teammate at second on an attempted sacrifice bunt.

Bert Newman was whistled for catcher's interference as Harth tried to pilfer second, but Bob Eventually claimed the bag on a passed ball. Broderick, capitalizing on the Trenton miscue, followed with a run-producing single to left.

A parade of three Michigan pitchers kept Arlington at bay until the decisive ninth, during which time Trenton had pecked away for both a tie and the lead.

Leonhard was solved for a run on back-to-back two-out singles, sandwiched around a stolen base in the sixth before relinquishing the lead in the seventh.

A one-out walk almost spelled doom for Leonhard although he notched the second out on the fifth of his seven strikeouts. A single and a boot in center enabled Michigan the luxury of having the tying and lead runs in scoring position where they tallied on a wild pitch and pinch hit single.

Arlington got Fricano on base via a walk to start the eighth but failed to push him around. The winners elected to postpone their dramatic heroics until the ninth.

Leonhard faced only six batters over the final two frames to insure no further eruptions from Trenton, who after a first round bye, is still 30-6 on the season but now saddled in the loser's bracket.

Kickin' It Around

Sports Editor

MY NAME IS SUSAN Eames Frisk.

I am 6 years old and I am not as worried about writing this story as I was last summer when I was only 5.

Dad said he didn't have anything to write about one week last summer so he asked me to write a story here. That was my first try and I was kinda worried.

Dad doesn't know what to write about this week so he asked me again. What does Dad really do at work?

It sure was fun writing last summer when I was only 5 years old because I told how I became a fan of the Chicago White Sox and how I thought they were doing good and would do better.

Most of the kids in our neighborhood liked the Cubs best so I didn't know if they would like it when they knew I was a White Sox fan. I also like the Cubs, but I like the White Sox best.

This is really fun this summer. All the kids know how good the White Sox are doing and it is exciting. I didn't think they would do so good this year when Bill Melton got hurt. He is my favorite.

Dad says not to get excited. He says he's lived around Chicago for 36 years and has learned not to get too excited about anything Chicago teams do until the season is over.

I don't understand Dad at times. He says not to get excited but he acts excited. He watches many of the White Sox games on TV and he never did last year. He always said he didn't like baseball much on TV, but he watches it all the time now and even when there's a football game on at the same time.

He gets mad too when they lose a game he thought they should win. He used to get mad only when his college lost a football game, but they were losing so much that he didn't get mad for awhile. Now he seems to get angry with both the White Sox and Illinois if they lose. Dads sure are funny people.

Dad also does something strange when he watches the games. He turns down the television and turns on the radio. He says he likes the television man but he likes the radio man much better because he tells you just what the players are doing, whether they do it good or not. I don't care who I listen to because I just watch the game and hope they hit home runs and win.

I have something exciting to say now.

I finally saw the White Sox win a game when I was at the park. They had lost every time before I went, but we went to see them play Boston last Friday and they won 8-1 and I got a Richie Allen Photo Mug.

Some people call him just Dick but I call him both Dick and Richie.

Those photo mugs are sure neat. I have three now of White Sox players, one of Richie Allen and one of Bill Melton and one of Wilbur Wood. I use a different one at each meal, but I really do think my Allen one is the best. I drink lots of milk and juice and soup so I can use my photo mugs more.

Bill Melton is still my favorite player like I told you last year, but he has been hurt and I think Dick Allen is the best now. He hit a home run for me lastFriday, and that was about the most exciting thing I have ever seen because it was his photo mug night. He also hit a home run when we saw the White Sox play Baltimore on July Fourth, but that was the only run they had and they lost and I didn't like that.

Dad says Richie Allen is the most exciting player he has seen, and Dad has been around a long time because he even saw Ernie Banks play.

It sure was exciting at White Sox Park Friday night. People around us were standing up and yelling all the time even when nobody hit the ball. A man kept coming by and selling something called beer, I think, and everyone kept getting louder and louder. I wonder what beer tastes like to make you act so funny and talk so loud?

Even Grandpa is getting excited about the White Sox and Grandpa has been a Cubs fan since he was a little boy and that was long ago, just like Dad. Mom doesn't really like baseball, but she says the White Sox are interesting now.

There were so many people in the park last Friday (Ed. Note: 42,001), and Dad says some people who didn't care about the White Sox last year are jumping on the bandwagon.

What's a bandwagon? Why don't dads use words kids can understand? Can you jump on a bandwagon without getting hurt?

I still play baseball with the kids on the block like I told you last year. I think my throwing is better, but I still can't hit a fast pitch very good. I like the slow ones. I would like to play on a girls softball team when I get older, about 9 or 10, because I have fun that way. Girls should be able to play some of the same things that boys do if we have fun.

I also collect baseball cards with the boys and girls in the neighborhood, and I have been trying so hard to get all the White Sox. The kids trade and I even have Richie Allen now when he was with the Phillies and the Cardinals and White Sox. I still don't have him with the Dodgers. I have most of the White Sox, but I can't find Rick Reichardt or Stan Bahnsen and I sure wish I could get them. I'd even trade a Willie Mays or Hank Aaron.

Maybe Dad will let me do this again next summer when I'm 7 years old. I like writing in the newspaper.

I have to go now. Dad just called from the den, and he sounds excited.

Richie Allen is coming to bat.

I'm thirsty again. Where's my photo mug?

Giles Delivers Under Pressure

RICHMOND, IND. — Lloyd Meyer believes in God and Dave Giles.

The Arlington Heights American Legion head coach had some pressure on him to either move his big (6-3, 220) first baseman down in the lineup or out of it completely. The reason: His cleanup man was 0-for-12 and looking bad at the plate.

"I believed in him," said the 17-year veteran coach of Legion wars. The top of the ninth inning proved what a wise man Meyer is.

"Fastball!" exclaimed the bespectacled Giles of the pitch he got with Pat Broderick on second and one out. He ripped that offering and it didn't come down until it was at the base of the terrace, about 380 feet from the plate.

That standup double — "He (Meyer) told me to get some wood on the ball" — tied the game at three — all and set up the 4-3 victory for the Illinois state champs over Trenton, Mich.

"That was a lot better than yesterday, right?" said Giles after ending his 0-for-15 slump.

"He shows guts," said Meyer. "It's not easy to come back from five fans (in Wednesday's game). And he came up there four times and hit the ball hard. In a pressure situation like that, he could have really choked."

Although Giles was the leading hero, there were many stars in this most important game to date. Tony Fricano, the centerfielder, was next in line. His towering fly ball to center teamed up with the sun for a two-out double in the ninth. "A little," was Fricano's answer to the query of his being tense in a two-out situation. "I think I went for a pitch a little low. I should probably have taken that thing."

However, he was elated that he hadn't, for it drove in Giles with the winning run.

Even happier than Fricano was Mark Leonhard, one of two talented aces that Meyer had showcased before a legion of professional scouts. You see, it took Leonhard off the hook.

"I was real stupid," said Leonhard of his performance in the seventh which allowed Trenton to take a 3-2 lead. "I couldn't find my rhythm . . . I couldn't find it at all." But he settled down after that for a fine six-hitter.

Dave Zare was a star early in the game with a booming (495 feet to dead center) inside-the-park home run.

"It was a changeup, a deuce," said the husky third baseman of his standup round-tripper. He had tried to bunt for a base hit two pitches earlier. The foul bunt was one break ("In every game you get one or two," said Meyer afterward.) The grounder by Broderick in the ninth was another. It helped tie the game.

"I just took off and ran as fast as I could," said the Arlington catcher. His speed beat the dropped throw at first and he eventually scored.

"Somebody up there likes us, I guess," added Broderick. He believes, too.

DON'T KNOCK THE A.L.

Dear Herald:

I read in some paper the other day where some guy said the only reason the White Sox were doing well was because they were in such a weak division and that if the Cubs were in that division they'd be fighting for a pennant.

I will admit that Pittsburgh is in a class by itself, but what's so great about the Cubs' division with teams like the punchless Mets, the pitching-less Cardinals, the ho-hum Expos, and the one-man (Carleton) Phillies. And how many times have the Cubs played Pittsburgh and still they're way out of first place.

Actually, I get tired of hearing about how great the National League is. You have Pittsburgh and Cincinnati (this year) but just what is so great after that?

They keep talking about the superstars in the National League. Do certain outstanding individuals make great teams? Just ask the Cubs. TEAMS battle for pennants.

The National League bosses would love to have those exciting American League races right now.

SOX SHOULD UNLOAD THREE

Dear Sirs:

The White Sox have done a fine job this year win or lose but there are some players they just have to unload, namely Tom Egan, Jay Johnstone, and Rick Reichardt. They need a third catcher but Egan can't do the job. Johnstone likes to talk a lot but he hurts them more than he helps, despite an occasional key hit. Reichardt just isn't worth the $65,000 he's getting. Getting a centerfielder has to be No. 1 priority and then they need catching help. I like the job Alvarado is doing at shortstop and Andrews is having a poor year but young Jorge Orta will be up soon to solve that problem. Muser can back up Allen, Spiezio can Back up Melton, and Morales is a good utility infielder. This sin't a one-shot deal for the White Sox. They'll be in the pennant fight again next year.

FROM LITTLE LEAGUE FAN

Dear Sirs:

For the past several weeks, usually twice a week, I have had the thrilling experience of watching the Little League games at the Semmerling fields.

My grandson Butch Bennett (age 11) was a member of the Meyer Material Co. team. They won the position of three-game playoffs with the L. B. Anderson Realtors team for the championship in the Wheeling League, winning two out of three.

From what information I could gather from the Proud Parents present, no publicity was given these boys and their coaches, and believe me (being a fanatic Cubs fan), these youngsters outplay the big leaguers by far (ask any parent!)

Nothing encourages people all ages more than getting their names and pictures published to be interested in the better things in life. Won't you please contact the sponsors or managers and coaches, and get the necessary information to give credit where credit is due?

A Proud Grandmother,
Pansy Dettmar
Wheaton

(Ed. Note: The Herald is happy to publish any information received during the summer regarding boys baseball programs throughout the area. It is up to each league to submit the material.)

STRIKE FORGOTTEN

Dear Sirs:

In all the excitement of the White Sox's amazing drive toward the American League West pennant, fans seem to have completely forgotten all the ruckus at the beginning of the season about the players strike.

While the strike was in progress, all I was hearing from angry fans was that they were going to boycott the games — supposedly to make the "spoiled brat" players suffer. People were making dire predictions that attendance would be down all over the majors because of resentment caused by the strike.

Well, I said it then and I'll say it again with the evidence clear — the sports fan is the quickest to forgive and forget of any figure in our society. Who remembers the strike now? Nobody. I knew it would be this way as soon as the races heated up and exciting baseball started to be played. One need look no farther than Chicago's South Side, where attendance has soared way up, and rightly so. I am all in favor of this. The gutty Sox deserve support, and they're getting it. What difference does the strike make now?

Jake Hulrick
Wheeling

DIRE PREDICTIONS FOR BEARS

Dear Herald:

Well, it looks like another long season coming up for the Bears. After watching their first three exhibition games, I predict that they will not win more than three games all season. (They would be 0-3 now except for a freak play in the final seconds of the Houston game).

It is not the fault of new head coach Abe Gibron, who is doing the best he can with little to work with. Gibron could be an outstanding coach if the stingy front office would provide him with some material. But as has been the case for years, the Bears are too shaky in the defensive backfield and offensive line to go anywhere. Bobby Douglass cannot do the job at quarterback unless he has a good running game going for him. When the regular season starts and opposing teams stop experimenting and start using first-stringers on defense all the time, the Bears' whole offense will consist of kicker Mac Percival.

Net Finals At River Trails

Finals in the Illinois State junior boys' tennis tournaments will be held this afternoon at River Trails Tennis Center, Mount Prospect.

Weather permitting, the matches will be played on the center court of the Center's new seven-court, claylike-surface outdoor complex.

Admission will be free and bleacher seating available. In the event of rain, matches will be indoors.

In semi-final action yesterday in 16 doubles John Paczkowski of Arlington Heights and Geoff Tabin of Glencoe defeated Rex Nyquist of Hinsdale and Mike Evans of Aurora, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

In 18 doubles Paczkowski and Don Rodig won a quarterfinal match 6-4, 7-6 over Jeff Zimmerman of Niles and Steve Pauly of Wood Dale and then lost to Jim Merkel of Arlington Heights and Steve Wild of Des Plaines 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

Donahue Still Pitching Well

Jerry Donahue, who prepped at St. Viator High School and has been building up a fine minor league pitching record, is enjoying another big summer.

Donahue, who is property of the Detroit Tigers, is pitching relief for Montgomery of the Southern League. At one stage recently Jerry owned a 6-3 record with a sparkling 0.92 earned run average.

In four years of minor league pitching Donahue has compiled a 26-8 record with earned run averages of 1.89, 1.66, and 0.76 prior to this season.

Howard C. Seehausen of Inverness was honored at a testimonial dinner in Honolulu, Hawaii, on the occasion of his retirement after 23 years of service with the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

Seehausen, who for 22 years was Executive Director of the Association, was honored at the 40th Annual BPAA Convention at the Hilton Hawaiian Village in Honolulu. The testimonial dinner, attended by over 1800 bowling proprietors, bowling manufacturers and guests, was highlighted by speeches of appreciation and gifts from the National Bowling Council, the Women's International Bowling Congress, the American Bowling Congress, the Professional Bowlers Association, American Machine & Foundry, Inc., the Brunswick Corporation and from many individuals, Bowling Proprietor groups and the BPAA itself.

Switch Coming For Bastable

Jack Bastable, one of the area's all-time great all-around athletes, was a fixture in the University of Missouri backfield at one of the halfback spots last year but apparently is in for a switch. Coach Al Onofrio recruited three junior college halfbacks and has decided to change Bastable to a wide receiver's position.

Jack, who is also a catcher for Missouri's baseball team, has been drafted by the Oakland Athletics of the American League but at last report was unsigned. Bastable played on the American All-Star team which toured Japan earlier in the summer.

Circle Slates Golf Outing

The University of Illinois at Chicago Circle will hold the Fifth Annual Lettermen's Alumni Golf Outing on Sunday at Chevy Chase Country Club near Wheeling.

Tee-off times begin at 12:30 p.m. with dinner to follow at 7:30 p.m., at which time the Chicago Circle Athlete of the Year for 1971-72 will be honored.

The five athletes eligible for the award are Gary Dworski (diving), Wayne Saunders (cross country), Bob Fisher (football), Joe Siprut (wrestling) and Rick Simmons (gymnastics). Dworski was chosen as the 1970-71 Athlete of the Year at last year's awards dinner.

The golf outing is open to all alumni who attended either Chicago Circle or the Illinois-Chicago Undergraduate Division at Navy Pier and their guests. For further information, call Walt Versen at 996-2772.

Semmerling Fence Wins Again In Senior League

For the second year in a row, Semmerling Fence captured the Maine-Northfield Senior League championship. The Fencers' victim and runner-up was the first-half champion Pilgrim Chrysler Plymouth.

After a slippery first inning, when the Pilgrims committed costly errors that allowed six runs, their pitchers were able to hold the champions to one more run. In the meantime, the Fencers' Larry Deschamps was pitching effectively and allowing only a single to Mickey McCarty and a bloop bunt to Robbie Marcus to shut out the Pilgrims. Deschamps also instituted a double play that went from him to Gary Hoffmann to George Kaufman to erase another threat. Tom Kanuber collected the only hit for the winners.

The final score was Semmerling Fence 7, Pilgrim Chrysler Plymouth 0. The Semmerling squad is managed by Art Sepke of Mount Prospect and the roster includes Mike Karlins, Gary Hoffmann, Mark Zoerner, Tom Knauber, George Kaufman, Randy Aberle, Chris Nuzzo, Rick Jacobson, Larry Deschamps, Doug Zorn, Dan Sepke, Russ Karlins and Glen Olsson.

This game concluded Maine-Northfield Little League's regular playing season. Board meetings will continue throughout the year, however, and plans for next season are already underway. New board members, elected at the League's annual picnic and seated at their Aug. 18 meeting were: Larry Lent, Des Plaines; Col. Oscar Mall, Glenview; and Mick Levinson, Fred Stiefel, and Mike Willner, all of Des Plaines. The board will elect officers for 1973 at their next regular meeting.

Harper College Holding Practices

Athletes interested in trying out for the Harper College football team should report to the college field tonight at 6:30.

Throughout the week head coach John Eliasik will be holding conditioning workouts at that time. Equipment will be issued on Saturday.

Athletes are advised to get a physical as soon as possible. The one taken by freshmen upon enrolling in school is sufficient, according to Eliasik.

Eliasik wants prospective Hawk players to bring T-shirts, shorts and spikes to this week's workouts. Gym shoes are acceptable this week.

Follmer, Porsche Challenge McLarens

For six years now the constant question posed by Canadian-American Challenge Cup race-goers has been "Who can stop the McLarens?"

This summer that question has emphatically been answered by Roger Penske's L&M Porsche-Audi Racing Team and driver George Follmer: "We can!"

Already, just four races into the 1972 Can-Am series, the superbly-prepared Penske Porsche 917 has twice beaten the once-invincible McLaren team of Denis Hulme and Peter Revson — and another victory at Road America's Sunday afternoon 200-miler would put Follmer into the point lead for the international series' driver championship. He trails Hulme 50 points to 48 — and a win means 20 points.

Mark Donohue quickly demonstrated that the Porsche entry would be a prime factor in the '72 Can-Am by qualifying for the pole position at the opening race of the series, although finishing second behind Hulme in the Mosport, Canada, race. When he suffered injuries in a subsequent practice test-run, Donohue had to relinquish the cockpit of the Penske machine to Follmer — and George immediately proved his competence by going out and winning the very next race. Hulme came back to win the third event, but two weeks ago Follmer again outran the field for victory to make it evident that from here on in the Can-Am would be a wide-open tattle.

Follmer, 38, has been racing since 1960 and in '65 won the U.S. Road Racing Championship in a Lotus-Porsche — and this year has also captured the Trans-American Championship in an AMC-Javelin. He hails from Arcadia, Calif.

For the Can-Am, he has an obviously excellent racing machine — and one set up with craft by the meticulous Penske Team which won the Indianapolis 500 with Donohue at the wheel.

The car is an L&M Porsche-Audi weighing 1,650 pounds and standing but 38½ inches to the top of the rollbar. It is powered by a 12-cylinder, air-cooled, turbocharged Porsche engine of about 300 cubic inches — much smaller than such powerful Chevy engines of 512 cubes now being run by such entrants as the McLarens in this series where unlimited horsepower is permitted. But the Porsche engine has long been famed for its reliability and with the turbocharging has developed a high degree of speed to make it extremely competitive with the big American powerplants.

Porsche won World Manufacturers' Championships in 1969-70-71 and then turned to the Canadian-American Challenge Cup in '72. Since going into racing in 1949 as a small, family-owned German Company, Porsche has won more automobile races than any other make. L&M has been involved in the Can-Am for three years and has proven to be an excellent sponsorship partner with Porsche.

Putting the whole package together has been Roger Penske who at 35 has been in racing for 14 years. In the six years he raced, Penske was four times a Sports Car Club of America national champion and once the United States Auto Club's road-racing champion. Since concentrating on the organization end of racing he has been equally successful; he has been considered one of the top men in the game when it comes to race preparations and setting up fast — and reliable — cars. The 1972 Porsche-Audi was test-driven the equivalent of several Can-Am seasons before it ever raced.

This weekend's schedule calls for both practice and qualifying on Friday and Saturday prior to the 1:45 Can-Am 50-lapper Sunday. A revised Friday schedule calls for practice from 1:20 to 2:20 and official qualifying from 4 to 5:30. Saturday will have a practice period from 10:30 a.m. to noon and a second qualifying session from 1 to 3 p.m.

An 80-mile Formula B race will be held Saturday at 3:30 and a 60-mile Super Vee prelim Sunday at 11:15 a.m.

Straight Sets Champions In Palatine Tennis

It wasn't close in any of the three matches in the Palatine Open Doubles Tournament staged recently.

The men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles finals all went in straight sets with the tightest margin 6-3. Lyle Davidson and Bob Fink defeated Matt Borman and Kevin McNamara for the men's title, 6-3, 6-1.

In the women's final, Noni Adashek and Terri Miller teamed up for a victory over Candy Vogt and Lyn Schwabe, 6-3, 6-2. And in the mixed doubles, it was Rachel Kotsaqis and Royal Smart turning back Paula and Bob Dollaske, 6-3, 3-3.

Swingers Golf

In the Swingers Ladies Golf League at Old Orchard Country Club last week the low net and low gross honors in three of the four flights were taken by the same woman. Only in A Flight did two golfers share the laurels.

Nell Trusdell's 35 net and Evelyn Karkula's gross 46 were the low marks in A Flight. In B Flight, Pina Todaro shot a low net 36 and tied with Jane Wright for low gross at 56 apiece.

Maxine Goodwin dominated C Flight play as she carded a low gross 57 which was transformed into a net 33. D Flight golfers trailed Shirley Cook's low gross 74 and low net 37.

100-Lap Season Feature Headlines Raceway's Card

A field of approximately 30 drivers of Late Model cars will compete next Sunday in the annual 100-lap Season Championship race for the biggest purse of the year at Raceway Park, the quarter-mile paved track at 130th St. and So. Ashland Ave. in Blue Island.

It will be the longest race of the season until the annual 300-lap Classic to be run on Saturday, Sept. 23. The race will also mark the renewal of the torrid rivalry between Ray Young of Dolton, the current point leader at Raceway, Bill McEnery of Evergreen Park, a close runnerup, and the veteran Bud Koehler of Blue Island, who is a close third. Koehler has been driving in sensational fashion in recent weeks and a victory in the 100-lap title race could vault him into the point leadership that determines the season's champion. Koehler has already won seven season track titles and is now gunning for his eighth.

In addition to the 100-lap headliner Sunday, a 20-lap feature for Super Six cars, plus at least three Super Six 10-lap heat races will be run. Saturday night will be climaxed with a demolition 'football' game in which a compact car serves the purpose of a football. Two opposing stock car teams batter the driverless compact car around in an effort to score a touchdown. At the finish the 'football' is reduced to a twisted mass of junk.

'New' Nicklaus; Unfat, Unhated And Unexcelled

by IRA BERKOW

NEW YORK — Long articles, including a doctoral thesis, had been written on the one-time infamous phenomenon of Jack Nicklaus. All that is past, buried in a bunker.

No longer do great segments of golf galleries deplore Nicklaus' victories. No longer do they hold up signs in front of sand traps which read, "Put it here, Jack." No longer do they hiss, "Fat Jack," as though he were the oval villain of a rasslin' show.

"Get 'em Jack," they cry now, swarming and tumbling after him, then halting in a strange freeze as he readies to stroke, then swarm and tumble some more.

After a round he plods graciously through a sea of autograph seekers, his blond head and hand bobbing as he Scribbles his name with an almost desperate flourish.

He answers the cliche questions of a novice female radio reporter.

"Are you satisfied with your round?" she asks.

"I think anyone would be satisfied with a 67, don't you?" he smiles, seems to restrain himself from being as crisp as in earlier years.

"What's your secret of success?"

Patiently, with a little laugh: Well, uh, I don't know, practicing the shots that I'm having trouble with."

Then he makes his way with help of a marshal through a little-used side entrance of the country club. Old men with varicose veins are lying naked and unstirring on rubbing tables. Steam is coming from a nearby steam room. A purplish light is seen from a sun room. The contrast from the luxuriant green of the course is stark.

"Gotta come this way to avoid the rest of those crowds," says Nicklaus, above the click of his cleats through this bogus morgue. "I use this entrance all the time to get to the locker room. I'm not kidding when I tell you that sometimes it's impossible to get a minute alone." He looks at you with direct blue eyes, saying that of course life could be a helluva lot worse.

Nicklaus, besides being possibly the finest golfer ever, is growing in popularity. This is not to say that he has the nation by its heart-strings, as Palmer did (and does). But most folks were rooting for Nicklaus to win that Grand Slam. (He had already won the Masters and U.S. Open this year.)

That he lost the British Open by a stroke, after coming from six strokes back on the final day, may have endeared him to fans even more than if he had actually triumphed. This was evidenced in the PGA championship at Oakland Hills. Nicklaus, playing with a bad finger, seemed to have had his inner fires quenched after failing in Britain to gain the third leg of the Slam. Yet the PGA crowds were behind him like an avalanche.

Satisfying, says this son of a druggist, to be, at 32, after 11 years on the pro tour, after having come out of Columbus, Ohio, to become a multi-millionaire, to be widely accepted, finally.

The trauma of the early tour years, when he seemed often to be black to Palmer's white, is over. He was then puzzled and saddened at the odd ways of fandom, and at the position in which he had been unwittingly thrust.

The treatise writers and he wondered if it was that he had risen too swiftly. (He began winning immediately upon turning pro at 21; while Palmer, for example, lived out of a trailer in his '20s) Or that he did not have the Bogartian flair of Palmer; or that all the world in fact did not love a fat man. (The 6-foot Nicklaus weighed over 200 pounds, is now slimmed to 185.) Or that his game was too ponderously careful, not madly daring like Palmer's. Or simply that he had the effrontery to beat Palmer.

And in a television age, Nicklaus felt he came across "too cold and grim and Teutonic and too darn sure of myself." He made a conscious effort to amile more, to put a dash more sugar in his personality. He says he always felt, though, that he was "a fundamentally companionable fellow."

How delicious, now, to have someone other than yourself cheering for you.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

JACK NICKLAUS in 1965, was pudgy and moping. The new Nicklaus jumps for joy, right, before an enthusiastic gallery.

Piepenbrink, Scott Tree Battle For VFW Golf Lead

With just one more playing date remaining this season, Piepenbrink Movers have moved into first place once again in the Arlington V.F.W. Golf League at Old Orchard Country Club. Tom Fegan with a snappy 42-10—32 and Rick Weber's 32-5—34 were the contributing factors in the team's rout of Village Pipe & Cigar Shop, 20-4.

Scott Tree & Landscaping is just three points away from the lead and could take all the marbles with a big win over the cellar-dweller next Monday night. A distant third and fourth is Kolman Plumbing and Fetke Insurance respectively, with no chance to catch the leader.

Joe Kolman the sponsor of Kolman Plumbing had a hot hand with a 40-11—29 to take low net for the night and also for the season to date. Low gross honors were shared by Andy Graczyk, Jim Szukalla and Darryl Burkett all with 38's.

Toyota Carina . . . The new Carina combines surprising power with surprising room. And that makes it a comfortable two-door sedan for families just getting started. The options are there: air conditioning and automatic transmission, stereo tape deck, and AM-FM radio. And so is the standard equipment. In addition to a surprising list of no-cost extras, the Carina has touches like electric rear window defroster, a handy map light, front and rear ashtrays, dual headlights, and a locking glove box with an automatic light. But that's not unusual for a Toyota.

Banner Bicycle Racing Schedule

Midwest Bicycle Race Director Torchy Peden has scheduled the three hardest races for each of the four rider divisions when this week's competition unfolds at 8:00 tonight at Meadowhill Park track, located west of Waukegan Rd. between Willow Rd. and Dundee Rd. in Northbrook.

For the seniors (those over 17 years of age) there will be a five-mile point race, over the quarter-mile track, a lap race, and a "miss and out" race. The initial contest will feature a sprint every fourth lap. The lap race, 3½ miles in length, will be scored on the following point basis: two points to the leader after every lap and one point to the second-place rider, with the final lap counting five points to the first-place man, three to the second, two to the third and one to the fourth. "Miss and Out" means that the last-place rider after each lap must drop out of the running.

The juniors (ages 15 to 17), will compete in a 16-lap (four-mile) point race, a 12-lap race, and finally a miss and out race.

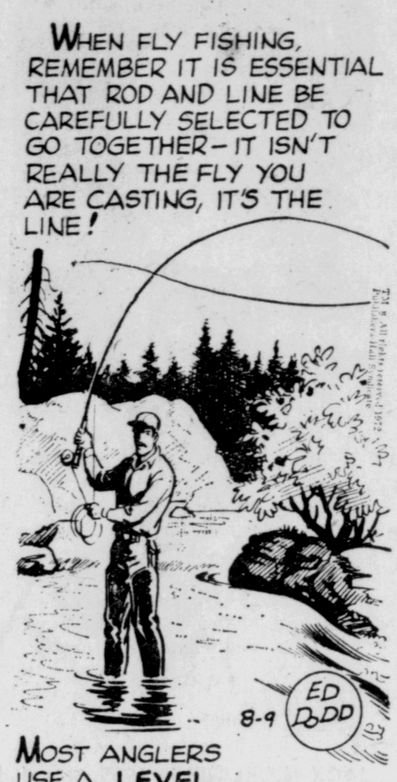
Intermedites (ages 12-14) will be challenged by a 12-lap point race with four sprints, a 10-lap lap race and a miss and out.

Midgets (ages 8-11), will be faced with a 12-lap point race, an eight-lap lap race and a miss and out.

Added attractions include stock (street) bike events for both boys and girls. The girls stock races will be held for those 10 years of age and under as well as for 11, 12, 13 and 14 year-olds. For the boys, one race will be staged for nine-year-olds and under, another for boys 10-12 and a third for those 13-16.

This will be the 10th Thursday Night Bike Race Program at the Northbrook track this summer. The last meet is scheduled for next Thursday, Aug. 31.

Mark Trail's OUTDOOR TIPS



Gatti Wins Two Features

Chicago's J. P. Gatti furnished a lot of excitement at the Waukegan Speedway Saturday as he set a new one-lap qualifying record (:15.76, figured in two photo-finishes) and took the late model sportsman feature lead with just four laps remaining to score his second win of the season.

The races, the time trials and the warm-ups were full of excitement and spills including George Dukas' crash in the warm-up period. The Zion point leader broke his right rear axle and his 1961 Chevrolet jumped over it and backed into the pit wall. He was not hurt, but the car could not be repaired in time to race in the semi-feature.

The 25-lap feature required three restarts, the most spectacular coming after tough-luck George Garrett of Zion vaulted over a stray wheel in the second lap while running second. Garrett managed to land on all four, but then slammed into the pit wall. Last week Garrett blew a tire while leading the feature and hit the wall in the same place.

Don Ellgass of Ingleside took the feature lead with Chuck Bostick of Waukegan second by the seventh lap and Ted Richter of Libertyville third at that point. By the ninth lap Gatti was fourth and he had just taken over second spot when the red flag waved as Zion's Joe Horn hit the homestretch wall.

On the restart Ellgass lost his ten-car-length advantage with Gatti nearly passing him before being forced into the infield. Bostick finally gained the lead on the 17th lap with Richter, Gatti, Ellgass and Ken Hamann of Waukegan right behind.

However in the 19th lap Bostick blew a tire and headed into the first turn wall with "The Flying Fatman" Richter pushing his 1965 Chevelle in front, Gatti edged in front on the 22nd lap with Hamann taking second in a strong finish with one lap remaining.

Richter finished third with Kenyon "It's a Boy" Graham of Winthrop Harbor fourth in front of Ellgass, John Gonzalez of Macomb and Ed Smith of Gurnee.

Graham, celebrating the birth of his first child came to the track with a large sign on the door of his sportsman proclaiming "It's a Boy." He won the third and fastest heat in a tight finish over Gatti.

The trophy dash finish saw Bostick and Gatti collide at the finish line with both shooting through the infield and third place Joe Horn being awarded the win.

The finish line also was the scene of another wild finish in the special forward-backwards race. In the final lap just two cars were still running and winner Dexter Lewey of Waukegan slammed into a stalled car at the checkered flag and runner-up Roger Hacke of Waukegan crashed into Lewey. Next Saturday there will be a powder puff derby event.

Gatti won his second straight feature Sunday at the Speedway after starting 21st in the field. Gatti took the lead in the 18th lap for his third win of the year. He races a 1969 Camaro in the late model sportsman class.

The Wheeling Am-Vets Post No. 66 Wildcats won the stock car football game 10-7 as they scored while the lone Lakeland Bus car running was stranded on top of half of the Volkswagen football. Next week a trio of ladies, "Women's Lib," will challenge the Wheeling Wildcats in the final football game of the year.

Gatti, after some hot warm-up laps, needed a new transmission but settled to run the feature without a clutch and with the transmission wired in second. He passed Bill Reupert of Wheeling in the 18th lap for the win in the 25-lap race.

Reupert, who led from the eighth lap, took second money with John Gonzalez of Macomb driving a good race for third. Kenyon Graham of Winthrop Harbor was fourth followed by Floyd Burdick of Racine, Abel Avila of Wauconda and Ernie Pollick of Zion.

Hahn Golf Exhibition Scheduled In Huntley

Paul Hahn, golf's greatest showman, will put on a performance near the Herald area on Saturday, Sept. 2. Hahn is scheduled to appear at Pinehurst Golf & Country Club in Huntley, Ill., at 6 p.m. There is no admission charge and you are invited to take all the photos you like.

If you have a sense of humor you will be delighted to spend an hour with Hahn. This million-dollar personality with a golfing talent of equal denomination has thrilled, amazed and amused audiences in 52 countries, on every continent of the world.

Hahn flies his own twin-engine Piper Aztec to almost all his exhibition sites. He recently flew to 24 countries, on four continents, 38,000 miles in just 13 weeks. Installing extra fuel tanks he headed east across the Atlantic stopping in Bermuda for two exhibitions thence to the Azores and on to Spain. From there he circumnavigated the entire African continent, making exhibition stops in six countries there. His devil-may-care charm has excited writers to chronicle his many tours over the past generation.

From his jumbo golf bag Paul Hahn will pull clubs that defy description. Then, with regular clubs, he will sit down and drive a golf ball well over 200 yards, he then assumes a kneeling position and knocks them out similar distances. His clinic, the first part of his show, is one that has been recognized by his peers, the membership of the P.G.A of America. They have bestowed many honors on him and he is the only golf professional named to a U.S.G.A. Committee.

His fans include some of the top touring pros and he has made appearances as the extra attraction at the Masters in Augusta, at the Alcan at St. Andrews in Scotland and at the Ryder Cup Matches in England plus many major tourneys in the states and other countries.

Basketball Clinic Features Auerbach

The second annual Red Auerbach Basketball Clinic is set for Sept. 23 - 24 in Columbus, Ohio. Auerbach, president of the Boston Celtics and a former Celtic coaching immortal, will lecture at the clinic and will be joined by several other prominent head basketball coaches.

The other coaches will include University of Maryland mentor Lefty Driesell, North Carolina head coach Dean Smith and Florida State basketball head man Hugh Durham.

Information regarding the clinic is readily available by writing to: The Red Auerbach School, Box 5867, Columbus, Ohio, 43221.

Brazilian To Drive Second UOP Shadow

Carlos Pace (say PAH'-che), a 27-year old newcomer to the extremely competitive Grand Prix circuit in Europe, has been named to drive a second Universal Oil Products Shadow MkIII in the 200-mile Road America Can-Am race in Elkart Lake, Wis. this weekend (Aug. 26 - 27).

Pace, a Brazilian, will join Britisher Jackie Oliver for this fifth event in the rich 1972 Canadian-American Challenge Cup series for unlimited sports racing cars.

Although this will be Pace's first appearance in Can-Am competition, the Sao Paulo native has extensive experience in other forms of racing, highlighted by a meteoric rise to the top of European competition in the last two years.

Pace, the youngest of four children of a wealthy textile manufacturer in Brazil, began racing go-karts at the age of 16. Three years later, at 19, he began racing sedans and won the Brazilian Championship three years running.

In 1970, he went to Europe and in his first year won the European Formula Three Championship for small open-wheeled cars.

In 1971, he moved to the Frank Williams team, and up to Formula Two competition and posted frequent high finishes.

Williams helped Pace make his move into Formula One competition this year. He has scored World Championship points twice — for a sixth-place finish in the Spanish Grand Prix in April, and a fifth in the Belgium Grand Prix several weeks later.

Pace has also tried sports car competition. He finished second for the Ferrari factory team in an endurance race in Austria, and third, for the John Wyer team, at Watkins, Glen, N.Y.

Marathon In Olympics Totters On

by IRA BERKOW

MUNICH — (NEA) — Nothing so typifies the Olympic Games as does the Marathon event in some incredible fashion, Marathon runners totter 26 miles, 385 yards. In some equally fantastic and phantasmagoric way, the Olympic Games trudge on.

And when the Ethiopians, winners of the last three Marathon gold medals, got entangled with international sports groups in the latest furor, historians clucked that it was a match made on Mount Olympus.

Ethiopia ran in tandem with several fellow African nations. They threatened to hustle their teams out of Munich unless the Rhodesians were run out of town first. The charge is that Rhodesia's is a "white racist rebel government."

Yet few actually believed that the protesting African teams would pull out since the Supreme Council o fAfrican Unity — a group of black nations — knew that the International Olympic Committee sanctioned Rhodesia as a brother nation last September.

One could fairly ask whether the Olympics, this addled old carnival of sweat, is again being used for political gymnastics.

Meanwhile, back on the track, Mamo Wolde runs. Wolde is the defending Marathon gold medal winner. He moves with the feathery grace of a ghost. His legs, delicate and powerful as a thoroughbred's, have carried him from the mountains of Ethiopia to what he hopes will be a fine climb on to the Olympic winner's stand. He is 39 years old. This, he said would be his last race — if his country allows him to race.

Wolde, who has a pleasant job back home as liteutenant in the Imperial Guard of Haile Selassie, has no say in whether he runs or not. All that is up to his government and he will not question the situation.

"Politics are for politicians and sports are for sportsmen," he says.

But if politicans interfere with sportsmen?

"No comment."

The modern Olympics have been beleaguered with problems, from the very first in Athens in 1896 when swimmers jumped out of the water because it was too cold, to the black-gloved demonstration last Olympics in Mexico City.

The Marathon has perhaps had more madness about it than all other Olympic events combined.

In 1900, a Paris bakery delivery boy named Michel Theato, won the race in his home town, but skeptics believed that he knew shortcuts in the Marathon route.

There was the famous Durando Pietri incident in the 1900 games. Pietri, a little Italian shoemaker, came into Wembley Stadium and the last several hundred yards of the race as if he were a slowly fizzling balloon. Englishmen nearby carried him across the finish line. He was disqualified.

In 1904 in St. Louis, a clever fellow named Fred Lorz accepted a ride in a passing car when the heat of the road got too much for him. He passed all his sweaty colleagues. When the car's radiator broke down, Fred felt chipper again, and ran the last five easy miles to cross the finish line first. Fred thought this was so humorous that he laughed and told the story on the winner's stand. To his surprise, the gold medal was yanked out of his paws.

In the Marathon there was once a false start, of all things. Another runner got ill from munching on food given him by spectators along the way. Abebe Bikela, predecessor and countryman of Mamo Wolde, came home first in Tokyo barefoot. His shoes had been pinching him. And Emil Zatopek, the great Czech long-distance runner, ran the marathon for the first time in his life in 1952 and won a gold medal. His response to this most hallowed of events? "the marathon is a very boring race," he said.

The last word on the Marathon and how it mirrors the Olympics, must come from Pheidippides. This famous Greek, in the days before telephones, ran the 26-plus miles between Athens and Marathon to deliver a message from his general to his fellow Athenians. As he came huffing and puffing into town he cried, "Rejoice — we conquer," and then fell dead.

MUNICH (UPI) — The two Russians sat there as if carved in stone, a perfect tableau of complete concentration.

They weren't kidding around.

This was the McCoy. Some real heavy thinking.

You'd think they were sweating over some weighty international matter like, say, what to do about a suddenly uppity Egypt, but no, that wasn't it at all.

The chess board between them gave them away.

This whole thing took place outside the International Club, the spot in the Olympic Village where the competitors from all the different countries get together to hobnob, kid around and swap stories, and while these two Russians were playing, who do you suppose should happen to come along simply to kibitz?

You're right. A pair of U.S. athletes.

The Russians couldn't miss knowing which country they were from because of the red, white and blue U.S. emblems on the front of their uniforms, and finally, after watching the match a few minutes, one of the Americans pointed to the white king on the board, grinned and then needled the two Russians:

"Fischer! Bobby Fischer. You've heard of him, haven't you?"

The Russians laughed also. They couldn't help themselves.

One of the Soviet chess players muttered "Spassky" and shook his head rather sadly.

The two kibitzers were Shep Messing and Neil Stam, both members of the U.S. soccer team, both from Long Island, N.Y.

They'll tell you right out they're big Bobby Fischer rooters, that being ahead as he is, he can't quit up there in Reykjavik the way he's threatening to, and that they hope he completely blots out Russia's Boris Spassky.

Messing and Stam are not alone.

Practically all the Olympic athletes say they're rooting for Fischer. Practically all, of course, except those here representing Russia.

They're pulling for Spassky.

But from such divergent points as Australia, Italy, Japan, Canada, Sweden and West Germany, you get this same thing from the great majority of the athletes.

They don't even care that he makes outrageous demands and that he strikes so many as being high-handed.

"The first thing I do when I pick up the paper is to look to see whether Fischer won or lost," says Walter Mobinger, one of West Germany's gymnasts.

"All these things they say he does is the same like Ali used to do, but that doesn't matter to me. I like him. Besides, all people who compete in sports have certain characteristics. That's part of their way."

Shep Messing, one of those who teased the two Russian chess players, is a recent Harvard graduate who says what's wrong in wanting one of your own guys to wipe up the floor with the other guy? He says much of this generally advertised "good feeling" between U.S. and Russian competitors is manufactured anyway.

"I think there's a tremendous amount of animosity and natural rivalry between the U.S. and Russia and it's much healtheir to express it in games like these instead of in war. You bet I'm for Fischer."

So is Dean Oldershaw, a member of Canada's canoeing team.

"I like Fischer. I don't hold those things he does against him. To me, that's just showmanship anyway. Look at what he has done for chess," he says.

One Russian water polo player, who could almost pass for Jerry Koosman of the Mets, says he has more interest in the Olympics than in what's going on in Reykjavik, but that he thinks Spassky will win eventually and he's rooting for him. Asked why, he replied:

"Because I'm Russian, the same as him."

But two Italian soccer players, Louis Benedetti and Peter Mennea, are completely for Fischer.

"I like his way," explains Mennea. "He's sure of himself. Showy, you know, typical American man."

Then American men are okay?

"Yes," says Italy's Peter Mennea.

"But," he winks, "I like American women much better."

Which only goes to prove all those jokes they tell about Italians aren't true.

Hunter Bagged Big Game

The last major-league pitcher to hurl a perfect game in regular-season play was Catfish Hunter of the Oakland Athletics in 1968. Sandy Koufax turned the trick against the Cubs in 1965.

WHEN SHOPPING FOR A NEW CAR, BE SURE TO LOOK AROUND.

Before you take one of our Volvos for a test drive, sit down and examine its views.

Volvo's roof line is high, providing room for a panoramic 3,800 sq. in. of windows. So the driver can see all four corners of the car. Even the hood and trunk lid are sloped, for a better look at what's immediately in front or back.

Volvos are built this way because they're built for Swedes who travel more than anyone in Europe.

If, like them, you have a love of the open road, you should have a car that pr ides a generous view of it.

So for a cordial exchange of views, bring your old car to us.

Part 1: Inside Harness Racing

'Race Is Rarely Completely Fixed'

(Editor's Note: Mike Blake now lives under an assumed name. His gambling problem forced him to move away from the Midwest city in which he had lived most of his adult life. That is true. So are the facts and incidents as related in the following two-part series. However, all the names have been fictionalized to protect Mr. Blake, who fears reprisals.)

(First of Two Parts.)

by MIKE BLAKE

As Told to IRA BERKOW

NEW YORK —In the winter of 1967, I had the chance to buy a harness horse and jumped at it. I was a professional gambler. I bought the horse to increase my contacts so that I could make safer bets. And, hopefully, to bet on sure things.

For years I was like the average fan. I heard rumors about shenanigans in harness races. Now I was to find out for myself. In the tracks that I soon began to frequent, I found that in most of the eight to 10 races a night, deals were being made among the drivers.

Those drivers are still driving. They drive all over the country, in most or all of the 15 states and Canada that permit harness racing.

One night, my trainer-driver, Steve Fillmore, drugged my horse, High Step, a very mediocre pacer. He told me of his plans beforehand and I made a bundle. But I found that horse dopings are unusual because they are, first of all, too risky and, secondly, unnecessary.

The most common and frequent way to arrange a race is for two, three or four drivers to get together before the race and set it up. I was in on many of those.

A harness race is rarely completely fixed, in which all eight or nine drivers are involved. There are many drivers who have no price (or if they do have a price, it has never been met to the best of my knowledge). But their cooperation isn't necessary. Usually just a couple drivers working together can eliminate an honest driver.

Harness racing is the fastest-growing spectator sport in the United States, according to the 1971 Gambler's Digest. Thirty million paying fans attended harness races last year. The figure will probably be higher this year. Very few of those 30 million really know what is going on right before their very eyes. But they suspect. For good reason.

When it becomes obvious that something has been happening, they make a noise. They did just that at Yonkers Raceway in New York, when a ridiculously low-paying exacta (picking the first two horses in one race) caused a minor riot by bettors. It happened again at Pocono Downs. Another absurdly low exacta, another riot by bettors. And at Louisville Downs, two drivers were suspended for one year for "trying to get together on a perfecta," according to William Hilliard, chairman of the Kentucky State Trotting Commission.

I owned High Step for six months. Though the horse was in my name only, I had a silent partner, Sal Torre. At the time, Sal could not obtain a license to buy a horse. He was not permitted on the grounds of any track in the state. He had been ejected a few weeks before when he was caught talking through a paddock window at a local track. He was a general patron then and general patrons are not allowed to talk to paddock people.

I was happy to be a partner of Sal's. I knew he was always going down to the paddock before races for tips. What I came to learn was that he also received signals while sitting up in the stands.

I remember one night in particular. Sal's father, Nick, was driving in the race. Nick is a prominent driver. This night, Sal's father was driving Timmy's Boy. I was looking over the program and I said to Sal, "Timmy's Boy looks good tonight."

"Yeah," said Sal.

"How heavy can I bet him?"

"Wait a minute, I'll let you know."

As I found out later, Sal was waiting for the post-parade, when the horses come onto the track. Sal watched for a signal from his father. Then he said to me, "Bet your house." Timmy's Boy went off at 16-1 and I won $2,310.

I don't remember th especific signals for that race. But there were as many signals as there were races. Sal taught me them. He grew up in harness racing. Besides his father, his uncle is a prominent trainer-driver. So are his in-laws. And he spent his earliest days, people say, in a sulky instead of a buggy.

Sal would watch his father or another friendly driver; a whip under the right arm might mean to bet on the horse of that particular driver; a whip on the shoulder might mean to lay off that driver. Spitting to the left might mean one thing, spitting to the right something else — like a third base coach. Almost anything was used short of turning a cap backwards.

If there was a "lay-off" or "don't bet on me" signal, Sal would often note the horse in front of the friendly driver. The friendly driver would make it his business to be behind the horse he knew was supposed to win. On at least 20 different occasions I bet the horse Sal's dad followed on the track for the post parade. I won every time.

L'Nor Regains Friday Golf Lead

L'Nor Cleaners inched back into command in the Arlington Heights Friday Night Golf League last week, taking an 80-78 advantage over Schiefelbein Construction Co. The previous week, Schiefelbein had forged into a tie atop the standings with L'Nor.

The fierce battle at the top rages while only two other teams, Acacia Auto Body and Sylvia Flowers, have even reached the 60-point barrier.

Reuben Escamilla used a trio of birdies (on the 11th, 13th and 18th) to tie Tom Durand for low gross honors at 36. Les Williams' 29 bested the field for low net score.

Other Birdies were registered by Duane Schiefelbein and Terry DeVito on No. 11, Tim Marnell at the 14th, and Ron Behr, Ken Jordan and Fred Mingus at No. 17.

17 Foreign Bowlers In Brunswick Tourney

The $85,000 Brunswick World Open bowling tournament will definitely have a worldwide flavor this year.

Tournament Director Nick Hondros announced that all 17 foreign spots for the second annual event scheduled at Brunswick Northern Bowl Nov. 19-25 in suburban Glendale Heights have been accounted for.

"We will have bowling champions from all over the world this year," Hondros said. Japan leads the list with six entries followed by England, West Germany, Canada and Latin America with two each. Finland, France and Sweden each have been allocated one spot in the tournament. Most of the countries are conducting local elimination roll-offs to determine their representatives.

All during August at Hounslow, England, the Supreme Invitation Singles is taking place to determine one of the two British entries in the World Open. The Supreme Invitation Singles is being co-sponsored there by Ambassador Bowling Limited and the bottlers of Coca-Cola.

The other spot in England has been filled by Chris Buck, the country's top tenpin bowler. Buck is currently averaging 205 in England and has represented the United Kingdom in the World Cup competition three times. He has also been a regular member of the British International Team and more recently, captain of the England Team.

Local roll-offs in West Germany are to begin later this month. From these roll-offs will come 14 local champions who will meet in Frankfurt, Sept. 2 and 3 to determine which two bowlers will represent that country.

Qualifying tournaments for the two Canadian spots have begun and will be run from now through Oct. 22 with the finals scheduled for Oct. 29 in Toronto and Montreal.

Hondros also announced that the 90-minute televised finals will be shown all over the world via the American Forces Radio and Television Service. AFRTS operates 42 stations around the globe from Vietnam to Alaska to Europe and the Near East.

CBS Television will carry the finals live to its more than 250 affiliates on Saturday, Nov. 25 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. CST.

CLUTCH PERFORMANCES. Arlington's Dave Sherrow was one of the key performers in the team's drive to the state American Legion title last week. Sherrow pitched 3 1/3 innings of no-hit ball in his two relief performances against Belleville. He also should figure prominently in the Regional Tournament in Indiana this week.

Team 5 Clinches 1st Place In Chemplex Golf League

Team No. 5 — Jack Jacobs, Milt Kostner, Sven Solvik and George Laybourne — defeated Team No. 6, its closest rival, to win the championship of the Chemplex Twilight Golf League. Team 5 jumped into first place in the opening round and held that position for the entire season.

In the final round, Ray Cameron shot a low gross of 44, while Wayne Kelsey took low net with a 35. However, Jack Blanchard, League President, captured low gross and net honors for the season on the strength of his 39-31 record in the opening round.

While team play has been completed, a playoff will take place between the flight winners of the divided season. Facing each other in head to head competition will be: Flight A — Ray Cameron vs. Walt Ramsey; Flight B — Mike Melchior won both halves; Flight C —Milt Kostner vs. Sven Solvik; and Flight D — John Bennett vs. Bill Abbey.

The Chemplex golfers will participate in two annual post-season tournaments. On Aug. 26, they will face the American Can Golf League (Barrington) at the Playboy Club in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. The League will then play the Company officers in an outing to be held at Nordic Hills on Sept. 18.

Kephart's Specialty—Tennis

First Lieutenant Mirrel Kephart, Jr., a 1964 graduate of Arlington High School, represented Camp LeJeune, N.C., in the Interservice Tennis Championship at Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. He qualified to play in the Interservice Tennis Championship by winning in the All-Marine Corps tennis tournament.

Kephart played on the 1964 Arlington High state tennis champion team and specialized in doubles competition. He and Jeff Peek teamed up to win the state title in doubles. He was also the sports editor of the Arlington High School student newspaper.

Crown 12 Champions

Twelve champions were crowned in the Palatine Closed Tennis Tournament recently.

In the youngest age groups, Joey Adashek beat Phil Roberts 6-2, 2-6, 6-2 to take the Boys 10-and-under title while Judy Rolcik downed Catherine Borman 6-3, 6-3 in the Girls 10-and-under division.

In the 12-and-under finals, Glenn Daniels defeated Todd Groesbeck 6-1, 6-2 for the Boys championship and Diane Owen won the Girls competition by handing Therese Jasonowicz a sound 6-0, 6-1 setback.

Lance Gackowski took Doug Bauguss 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 for the Boys 14-and-under title while Debbie Owen ripped Cathy Dalfonso in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0, for the Girls 14-and-under honors.

The Boys 16-and-under nod went to Chris Laffey, who whipped Tom Jensen 6-2, 6-4. Sue Whiting grabbed the 16-and-under victory in the Girls division by stopping Pam Crews 6-2, 6-2.

Fithting back after losing the first set, Matt Borman upended Kevin McNamara 3-6, 7-5, 6-3 to walk off with the Boys 18-and-under title. In the Girls 18-and-under finals, Andrea Laffey handled Rita Sorrenti 6-1, 6-4.

In the adult divisions, Rachel Kotsaqis notched the Women's title with a 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Judy Anderson and Paul Burrus rolled to a 6-2, 6-1 victory over Royal Smart for the Men's championship.

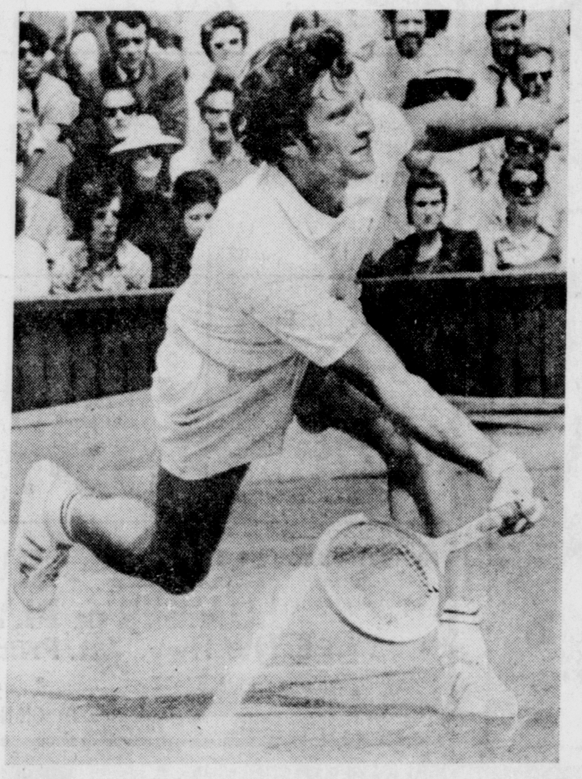
THE UPCOMING U.S. Open Tennis Tournament Championships in Forest Hills, N. Y., will feature an unofficial side attraction: a confrontation in the professional tennis cold war. The pros who play on the World Championship Tennis four — including Arthur Ashe, John Newcombe and Rod Laver, above — will be meeting the independents, who include Ilie Nastase, Jan Kodes and Stan Smith, below, among others.



Morton Pontiac Posts Another 10-Point Sweep

Morton Pontiac scored another 10-point clean-sweep Tuesday night in Mount Prospect Twilight Golf League action at Mount Prospect Country Club, and suddenly the entire picture has changed.

Victim of Morton's second consecutive 10-0 grand slam was none other than Kruse's Tavern, who had smugly displaced Kersting's Garden Center right after the Gardeners' nomination as the League's entry in the Paddock Tournament.

The crushing defeat and one-sided victory combined to elevate Morton's to first place and drop the disappointed Schlitzers to third, and with time running out for Kruse's it looks very grim indeed.

Kersting's Garden Center, meanwhile, continued to plug along, scoring a meager 6-4 win over Mount Prospect State Bank, but holding grimly to the second place slot waiting for the big pay-off

The stage is now set for the grand finale coming up on August 28, the last night of official League play. This is a "position night" schedule, where first place meets second, third meets fourth, etc. It could prove interesting and Morton's might better pray for rain.

In other matches, Kirchhoff Insurance beat Illinois Range, and Annen & Busse trimmed Louie's Barber Shop in similar 8-2 matches. Ed & Gil's Barber Shop outlasted George L. Busse & Co. 5½ - 4½, and Licht's Paint Store shellacked Busse-Biermann Hardware 7-3.

Low gross honors for the session went to Wayne White of the Kersting Garden team, who carded a 1-under par 35 for the second 9. White's round included an eagle on the difficult par five 17th, and birdies on 13 and 15.

Other low shooters were Art Carlson, 37, Chuck Dresser, 38, and Gene Raasch, 39.

Low net went to fighting Jim Viger with a rousing 50 gross, 29 net.

Birdies were reported by W. White No. 13 and No. 15, plus the eagle on No. 17, E. Spletzer No. 10 and No. 15, R. Becker No. 14 and No. 17, A. Carlson No. 4, D. Snyder No. 10, R. Barish No. 16, and C. Dresser No. 18.

Team standings August 22:

Morton Pontiac	80½
Kersting Garden Center	78¾
Kruse's Tavern & Rest.	76
Kirchhoff Insurance	71¾
Louie's Barber Shop	67½
Annen & Busse Realtors	66
George L. Busse & Co.	64
Mt. Prospect State Bank	63
Busse-Biermann Hdwe.	58
Ed & Gil's Barber Shop	56
Licht's Paint Store	52
Illinois Range	46

Crossover Starters

Only two active players have started for both the American and National Leagues in the major-league All-Star baseball game. They are Frank Robinson (with four starts for the A.L. and two for the N.L.) and Dick Allen, who became the second this year.

U.S. Open: Arena For Tennis 'War'

by IRA BERKOW

AMHERST, Mass — (NEA) — The tennis courts here are so many that they literally melt into each other as far as the eye is concerned. White-clad players are everywhere. Tennis balls abound in such profusion that a great hailstorm seems in session. This is Harry Hopman's summer tennis camp.

It is from here that Hopman, the superb Australian-born coach and former Davis Cup player, views the world of tennis through his watery blue, 65-year-old eyes. And what he sees coming up in the U.S. Tennis Open at Forest Hills Aug. 30 to Sept. 10 is, in his pure Aussie tongue, "A possibly bloody good clash."

The Open is, in fact, the only time this year that the "Hunt group" — the contract professionals who play in the World Championship Tennis (WCT) tour, as named and sponsored by millionaire sportsman Lamar Hunt — will compete against the worlds' best independent players.

There have been such complicated and lengthy negotiations and recriminations between the "Hunt group" and the International Lawn Tennis Federation that the SALT talks seem like patty-cake in comparison. And their myriad differences between the tennis factions will not surface here, praise be. But they have warily embraced each other for the immediate future, starting with Forest Hills.

So, Huntmen such as Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall, John Newcombe and Arthur Ashe may peer across the net at the somewhat more sovereign likes of Stan Smith, Ilie Nastase, Jan Kodes, Jimmy Connors.

This makes tennis purists like Hopman happy, sort of.

Happy that the 10 Hunt players may re-enter the tennis world from their isolation, happy that some of the younger players can test the older, more experienced veterans. But Hopman still maintains a rein on his enthusiasm.

"First of all," said Hopman, who was until three years ago the captain of Australia's 15 Davis Cup championship teams in 21 years, "I think the WCT players have the Open weighted heavily in their favor.

"Forest Hills is grass court. The Hunt players play on grass courts all the time here. Most of the independent players don't. The continental people don't have a grass court to their name.

"Second, it's an advantage for the Lavers and Rosewalls to be playing against each other all the time. They know each other's moves so well. Rosewall, for example, can expect to know where Laver's passing shot will go. A Nastase won't."

Hopman said also that the conditions of the court will determine the kind of tournament that will be played. "If it rains, it won't be too exciting, I'm afraid," he said. "Wimbledon covers up seven or eight courts when it rains. But Forest Hills just covers up center court"

Hopman seems to resent the "propagandizing" of the WCT. "They are always claiming that they are the best," he says. "Not necessarily so."

He says that the top WCT players, Laver (age 34), Rosewall (37), Roy Emerson (36), are "on the downgrade," while Smith (25), Nastase (26), Kodes (26) and Orantes (23) are "on the upgrade."

Hopman says he harbors no bitterness toward his former Australian Davis Cup players who turned contract pros, though with them gone, the Aussie team was no longer an awesome power

"No," Hopman said, "I still have a fondness for my old playmates, like Rocket and Kenny and Newk and Emmo But I've seen them play against each other so many times, I'm much more interested in tennis as a game, rather than the individuals. And I'd like to see how the young players do against them. I think they'll do well. The field is very wide open."

And so Hopman, who makes his home in the United States, still coaches young players in the summer tennis clinic here, in his year-round tennis school in Port Washington, L.I., and also as coordinator for the Pepsi-Cola Mobile Tennis Program which is trying to stimulate tennis interest among the ghetto kids in New York City, Boston and Philadelphia.

"I think I'll always be on the side of the up-and-coming player," said Hopman, "as opposed to the fellow who's had his day."

Labor Day Weekend Card Loaded For Great Lakes

Supersonic land missiles guided by the top names in racing throughout the nation will assault the speed records at the Great Lakes Dragaway in quest of the coveted 300 miles per hour mark Labor Day Weekend, Sept. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Former land speed world record holders Craig Breedlove and Art Arfons will compete in side by side races for the very first time, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday and Labor Day at 2 p.m.

Both men will utilize different forms of power to achieve their would-be goals. Arfons will have both his 17,500 horsepower jet car "Cyclops" and his turbine-powered dragster "Green Monster." Breedlove will counter with a streamliner that is propelled by various combinations of rocket fuels with a rocket engine.

Two other rocket cars capable of reaching 300 mph are "Courage of Australia" and "Pollution Packer." Jack McClure will pilot a rocket-powered Go-Cart that has hit the 215 mph figure in just a quarter mile.

Besides Arfons' turbine "Green Monster," the only other turbine racer in the world is the "Odyssey driven by Chicagoan Larry Kisha.

Five jet dragsters, two jet-powered funny cars and a host of nitro fuel dragsters, funny cars, pro-stocks, wheelstanders and stunt riders are all part of the most explosive drag meet in history.

Rebels Divide Final Contests

The Northwest Rebels' initial baseball season finally came to a halt with a mixture of good and bad news. The Rebels — college-aged players from all over the Herald area — split their last four games with none of the games being close.

After splitting a pair of games against Evanston (winning 5-2, losing 8-3), the Rebels trounced the state champion Arlington Heights American Legion team 10-2. Northwest then closed out the campaign the same day, being blanked by Kankakee 8-0.

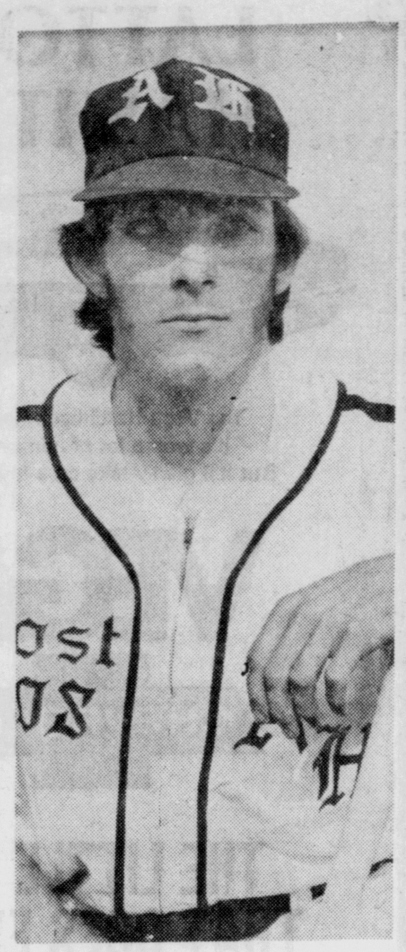
Arlington used the game as an exhibition to stay loose for the Great Lakes Regional tournament in which they began play this week, but Rebels batters also were loose and exploded for nine runs on seven hits in the first inning. The Rebels coasted the rest of the way with four more hits.

Rick Peekel pitched a four-hitter with seven strikeouts and two walks for Northwest. Peekel is a lefthander who formerly pitched for the Palatine Legion team and Fremd High School.

The Rebels strung together a succession of singles in the first inning with the big blow being Dean Sheridan's two-run double. All told, Bruce Frase collected three hits, Sheridan two and Bob Andreas two.

The other game was no contest as Kankakee pitchers threw smoke all day and struck out a total of 20 Northwest batters. The locals got only one hit, by Sheridan — a Wheeling product who was one of the team's most consistent hitters all year. Pitching was Don Kunde (who was borrowed from the Northbrook Legion team because of a manpower shortage) as well as Scott Day and player-coach Frank May. The latter two names were also among the Rebels' top performers in their kickoff season.

Northwest was operating with several regulars missing in the latter two weeks of the season because of a variety of reasons.



TONY FRICANO, who carried only a .243 season mark into tournament play this week, rapped out two big hits Wednesday afternoon as Arlington Heights dumped Kokomo, Ind. 9-4, in the American Regional.

In Junior Olympics

Trudi Places 8th

An Olympian from Mount Prospect?

Well, not quite, but at least a Junior Olympic finalist.

Trudi Rebsamen, a swift 14-year-old who is active with the girls' track program of the Northwest Suburban YMCA, survived all the way to the finals of the sixth annual AAU Junior Olympic Championships in Spokane, Wash., last week. Trudi wound up as the nation's eighth-best female quarter-miler among the athletes between the ages of nine and 18. She copped her eighth-place finish with a sparkling time of :58.4.

Trudi Rebsamen

Trudi was among more than 600 youthful competitors participating in the jamboree in Spokane. The program, sponsored by Chevrolet, involes literally millions of youngsters in 13 different sports, with the greatest attention focused upon the Junior Championships.

Trudi was among the winners of the 14 regional championships held throughout the country. The regional winners earned the right to compete in Spokane.

During the three days in Spokane, the athletes and their coaches were housed on the campus of Gonzaga University. The Spokane Falls Community College Stadium (site of the track competion) also hosted the impressive opening ceremonies last Tuesday night. Though shortened by heavy rain, the ceremonies featured a full parade of the athletes in regional uniforms, reading of the Olympic oath by long jump world record holder Bob Beamon, greetings from Gov. Daniel Evans and AAU President Jack Kelly and the lighting of the Olympic torch by Spokane's top gymnast, 16-year-old Laurie Bremer.

Tri-City Ladies

In Tuesday's edition of the Tri-City Ladies Golf League, Pat Fassnacht, playing in A Flight, carded the day's low net total by shooting a fine 33. B Flight leader was Ruth Kain at 40, Flo Rassmussen paced C Flight with a 38 and Barb Nixon took D Flight honors with a 36.

In low gross competition, Norma Furch, playing in A Flight, had a 74, while B Flight's Evelyn Love matched that total and C Flight's Elaine Savage carded a 77.

Last Meeting Is Saturday For Track's Railbird Club

The Arlington Park Railbird Club has just one more meeting left this summer before closing day at the track this Monday, Aug. 28.

Guests at the last meeting last Saturday included Ms. Gloria Murphy and Bernon Sayler. Ms. Murphy is a trainer and former secretary to Ted Atkinson, steward for the Illinois Racing Board at Illinois tracks. She takes care of Cutnose, Kerensky, Tinder Box (who finished second in Saturday's second race) and Page Of Life.

Sayler is an apprentice jockey, 16 years old and weighing 90 pounds.

Guests this Saturday will be Jeff Anderson, one of the top 10 jockeys consistently at Arlington Park, and his agent, Alex Maturani. Special guest will be Maxwell G., Richard Hazelton's 11-year-old horse.

There will be free coffee, milk and doughnuts for Railbirds, who should enter any open gate off Wilke Road.

Saturday marks the Arlington Park Handicap for three-year-olds and upward, 1½ miles on the turf for a purse of $100,000 added. Closing day Monday will be the Sheridan Handicap for three-year-olds and up, one mile on turf for a purse of $25,000 added.

A.H. 'Little Guys' 3rd In Tournament

The Arlington Heights "Little Guys," a baseball team for players under five feet tall, took third place in a tournament at Niles. Arlington finished strong with two decisive victories and earned a trophy.

With the summer in its late stages and vacation trips beckoning, the Arlington team was down to just nine players for Saturday's contest against Berwyn. Finding one of the regulars missing, Arlington enlisted the services of Chris Hafenscher, younger brother of Joe, to fill the squad. He helped A.H. win, 2-0.

Both runs came in the fourth inning on a triple by John Taylor after singles by Tim Bukar and Ron Adamcykz. Taylor also doubled later in the game. The Hafenscher brothers, Joe and Chris, got the other hits. Tim Bukar pitched the shutout.

SCORE BY INNINGS

Arlington	000	200—2-5-3
Berwyn	000	000—0-6-0

Arlington handled Elk Grove 4-2 in the last game of the tournament. Each team got only three hits. Paul Contine was the winning pitcher with just one walk and eight strikeouts.

After a leadoff double by Tim Bukar in the first inning, Ron Adamcykz doubled in the first run. After two walks and an error in the fourth, Pete Senten belted a three-run double.

SCORE BY INNINGS

Elk Grove	002	000—2-3-1
Arlington	100	30x—4-3-2

Wildest Ever

The wildest games in professional football history occurred on Nov. 27, 1966 when the Washington Redskins bombarded the New York Giants 72-41, and on Dec. 22, 1963 when the Oakland Raiders edged the Houston Oilers 52-49.

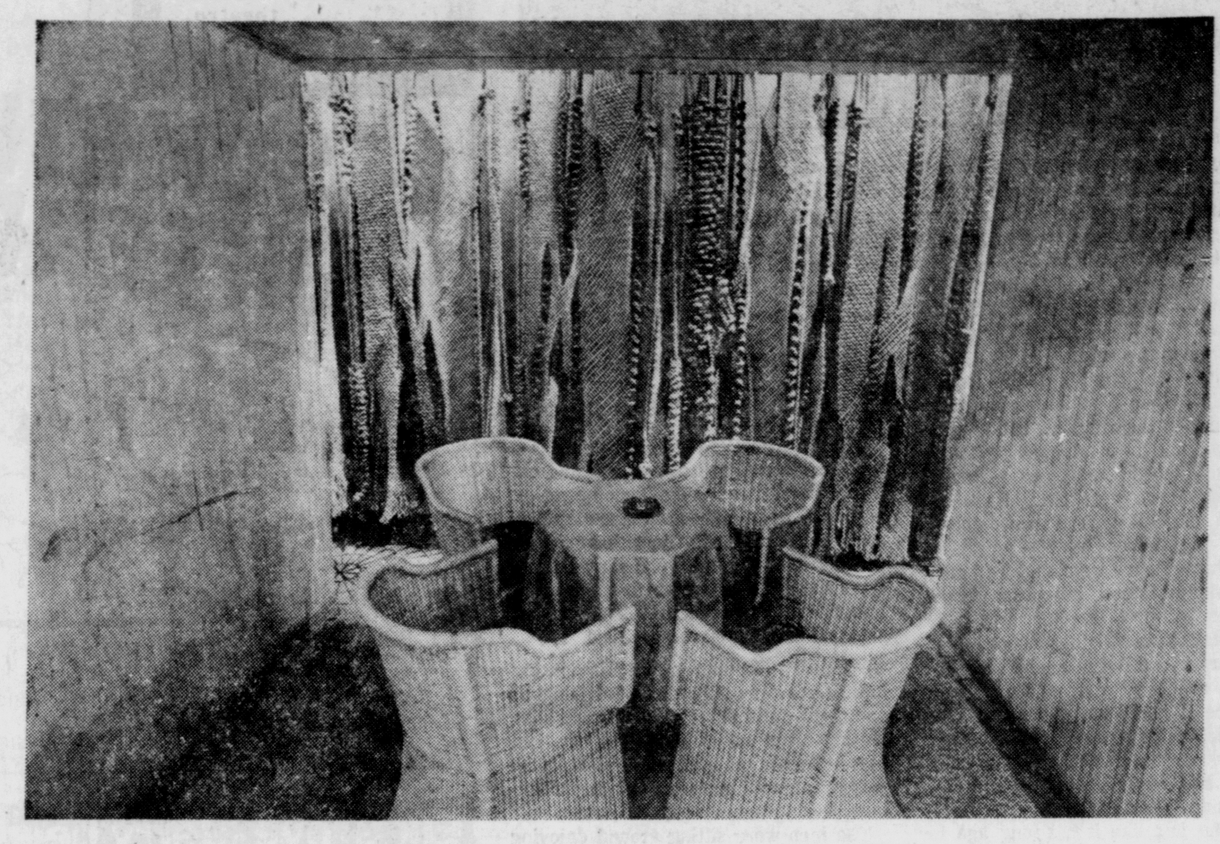
"Foliage Woven Wall" by Olga de Amaral



Macrame textured walls by Francoise Grossen

At Regency O'Hare

Art Enhances Architecture

by GENIE CAMPBELL

The Hyatt Regency O'Hare, located a short bus ride from O'Hare International, is a futuristic comment in architectural design.

Its four rosy-hued silos of one-way coppertone glass that lock into place tiers of stark concrete, identify the giant hotel between cross-sections of expressways.

The same awe inspired by its exterior is compounded inside by the full skylight, 10 stories of balconies all overlooking the main lobby, and 4,000 individually potted ivy plants that hang over each walkway to offer an exotic, tropical mood.

Yet, least of all to be overlooked, is the inclusion of $200,000 worth of original artwork.

Hardly anyone ever misses the five-story hammered copper sculpture that rises from one corner of the lobby. It is the creation of Belgian sculptor Jean-Pierre Ghysels.

IN THE OPPOSITE corner is a 12-story circular mobile consisting of 700 multi-colored Japanese paper kites suspended around a specially designed column of lights. It, too, is obvious.

However, not as outspoken in appearance but every bit as unique and original, are the series of wall hangings that were specifically picked to complete the interior design of the hotel.

A meeting of the minds took place between members of the architectural firm of John Portman & Associates of Atlanta, Ga., builders of the hotel, and Ruth Kaufmann, of the Ruth Kaufmann Gallery in New York City, N.Y. Locations for the work were discussed and individual pieces judged.

The chosen textiles include the work of four gallery artists representing three different countries.

WALL HANGINGS are increasingly being used in hotels and other public buildings and are valued in modern architecture for their tactile as well as visual appeal.

"There was a very strong reason for choosing woven hangings for the interior of the Hyatt Regency O'Hare," said a spokesman for John Portman & Associates who explained further that the massive amount of concrete is masculine and rigid in feeling and to counteract this image, the wall hangings were used as contrasts of softness and femininity.

While most of the wall hangings are galleried pieces, the macrame walls forming a backdrop to the private partitioned nooks that line two walls of the lobby, were commissioned and made by artist Francoise Grossen.

The 22 cubicles, each two and a half feet by seven feet, are made of sisal that is obtained from the leaves of an agave, a plant cultivated throughout the tropics. It is often used in making rope and sacking.

On the lower level of the hotel are two works by Columbian artist Olga de Amaral.

"FOLIAGE WOVEN Wall," hung on one wall directly to the left of the main entrance, is tightly woven out of horsehair and wool in greyed tones of greens.

Olga de Amaral's second piece, suspended from a dowel rod in the center of the lower level, is a woven and wrapped textile again using wool and horsehair but in shades of deep red and grey.

In the entranceway to Hugo's Gourmet Restaurant is one of the most interesting pieces hung in the hotel. The 10-foot high woven sculpture, "Yellow Orange Abakan," was made by Magdalena Abakanowicz, an artist born in Poland and working out of Warsaw.

It is purported to be a modern day adaptation of the door covering once used by primitive tribes in keeping out the elements from their mud dwellings.

Sheila Hicks, an American artist living in Paris, is probably the best known of the artists represented by the woven pieces.

HER THREE works are all located in Hugo's. Two are similar and resemble balls of yarn in orange and purple wrapped, spliced and grafted together.

Across the room is her "Prayer Rug" fashioned in white wool with tassels wrapped in orange, yellow and purple.

Sheila Hicks feels that tapestry is able to carry its own meaning and justification within its threads. It should in no way be considered a mere substitute medium for painting, she believes.

In her work Sheila tries to emphasize the natural qualities of the textiles by contrasting the smooth and rough threads and tightly weaving some areas while leaving other sections unraveled or unbraided.

The future outlook of textiles in interior design is good.

"PEOPLE GETTING back into crafts show a resurgence in the popularity of such forms of art as macrame," said the spokesman for John Portman & Associates.

"Also a continuance in expressing concrete form in architectural design increases the need for such contrasting avenues of art."

Luckily, it rained several days during our vacation at the cottage near Duluth. I say "luckily," because if the sun was shining, we were more or less morally obliged to be down at the beach, either fishing, swimming or just cheering on the water skiers. But on the days it rained, we ladies felt free to investigate the antique digs in the area.

In Duluth we found a fancy looking shop with Tiffany type lamps and cranberry glass in the window. The proprietor, whom we dubbed "Charlie Chuckles," looked us over when we walked in (there were four of us) and informed us, "I don't like women in groups — they never buy."

With that effusive welcome, we hardly dared ask his prices, but after we did, we almost suffered cardiac arrest. He had a marigold carnival glass bowl, identical to my friend Bettie's, which she had bought a couple of years ago for $20. At that price it had been a steal, but top retail price today would be not over $100. Bettie asked, "How much?" Very bored with us all, he mumbled "$850." She gasped and asked "Why so much? I bought one just like it not long ago for $20." "Then why are you asking, if you have one?" he demanded. Charlie Chuckles!

NOT ALL OUR encounters were so unfriendly. Most of the dealers gladly showed us around and gave us the names of other shops. One lady whose business is in her home sold us a few really lovely things for reasonable prices, and we will surely visit her again.

There are few top notch antique shops, as a general rule. Most carry a melange of adolescent fruit jars, insulators and salt and pepper shakers. If they do have a good piece, they overprice it. While I'm on the subject of prices, many people say, "I can't afford real antiques, I only buy junk." I wish they would save the dollars they dole out for junk until they find something with intrinsic value, which will be decorative or of historical interest now, and an investment for the future. A really good piece of china or glassware is bound to rise in price as more collectors compete. Unless you find a "sleeper" — a bargain — at a garage sale or estate disposal, you get pretty much what you pay for.

THE BEST THING to do, I think, is to find an interest area, pursue it and collect just that one thing. Become an expert and write a book. I know several people who have done just that and are making their hobby pay. I may do that some day, if I can ever find that "one thing" I'm interested in. Thus far, my pack rat instincts have prevailed.

One last note on our antiquing in Duluth. After an entire day of driving up and down those San Francisco type hills, putting about 150 miles on the car, getting lost several times and soaked in the steady rain, we arrived back at our cottage, weary, wet, hungry and broke.

The men were sitting around enjoying a fire (it was 45 degrees), entertaining the neighbors and waiting for us to fry the fish. "Look what I bought," my husband gloated, and showed us a beautiful kerosene lamp made of copper and pewter with a hand painted Bristol glass shade. A dear lady in the cottage next door, who has been summering there for 40 years, had sold it to him when he told her we are antique lovers. And he hadn't stirred from his easy chair. Leave it to the men. P.S. The walleye pike was delicious.

The Book Stall

"ALEXANDER OF TUNIS,"
by W. G. F. JACKSON
Dodd, Mead, $12.95

Britain's Gen. Jackson argues that there was a better allied commander in Europe in World War II than Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower — Jackson's candidate is Field Marshal the Earl Alexander of Tunis.

Jackson pictures Alexander as the equal of Eisenhower in running an army of mixed nationalities and superior at military strategy and tactics. Whether or not the reader agrees, the book is a major contribution to the big war's military history.

Alexander not only was overshadowed by Eisenhower but also by his own lieutenant in North Africa, Field Marshal Vicount Montgomery, in the British triumph over Erwin Rommel's German Afrika Korps. "Alex" was a relatively shy man.

He rarely issued orders; instead he made suggestions. He did not swagger; he was as neat and British courteous as his clipped mustache. He was popular with his troops because he had in a quarter century of fighting always led his troops up front.

He was always unflappable in bad times and quiet in victory. Eisenhower ran the big show on the western front. Alexander commanded the allied armies in the Mediterranean and Italy.

The book is not sugared with much whoopla and anecdote. It is for serious students of warfare, but it is simply and well written.

"NO LONGER ON THE MAP,"
by RAYMOND H. RAMSAY
Viking, $10.95

A splendid trip to lands that existed only in the imagination of early explorers but that appeared in the tantalizing outline on ancient charts, ranging from El Dorado or the legendary treasure to Terra Australis Quasi Cognita, the nonexistent great continent of the South Seas.

"A MISSING PERSON,"
by OSCAR MILLER
McKay, $4.95

You'll hate yourself for being entrapped in this scary horror-suspense story about a rapist, his victim, her husband, and an obese, giggling retardate. They're a nasty lot put together in a sexually twisty tale of driving readability.

"THE AIR CAGE,"
by PER WASTBERG
Delacorte, $6.95

Jan, Gertrude and Jenny form a conventional triangle except for one bizarre detail — Gertrude is Jan's sister. Despite incest and intimate descriptions, the book is less pornographic, more a study of emotion and ideals.

"A MEASURE OF UNDERSTANDING,"
BY QUEEN MOTHER FREDERICA OF GREECE
St. Martin's ($10.95)

One of the most controversial women of our times writes of her life with frankness, humor and philosophical resignation. Aside from its historical interest, this is a fascinating study of the growth of a personality.

"WEEP AND KNOW WHY,"
by ELISABETH OGILVIE
McGraw-Hill, $7.95

A nicely put-together Modern Gothic with a heroine who's almost believable, pleasantly eerie goings-on and a nicely evoked portrait of a Maine coast cape during what some consider its best month, September.

"VICKY," by DAPHNE BENNETT
St. Martin's, $10

Queen Victoria's eldest daughter, Empress Frederick of Germany, was in many ways more liberal and less complicated than her mother. This is a carefully etched portrait of Kaiser Wilhelm II's mother.

"WILL THERE REALLY BE A MORNING?"
BY FRANCES FARMER
Putnam ($7.95)

One of Hollywood's most glamorous stars recalls seven years of terror in a state mental hospital and the long road back to a semblance of normalcy. Miss Farmer finished her tale of courage a few days before she died of cancer.

TV Notes

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Liza with a Z" is a one-hour NBC special for Sept. 10 starring Liza Minelli in a display of her various musical comedy talents. She sings various solos and works with a dance company.

You'll hear no raps against football from the announcing clan. CBS employs 21 announcers to cover its National Football League games this fall.

"The Sixth Sense" series that ABC introduced at mid-season as replacement for a cancelled program has been renewed for the coming season with Gary Collins continuing as star.

In a forthcoming "Marcus Welby, M.D." episode on ABC, Margaret O'Brien will be acting with star Robert Young for the first time since 1942 when,aged 5, she was launched as one of the biggest of child stars through appearing with him in the movie, "Journey for Margaret."

Viacom Enterprises has in preparation a half-hour situation comedy series, "Dangerfield's," starring, of course night club comedian and operator Rodney Dangerfield whose humor theme is that he gets no respect from anyone. The series will be in that vein.

One of the items on the 1972-73 "Hallmark Hall of Fame" schedule of dramatic specials for NBC will be an adaptation of a Paul Gallico short story, "The Small Miracle," tale of an Italian orphan boy who relies on St. Francis of Assisi for help when his donkey becomes ill. Playwright John Patrick will write the script, and production will begin late this summer in Rome and Assisi.

Playback

by Tom Von Malder

The album of the summer, for me, has been Seals and Crofts' "Summer Breeze" (Warner Bros. BS 2629). It is truly a welcome breeze.

I first saw the duo about the time their first album was released. At that time (November 1970) they were the warmup act for the group Chicago. I was impressed then and each thing they have done since then has impressed me more.

The first side of this album is pure joy to listen to. You want to listen to it time and time again. The title song features their unique orchestration which blends an electric lead guitar with winds, strings and xylophone. The melody is very mellow. Then there is "East of Ginger Trees" which skillfully utilizes their tinge of Eastern charm and scent (much of which is derived from the Baha'i faith).

EVERY NOW AND THEN Seals and Crofts approach a Simon and Garfunkle harmony sound, which with their other harmonies sounds very nice.

Other standouts on the album are Seals' fiddle playing on "Fiddle in the Sky," "Hummingbird," "Funny Little Man," "Say" and the humorous "Yellow Dirt."

Keep cool for the rest of the summer — listen to Seals and Crofts.

Marc Bolan

With "The Slider" (Reprise MS 2095) we have the latest installment in the Marc Bolan myth. The album features some songs that already have been tremendously successful in England, where Rextasy has reportedly replaced Beatlemania. These are the two No. 1 singles "Metal Guru" and "Telegram Sam."

AS USUAL, Bolan has managed to mix a hodgepodge of sexual references, cosmology and just plain obtuseness that works admirably well. What it comes down to is that you really cannot attempt to explain what he's saying (or his obvious obsession with cars, at least lyrically). You have to accept the total package and enjoy it.

Seems I am getting as obtuse as Bolan. What I mean to say is that I like the album because I like Bolan's style. It is not his best; in fact, it is a definite step down from his last, "Electric Warrior." But you still find yourself singing along, even if it might be to meaningless words. At least Bolan picks words that sound nice the way he uses them.

Listen to "Chariot Choogle" and "Buick Mackane." These are somewhat different; it's just that he hasn't gone far enough this time.

"Circles" (Elektra EKS-75034) is the latest from the New Seekers. It is nothing new, just more of the same sweetness, lightweight rock and overpowering harmonies.

BUT FOR THE MOST part, as always, it works and you have a very listenable album. The best song is Paul Williams' "Just an Old Fashioned Love Song." Other good cuts are their English hit "Beg, Steal or Borrow," "Circles" and "Jean's Little Street Cafe." They also do songs by Neil Young and Cat Stevens and two written by group members.

Most probably you'll be hearing a lot about Lori Lieberman over the next few years.

The 20-year-old has only been singing for about a year, but her real powerful voice should become a fixture on radio and television. Her first album is "Lori Lieberman" (Capitol ST-11081) and it contains a bevy of sad songs and delicate strings.

The songs are O.K. on the whole (written by producers Charles Fox and Norman Gimbel except for one by Lori), but it is her ability to go from loud and overpowering to soft within a bar of music that sets Lori apart. Then, the song "Back to Before" has potential as a single. Highly enjoyable also are "There's a Harbor" and "And the Feeling's Good."

Entr'acte

Various arts and crafts will be shown by 120 artists at the second annual Home Center Arts and Crafts Festival Saturday and Sunday in Downers Grove. Seventeen artists from the northwest suburban area are participating.

Goldblatt Brothers is supplying the space for the exhibitors to show their works at the Home Center located just north of the Highland Avenue exit on the East-West Tollway, 1213 Butterfield Road.

The arts and crafts festival is open to the public at no admission charge from noon to dusk both days.

Two Arlington Heights artists were the recipients of awards at the third South Milwaukee Art and Craft Fair held this month.

Joy Anderson won a first place ribbon in the photography and graphics category and Kenn Howard of Des Plaines won an honorable mention in crafts for wood working.

The art and craft entries of the 100 exhibitors were judged by Dr. William Smith, chairman of the art department at University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee.

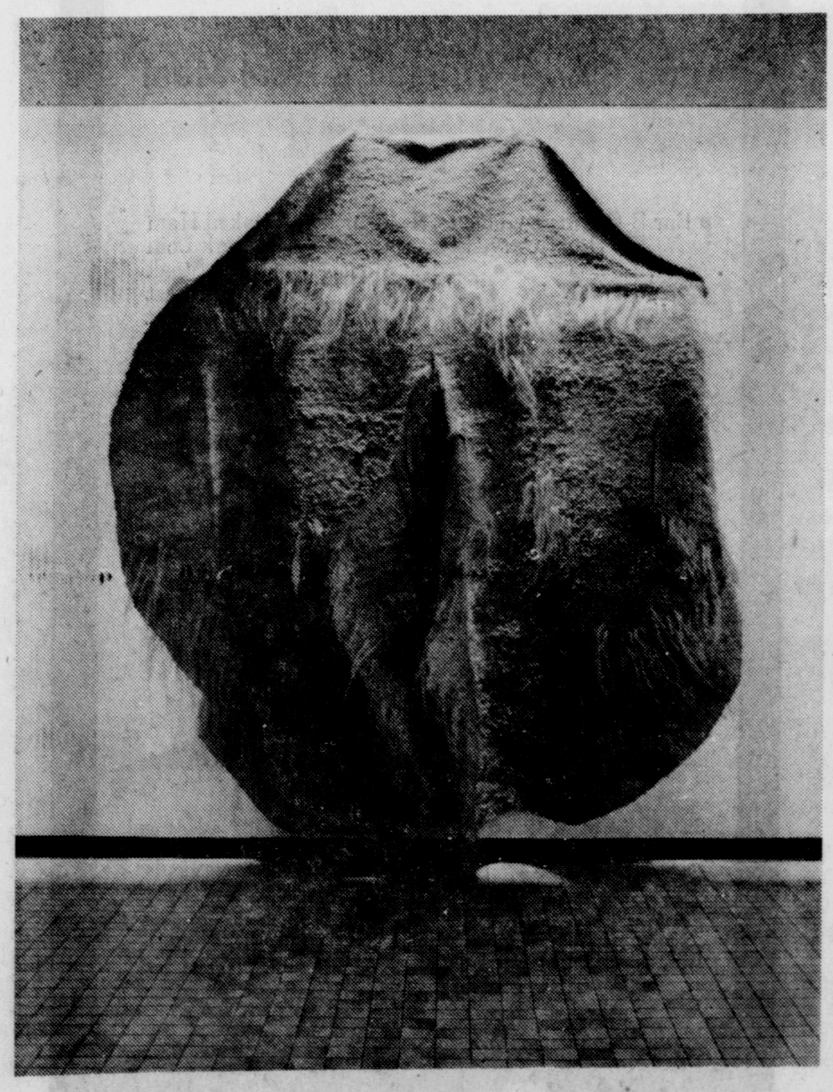
Three area artists are currently exhibiting their paintings in the lobby of Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge. They are Beverly Galandak of Arlington Heights, Sallie Gracey of Park Ridge and Adele Haske of Prospect Heights.



HANGING IN THE entranceway to Hugo's Gourmet Restaurant of the Hyatt Regency O'Hare is Magdalene Abakanowicz's textile sculpture, "Yellow-orange Abakan." Ten feet high, it resembles a door covering once used by primitive tribes in guarding against the weather and is one of numerous art works throughout the hotel.

A Paddock Review

'David And Lisa' Stirs Audience

by PAT ADAM

"David and Lisa," the summer offering of Schaumburg Festival Theatre, might well be termed the children's hour — or more accurately, the young people's hour — for young people dominate the cast and two teen-agers are the stars.

The production is an excellent one, despite the annoyance of constantly shifting scenes. Those managing the stage and the lighting are masters as the opening night performance appeared to go off without a hitch, and just getting everyone on and off stage required alert and constant attention.

Cecily Atcher as Lisa and Bill Eggbeer as David certainly do justice to the lead characters, both students in a school for emotionally disturbed children. The tale of how the schizophrenic Lisa and the hostile, people-alienated David help each other to relate is a touching one.

Lisa will speak only in rhymes when she is one personality and communicates only by writing when she is her other self. While one of the school staff has reached her silent personality, it is David who evokes response from the rhyming Lisa.

DAVID, ON THE other hand, extremely intelligent but distrustful of people, prefers to tinker with clocks than mingle with human beings, but the pathetic yet attractive Lisa gets to him. His own hangup is a fear of death that manifests itself in his refusal to let anyone touch him.

Dick Harris has the other major role, that of the school's director, Dr. Alan Swinford. Because of his patience and understanding, David finally is able to form a productive relationship with Dr. Swinford in contrast to the hostile one that he has with his parents. Harris interpretation is a steady, unflappable yet persistent adult, who fails to lose his cool when David lashes out or makes outrageous accusations.

Sonja Leraas plays the self-centered mother of David who, unhappy with her choice of husband, shifts her attention to David and nearly smothers him. David's father is enacted by Bob O'Connor, who makes his stage debut in this part. He needs more experience. Though Bob knows his lines, he fails to convey real feeling.

MOST OF THE REST of the cast enact the school staff and other students. They include Barbara Ashby as Maureen, Colette Dooley as Barbara, Ron Isaacson as John and Mike Reimann as Ben, all counselors at the school. Students are played by Tom Citrano, Jon Dahl, Karen Flaxman, Anne Harris, Bill Langbauer and Nancy Swiatek.

Dan Carrigan and Glenn Markgraf portray two youths who accost Lisa in the park, an incident that compels David to forget his fear of death and reach out to touch and comfort Lisa. Glenn also plays the porter at the train station.

Robert Duresa is the little girl with whom Lisa tries to play in the park and Bev Markward plays the child's mother.

As adapted for stage, "David and Lisa" is chopped up into short scenes that do not lend themselves to dramatic confrontations or plot development, yet somehow the play manages to create enough interest to hold an audience's attention.

MAJOR CREDIT must go to Cecily and Bill for developing sufficient sympathy for the characters of Lisa and David that even the innumerable scene shifts cannot distract the audience. Credit also is due adept stage management and the direction of Raoul Johnson which keep the play from losing its momentum.

Nevertheless, "David and Lisa" loses something in the transfer from screen to stage.

Sonja Leraas has created an outstanding set that cannot be fully appreciated because of the drawbacks of the Great Hall. Fortunately, Festival Theatre will be giving some of its future productions in the new theater at the Schaumburg Library. But for those still scheduled in the one-time barn, the group would be well advised to consider risers for elevating the back rows. Besides giving theater patrons a better view of the stage, it would end the sore necks that result from stretching to see the action on stage.

Performances are scheduled tomorrow, 8:30 p.m., and Sunday, 7:30 p.m.

MOS To Stage 'Fiddler' In Rolling Meadows High

TED WEISS HAS the lead role in MOS's fall musical, "Fiddler on the Roof." He plays Tevye, the poor dairyman.

"Fiddler on the Roof," the musical about the poor dairyman Tevye, his scolding wife and his five daughters who reside in the now fabled village of Anatevka, will be staged at Rolling Meadows High School for four performances by Music on Stage Production dates are Sept. 29 and 30; Oct. 6 and 7.

Ted Weiss of Elk Grove Village will head up the cast of 55 as Tevye, the milkman who addresses God respoectfully but urgenly whenever he thinks the Lord's blessings are getting too hard to bear.

Joseph Stein wrote "Fiddler on the Roof." He based the musical on a series of stories by the man who called himself Sholom Aleichem. The stories, written in Yiddish from 1890 to 1916, told about the life and times of villagers in Czarist Russia at the turn of the century.

The MOS production is being directed by Tom Ventriss of Arlington Heights with choreography by Beth Vandenboom of Wheeling. Bill Cotsakis of Palatine is directing the chorus numbers and orchestra.

The life style of the Jewish villagers, of Czarist Russia in the early 1900s is being brought to life at Rolling Meadows High School with settings by Carl Erickson of Mount Prospect and costumes by Mary Miller of Arlington Heights.

Tickets are currently available through Anne Blakeman, 259-4179.

Make Final Plans For Art Fair

Members of Des Plaines Art Guild will make final plans for their 17th annual art fair when they meet Monday, 8 p.m., in St. Martin's Episcopal Church located at 1069 Thacker in Des Plaines.

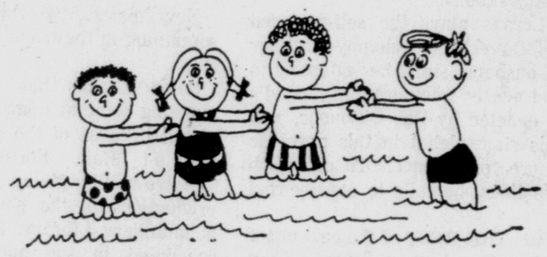
PEBBLE TAG

Here's a game that's fun to play in the water. The player who's "it" stands facing the line of other players. They each form a "cup" with their hands, palms together. "It" goes down the line pretending to drop a pebble in their hands.

The player who really gets the pebble quickly swims toward the shore or pool edge. The other players swim after him. Whoever catches him before he reaches the goal becomes "it" for the next round.



DES PLAINES THEATRE Guild opens its 27th consecutive season Sept. 8 with "Guys And Dolls." Rehearsing a scene are Steve Fifield of Chicago, Danny Kreisman of Skokie and Jim Esposito of Mount Prospect. The musical will run four consecutive weekends through Sept. 30. Tickets, 296-1211 (noon to 8 pm.).

'Duchess Of Malfi' Opens Schaumburg Library Theater

Schaumburg Township Public Library will initiate its cultural program and the opening of its new theater with the staging of "Duchess of Malfi."

Opening Sept. 14, "Duchess" will also have performances Sept. 15, 16, 22 and 23.

The recently completed in-the-round which will seat 160 and is located at 20 W. Library Lane, features remote control lighting and a built-in sound system. A nine-row track of theater lights surrounds the stage area.

Joseph McAuliffe, library trustee, will direct the "Duchess of Malfi" being sponsored by the Friends of the Schaumburg Township Public Library. Assisting him will be Iris Tompkins. Costumes are being designed by Ruth McAuliffe.

"For Americans who have welcomed and enjoyed television depictions of the time and lives of Henry the Eighth, this bawdy yet tragic glimpse of yet another member of the Elizabethean aristocracy should prove entertaining," said McAuliffe.

Tickets are now available through 529-1732.

Concert Memberships In Mail

Membership cards for the concert season sponsored by Arlington Heights Community Concert Association are currently in the mail.

Subscribers to the 1972-73 season who do not receive their cards by Sept. 10 should notify Mrs. Frank Palmatier, first vice president of the Association.

The 25th season will get underway with the Preservation Hall Jazz Band in concert Oct. 3. In addition, the series will include the Obernkirchen Children's Choir Nov. 27; Yehuda Hanani, cellist, Jan. 14; Music from Marlboro, Feb. 18; and Leonard Pennario, pianist, March 6.

All performances will be staged in the auditorium of Sacred Heart of Mary High School, 2800 W. Central Road in Rolling Meadows.

Concerts are only open to members who subscribed to the series last spring.

Registration Open For Writer's Workshop

The Off-Campus Writer's Workshop will begin its fall sessions Sept. 7, 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., at the Winnetka Community House, 620 Lincoln Ave.

Dr. Allan Bates, author, playwright and teacher of literature and drama at Northeastern Illinois University, will conduct the first six sessions. This is his sixth year with the group.

The workshop is open to any woman interested in writing.

Further information concerning registration is available through Mrs. David Turow, 920 Pine Tree Lane, Winnetka, 446-8233, or Mrs. Ray Howard, 851 Warrington Road, Deerfield, 945-6351.

The comedy is at Country Club Theatre through Oct. 1.

Night Out

Puelo's Harmonica Gang Not So Funny Anymore

by GENIE CAMPBELL

I remember seeing JOHNNY PULEO AND HIS HARMONICA GANG run through their antics on the Ed Sullivan show. And I remember them being a lot funnier than they were opening night in the BLUE MAX of the HYATT REGENCY O'HARE.

The act is still unique. How many times does one have the opportunity of hearing live harmonica players?

The six, who include "JO JO" DIFULVIO, DAVE DOUCETTE, MICHAEL TEDESCHI, DON POWELL and CARL FORD in addition to Johnny, run through an impressive repertoire of songs that include "Love Story," "Snow Bird" and several tango and polka medleys. And of course, midget-sized Johnny is still running around being abused by the other members of the gang.

But after the first couple of numbers, it's not so funny anymore. It's old hat. It's an act that has been so rehearsed and overdone, the fizz has all but evaporated. Johnny Puleo and His Harmonica Gang represent yesterday's humor trying to find a niche in today's comedy scheme. It can't be done without altering the ingredients.

On stage before Johnny Puleo is singer ALMA BALIE. Perhaps on record Alma would be O.K. Then only her voice would matter. On stage she lacks both vitality and charisma. Is she even aware that she is singing to an audience? It doesn't seem so.

The two acts will be appearing together at the Blue Max through Sept. 2.

PAUL PRESTON, an actor residing in Arlington Heights, is making his second professional stage appearance with CESAR ROMERO in "MR. BARRY'S ETCHINGS" that opened this week at DRURY LANE THEATRE.

Also opening this week at Barat College, was the third and final production of the 1972 Academy Playhouse season, Michael Weller's comedy "MOONCHILDREN."

Rooted in the mid-1960s, the play registers the temperature of its time. The Beatles were blooming and peace marches were in vogue. "Moonchildren" expresses the attitudes and apprehensions of the college student of that time. There is an undercurrent of tension as seven seniors who share an apartment face the transition from the protective campus years to that of the rest of their lives. Weller has based the play upon his personal experiences in his final year at Brandeis in Waltham, Mass.

Paul Preston

Tomorrow, from noon until 5 o'clock, BJ of WFLD-TV's BJ AND THE DIRTY DRAGON SHOW, assisted by all the other Cartoon Town characters, will host a "CARNIVAL AGAINST DYSTROPHY" at the TurnStyle Family Center in Woodfield Commons Shopping Center, Golf and Meacham roads.

All proceeds from this carnival will go to research the cause and cure for muscular dystrophy as well as aid MDAA's patient care program.

NANCY WILSON will appear in concert with jazz giant COUNT BASIE at the MILL RUN THEATER. The two open this Tuesday for a six-day engagement. Nancy Wilson is replacing Ella Fitzgerald, who had to cancel her Mill Run appearance because of eye trouble.

Tonight and tomorrow evening JACKIE DE SHANNON and DAVID STEINBERG are at the theater-in-the round in Niles.

High School Sweethearts Married

A high school romance that started in a sophomore English class at Forest View High School culminated in marriage July 29 for Gail Ann Schneider and George Bauer of Mount Prospect.

They will make their home in New Orleans where the bridegroom attends Tulane University on a football scholarship. Both graduated from Forest View in '71, and Gail then studied for a year at the University of Illinois Circle Campus.

For the wedding in St. Raymond's Catholic Church, the bride wore her sister's wedding ensemble of just a year ago. It is designed in chiffon over satin and embroidered with tiny white beads and lace. The dress has a stand-up collar and long puffed sleeves.

THE BRIDE also wore her sister's veil, which was shoulder-length and attached to a ribbon crown. She carried a cascade of yellow Sweetheart roses, miniature white carnations and baby's breath.

Gail is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Schneider, 812 S. Emerson St. George's parents are the George W. Bauers of 814 S. Owen.

The couple each had four attendants for the 10 a.m. Nuptial Mass. Karen Young of Rolling Meadows was maid of honor, and James Karras of LaGrange, the groom's cousin, was best man.

There were three bridesmaids: Diane Hauptmann of Chicago, Donna Yoder, Schaumburg, and Lorraine Sadrakula, Mount Prospect.

THEY AND the maid of honor were gowned alike in flocked cotton that was printed in white and aqua stripes with yellow daisies between. The girls made their own dresses, styled with Empire bodice and a ruffled hem.

They also wore white straw wide-brimmed hats and carried nosegays of white miniature carnations, cornflowers, bachelor buttons and blue daisies, tied with white streamers.

Casey Rush of Orinda, Calif.; Mike Korf of Mount Prospect, the groom's college roommate; and Ralph Schneider of Deer Park, Ohio, cousin of the bride, seated the wedding guests.

After the double ring ceremony the bride's parents hosted a brunch reception at Old Orchard Country Club for 80 guests.

The newlyweds planned a week's honeymoon driving down to New Orleans to their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer

A Red And White Wedding Theme

Everything was red and white for the Aug. 12 wedding of Pamela Lee Miresse and Paul Clarke Douglas of Arlington Heights. The pews were marked with red and white daisy bouquets, the bride and her attendants carried the two colors in their bouquets and the girls wore red and white dresses for the afternoon service.

Pamela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Miresse, 1414 W. Grove, chose an ivory organza Empire gown with a high-necked bodice and long sleeves of Alencon lace. Her cathedral-length mantilla veil, edged with Alencon lace, has been in the Douglas family for some time.

The bride carried a nosegay of red and white roses, daisies and baby's breath. She had a sixpence in her shoe which had been brought back from England by the groom's father.

PAUL IS THE son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Thomas Douglas III of 407 S. Beverly.

He and his bride exchanged vows and rings at 4:30 p.m. in St. Simon Episcopal Church, Arlington.

Pamela's attendants wore floor-length polyester gowns printed in red and white, with lace at the neck and edging the flounce at the hem.. They carried nosegays of red roses, white daisies and baby's breath.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Douglas

Susan Koch of Arlington was the maid of honor; Nancy Douglas, the groom's sister, and Susan Carr, Glenridge, N. J., were bridesmaids.

THE COUPLE'S brothers served as Paul's attendants, Scott Douglas as best man and Dennis Miresse and Chip Douglas as ushers.

Two hundred guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception and dinner at Heuer's Restaurant in Rosemont after the wedding. The bride and groom then left for a week in Jamaica.

They are living in an Arlington Heights apartment.

Both are graduates of Arlington High School, Pam in '69 and Paul in '68. She attended Western Illinois University and graduated from Triton College this past June.

Paul graduated in June from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H., and is working for Industrial Bio Test Laboratories in Northbrook. He was a member of Zeta Psi Fraternity at Dartmouth.

Jennifer, 4, is the sister of the baby, and the Ray Mahlers and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Giles, all of Arlington Heights, are the grandparents. Mrs. Ella Distad, Arlington Heights, is one of the children's great-grandparents.

John Baker Sprague, weighing 8 pounds 2½ ounces, was born Aug. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sprague, 1128 Greenbrier Court, Arlington Heights. The baby is a brother for Jennifer, 5, and Laura, 3. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Sprague, Boca Raton, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Baker, Newton, Iowa, are the grandparents of the children.

Michael Andrew Nuzzi was an Aug. 19 arrival for Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nuzzi, 1459 N. King George Court, Palatine. Sisters of the 8 pound 2 ounce baby are Jeannine, 11, Andrea, 9, and Dina, 6. Mrs. Mary Ruggiero, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Nuzzi, Brooklyn, N. Y., are the grandparents.

Sean Michael Pedersen is a new grandson for the Lewis Greens and the John Pedersens, all of Arlington Heights. The baby, son of the Kenneth Pedersens of Deerfield, was born Aug. 16 weighing 6 pounds 2½ ounces. Mrs. Alyce D. Gaynor, Prospect Heights, and E. O. Westerlund, Arlington Heights, are the great-grandparents of Sean, his brother, Kenny, 6, and sister, Kimberly, 7.

Kristin Elizabeth Nelson is the new resident at 1605 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights. She was born Aug. 20, a 7 pound 11 ounce daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Kent A. Nelson. Kent Jr., 17 months, is the couple's older child. Grandparents of the children are the A. S. Nelsons of Arlington Heights and the H. W. Bohstedts, Prospect Heights.

OTHER HOSPITALS

Steven Paul Hernandez arrived Aug. 17 on his great-grandmother's 71st birthday. She is Mrs. Harry Weaver of Des Plaines. The baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hernandez, Lincolnwood, is a grandson for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hernandez, Wheeling, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnes, Portage, Ind. The 7 pound 1 ounce baby is the first child for his parents and also a great-grandson for Mr. Weaver. Steven was born in St. Francis Hospital.

Lari Shaver's Four Sisters Are Her Bridal Attendants

The bride's four sisters were her attendants when Lari Jo Shaver of Arlington Heights exchanged vows with David Charles Hoffman of Cassopolis, Mich. Teri was her maid of honor, Traci was bridesmaid, Judi the junior bridesmaid, and Stephani, 5, flower girl.

The Aug. 19 wedding took place in Chapel Hill Church at Union, Mich., at two in the afternoon. A reception followed at Baldwin-Prairie School in Union.

For both the wedding and the reception, the Town Criers ensemble at Forest View High School sang to the couple. Lari was a member of the group until her graduation this past June.

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shaver, 1526 S. Fernandez Ave., Arlington Heights. Mrs.Shaver made the bride's and her four attendants' gowns prior to the wedding day. Lari's was made of lace over satin with a cowl neckline and Empire waist accented with a flat bow. The gown had long puffed sleeves of organza with cuffs of lace and satin.

The bride complemented her gown with a Juliet cap of matching lace and satin and a tiered veil edged with lace. The tiers extended to both fingertip and cathedral length.

Lari carried two long-stemmed white roses which she presented to her mother and the groom's mother after the service.

Her attendants' gowns were designed in pale pink nylon over hot pink taffeta with short puffed sleeves, Empire waist and a wide ruffle at the hemline. The girls wore peasant scarves of the same fabric over their hair, and each carried two pink roses, except for the flower girl who carried rose petals in a basket.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoffman of Cassopolis, chose William Steele of Jones, Mich., as best man. The bride's cousin, Douglas Kiser of Elkhart, Ind., and Paul Holdeman Jr., the groom's nephew of Union, were ushers.

There was also a ring bearer in the procession, 10-year-old Gilbert Kuspa of South Bend, Ind. He is a cousin of the bride.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Florida for two weeks before settling in a new home on Shavehead Lake at Cassopolis. David works nearby at Elkhart, Ind., as an electrician for Globestar. He is a veteran of military service and spent two years in Vietnam.

For the do-it-yourself painter, a moderately priced spray outfit designed expressly for use around the home. The gun, eight-foot hose, and cord store in a high-impact plastic compressor housing. An ingenious viscosimeter makes it easy to thin paint to just the right consistency. Just dip it into paint, time it as it runs through the hole in the bottom, and thin accordingly.

Another Tool Discovered In Heart Disease Fight

by DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — A mathematical equation has been found capable of measuring the probability of any given healthy, middle-aged male being stricken with coronary heart disease within five years.

Probability exists for all such males. Differences among them are in degrees of probability. A reliable method of separating high probability from low would be useful in preventive medicine.

Dr. Ancel Keys of the University of Minnesota, who has a big name in heart disease research, and 10 scientific collaborators had a solid base for the equation — 11,132 men between 40 and 59 years old.

When first examined all had been free of coronary heart disease. Precise measurements were made of their systolic blood pressure, blood cholesterol levels, smoking habits and body mass index — height related to weight.

THESE, PLUS AGE, were the established differences or variables among the 11,132 men. The variables were divided into tenths between high and low degrees and each tenth was assigned a mathematical value that could be included in the equation.

Five years after entry into the study, 615 of the men were no longer free of heart disease and of these 214 either had died from or had survived major attacks. Predictions drawn from the equation were "highly correlated" with these actual outcomes.

Of the 11,132 men, 8,728 were European and 2,404 were American. When based only on the European experience, the equation's predictive power remained high for the American, and vice versa. This showed that ethnic, cultural and lingual differences were not operating.

IN FURTHER refining their mathematics for publication by the American Heart Association in its journal, "Circulation," Keys and his collaborators found that age, systolic blood pressure and blood cholesterol were "universally powerful predictors of risk" of heart disease. They were less certain about cigarette smoking although they did not diminish its importance as a causative factor. But they did diminish the importance of body weight.

"The conclusion seems inescapable that the incidence of coronary heart disease is strongly influenced by one or more variables unrelated to any considered in these studies," they said. For the question of what these variables might be, their mathematics provided an answer.

BUT THE EQUATION will identify both the men with a much higher than average chance of dying of heart disease within five years and "the men who are most unlikely to become victims" in that time. They offered it as "a tool" for practicing physicians and other health counsellors.

It could "give guidance and perhaps persuasion about possible preventive measures as well as indicating a review of the patient's insurance policies," they said.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER Carolyn Thoresdale, left, joins Mrs. William Willy, president of the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital, and Mrs. Richard Cruz, chairman, health, careers and scholarships, to view expanded facilities in the hospital's operating room complex. Carolyn, who will study at Harper to become an operating room technician, received a $20 scholarship from the Auxiliary. A '71 graduate of Sacred Heart High School, and a Candy Striper at the hospital, Carolyn is the daughter of the John Thoresdales, Rolling Meadows.

AAUW Is Seeking Used Books

A second call for used or unwanted books, sheet music and records has been issued by the Arlington Heights Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The branch will hold its 10th annual used book sale Oct. 27-29 in the Schaumburg Room at Woodfield Mall. Last year several tons of books were collected from area residents and sold at the fall event, proceeds of which benefit the AAUW Educational Fund, specifically the International Fellowship program. This program provides grants for women to finance their education at the doctoral and post-doctoral levels.

Members of the branch will pick up and any type of book is acceptable, according to Mrs. P. I. Schira, Palatine, chairman of the sale. In addition to fiction and non-fiction, both hard cover and paper back, the sale will include categories for foreign language books, text books, science, math, teacher guides, encyclopedias, religious, social studies, do-it-yourself types, early editions and children's books, as well as sheet music and records.

Anyone with books to contribute may have them picked up by cont[illegible] Mrs. Schira, 359-7691; Mrs. D. A[illegible], 255-3715; or Mrs. K. M. Parker, 392-9010.

Julie Plays Mary

NEW YORK (UPI) — Julie Harris has signed for a new play, "The Last of Mrs. Lincoln," which is scheduled to open on Broadway next Jan. 11 after a 14-week tour beginning in Cleveland Sept. 30.

The play, by James Prideaux, deals with Mary Todd Lincoln's mental decline in the years following President Lincoln's assassination.

'Inside Reich' Movie

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Paramount Pictures will convert Albert Spear's account of Hitler's Germany, "Inside the Third Reich," into a motion picture with David Putnam producing.

Summertime Newlyweds Plan A Winter Cruise

A belated honeymoon — a Caribbean cruise — is planned for later in the year by newlyweds Mary Elaine Frank and Michael Paul Dobrasko. Married Aug. 12 the couple will be residing in West Lafayette, Ind., where Michael is a teaching assistant at Purdue University.

Michael received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Texas at Austin and is now working toward his doctorate in chemistry at Purdue. His bride received both her bachelor of science and master's degrees in special education from the University of Texas at Austin.

Mary Elaine is the daughter of Mrs. Edmund Paul Frank of Austin and the late Rev. Frank, and Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dobrasko, 1605 W. Hawthorne, Arlington Heights. The 8 o'clock, candlelight wedding took place in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Austin, with a reception for 150 guests following in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Austin.

Mrs. Michael P. Dobrasko

Five attendants, plus a flower girl and ring bearer, preceded Mary Elaine down the aisle for the double ring service. All were in peppermint green voile, floor-length gowns with white stenciled lace on the long-full sleeves and on the gathered skirts. They carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

THE BRIDE'S sister, Charlotte Ann Frank, Austin, was maid of honor, and her sisters, Mrs. Cecil McCullough, Mrs. Cecil Manuel and Miss Janet Frank, and a friend, Miss Carolyn Richter, all of Austin, were bridesmaids. Gretchen Rathgeber, 10, Austin, was flower girl wearing a green and white dotted swiss gown with green sash, and she carried a white basket with mixed flowers. Dan Alexander, 8, Austin, was the ringbearer.

Mary Elaine chose a gown of peau de soie combined with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The column skirt fell to formal length and ended in a chapel train. Her elbow-length tulle veil fell from a crown of fabric petals dotted with beads, and she carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

The groom's father was best man, and groomsmen were the groom's cousin, Richard Blume, Syracuse, N.Y., Robby Kallind, Brookfield, Conn., and the bride's brothers, Edmund Jr., Austin, and John R. Frank, Faribault, Minn. Her brothers-in-law, Mr. Manuel and Mr. McCullough, were ushers.

Have Calluses? Lots Of Folks Do

BOSTON (UPI) — A government survey reports that corns and calluses are the second most prevalent chronic condition of the body's muscular-skeletal system.

Podiatrists attending the 60th annual meeting recently of the American Podiatry Association also learned that impairments of the hips and lower extremeties rank in third place, behind arthritis and corns and calluses. The findings were issued by the statistical division of the Health Education and Welfare Department. It said approximately eight million persons are afflicted with the corn-callus problem.

IT'S REHEARSAL TIME for Beth Tikvah Sisterhood of Hoffman Estates. The women will be presenting "The Sisterhood Mikado," a typical board meeting set to music, Wednesday evening at a tea for prospective members. Mrs. Ronald Simon is pianist; Mrs. Saul Cohn and Mrs. Richard Bryant, among the singers.

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: Several crocheted rag rugs no longer lay straight. They were fine when new, but since washing them a few times they've become a hazard to walk on. Is there anything I can spray on them to make them lay flat? — Tessie Actkinson.

Spread a heavy coat of starch on the back of these rugs. It will not only give them body but make them stay flat. There are several commercial rug sprays, too, to keep them from slipping.

Dear Dorothy: Helping me in the kitchen recently, my mother said that eggs after they've been cracked seem smaller than they were in "her day." Why should this be? — Donna Allard.

Because of the freshness of today's eggs. Eggs have a large amount of thick white. As they age, the amount of white becomes thinner, causing the eggs to spread out and cover more area, thus making them larger.

Dear Dorothy: My husband must eliminate wheat from his diet so I can't use my usual ways of fixing summer (crookneck) squash with buttered crumbs. Would you have a simple way to make squash palatable without the usual extras? He does like onions. — Diane I.

Have that problem with the professor, too — no wheat. Brown some minced onion, then put it aside. Slice the squash (with peeling left on) and put on to boil in very little salted water. It's done in about 7 minutes; then add the browned onions.

Dear Dorothy: What does one do to copper guttering to preserve it? — Joyce Mann.

Nothing. It builds its own protection by forming a type of oxidation.

(Mrs. Ritz welcomes questions and hints. If a personal reply is required, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write to her in care of Suburban Living, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.)

Sisterhood To Give Version Of 'Mikado' At Evening Tea

Prospective members of Beth Tikvah Sisterhood will be honored at a tea next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Beth Tikvah Temple, 275 Hillcrest Blvd., Hoffman Estates.

Members of the Sisterhood, their friends, and any women interested in finding out more about the organization are invited.

The evening's highlight will be the presentation of "The Sisterhood Mikado," a typical board meeting set to the music of Gilbert and Sullivan. It will be performed by the Sisterhood board members and assistants.

THE PRIMARY function of the Sisterhood is fund-raising for the Temple. However, it also offers members cultural, communal and spiritual activities. There are adult education groups, a book club, social action group, bowling leagues, bridge and Mah Jong tourneys, and this year a needlework circle.

Wednesday evening's tea is being planned by Mrs. Martin Hollander and Mrs. Emanuel Scherer, both of Hoffman Estates, and Mrs. Richard Bryant, Arlington Heights, who comprise the membership committee.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Hollander, 885-8606, or Mrs. Bryant, 593-5315.

Last year, all John Benson saved was $54.32.

This year, he joined the Payroll Savings Plan.

Poor John. Money just seemed to slip right through his fingers. Every time he planned to stash something away, there wasn't anything left.

Then John decided to join the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. Now, an amount he specifies is automatically set aside from his check before he gets it. And invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because John has become such a systematic saver, he's almost forgotten about it. When he gets around to remembering, he's going to have quite a nest egg laid away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

If you keep forgetting to save something out of your check, join the Payroll Savings Plan and let somebody else do the remembering for you.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

COMBINE NEWSPAPER WORK ADVERTISING AND TELEPHONE SELLING and you have the ingredients for a fascinating, rewarding job. We have an opening in our Classified Advertising Department for an intelligent, enthusiastic woman to begin training for this permanent, full-time position with a secure future.

You'll be working for an advertising Manager and a company who really cares about people. It could be the most rewarding and enjoyable position you've ever had. Sound interesting? You bet it is!

Ability to type and spell correctly, any previous experience in sales, public contact or phone work helpful but not necessary. A pleasant outgoing personality, a little determination and a good telephone voice is what it takes. We'll train you to do the rest. This is not a commission type job but added incentives mean you can easily make more than the set wages. Your extra earnings will largely depend on how well you personally perform. Many liberal company benefits.

Come in between 9 a.m. and 12 noon and fill out an application. Ask for Larry Bell, Classified Advertising Manager, or call 394-2400.

Ordinance No. 291

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING AND PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUE OF $35,000 INDOOR TENNIS COURT REVENUE BONDS, SECOND SERIES OF 1972, OF THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PARK DISTRICT, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS, FOR THE PURPOSE OF DEFRAYING THE COST OF COMPLETING THE CONSTRUCTION OF INDOOR TENNIS COURTS IN SAID PARK DISTRICT, PRESCRIBING ALL THE DETAILS OF SAID BONDS, AND PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION, SEGREGATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF THE REVENUE DERIVED FROM THE OPERATION OF THE INDOOR TENNIS COURTS OF SAID PARK DISTRICT FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING MAINTENANCE AND OPERATION COSTS, PROVIDING AN ADEQUATE DEPRECIATION FUND, AND PAYING THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF SAID INDOOR TENNIS COURT REVENUE BONDS.

* * * *

WHEREAS, Arlington Heights Park District, Cook County, Illinois, has heretofore been duly organized and is now operating under the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois known as "The Park District Code," approved July 8, 1947, as amended by Act approved May 17, 1951, and all laws amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Park Commissioners of the Arlington Heights Park District, Cook County, Illinois, did heretofore on June 26, 1972, adopt an ordinance authorizing and providing for the issue of $700,000 Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds of said Park District for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing indoor tennis courts and facilities in and for said Park District in accordance with the plans and specifications and estimate of cost therefor previously approved by said Board of Park Commissioners, which said ordinance is now in full force and effect; and

WHEREAS, the work for which such bonds were authorized and issued is now in the process of construction and due to the increased costs of construction, sufficient funds are not now available to complete the construction of said indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District in accordance with said plans and specifications therefor hereinabove referred to; and

WHEREAS, by the terms of said ordinance adopted on June 26, 1972, authorizing the issuance of the Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds of said Park District, in the aggregate amount of $700,000, hereinabove referred to, it was provided that additional Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds of said Park District could be issued to share ratably and equally in the revenues derived from the operation of said indoor tennis courts and facilities with the Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds, authorized to be issued under the terms of said ordinance above referred to, for the purpose of completing the construction of the indoor tennis courts and facilities provided for by said ordinance and in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor, in the event that the proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds authorized to be issued under the terms of said ordinance adopted on June 26, 1972, were not sufficient to pay the cost of completing said indoor tennis courts and facilities; and

WHEREAS, the architect employed by the Park District for that purpose have presented to the Board of Park Commissioners a certificate showing the total amount of work completed to the date of the adoption of this ordinance, the total cost of such work so completed, the total amount of work remaining to be completed in accordance with said detailed plans and specifications therefor heretofore approved by the Board of Park Commissioners and the estimated cost of the completion of such work remaining to be completed, which estimated cost of the completion of said indoor tennis courts and facilities in accordance with said plans and specifications has heretofore and is now determined to be the sum of $35,000 which said certificate has been approved by the Board of Park Commissioners; and

WHEREAS, in order to raise the funds required to complete the construction of the proposed indoor tennis courts and facilities in accordance with said plans and specifications therefor, all as above referred to, it will be necessary that the Park District borrow the sum of $35,000 and in evidence thereof issue its Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds in the principal amount of $35,000, said Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds to be payable solely and only out of the earnings to be derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District and such additional $35,000 Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds, when issued, shall share ratably and equally in the revenues derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District with the outstanding Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds authorized to be issued under the terms of said ordinance adopted by the Board of Park Commissioners of said Park District on June 26, 1972, hereinabove referred to; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of Article 9.2 of The Park District Code, approved July 8, 1947, as amended, this Park District is authorized to issue Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds in an amount sufficient to pay the cost of completing the construction of said indoor tennis courts and facilities:

NOW, THEREFORE, Be It Ordained by the Board of Park Commissioners of the Arlington Heights Park District, Cook County, Illinois, as follows:

Section 1. That the Board of Park Commissioners of the Arlington Heights Park District has caused an estimate to be made of the cost of completing the construction of indoor tennis courts and facilities in and for said Park District in order to complete the same in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor heretofore approved by the Board of Park Commissioners and has heretofore determined and does hereby determine that the total estimated cost of the completion of the construction of said indoor tennis courts and facilities as certified by the Architect of the Park District employed for that purpose is the sum of Thirty-Five Thousand Dollars ($35,000) and that to produce that amount it is necessary that the Park District issue Thirty-five Thousand Dollars ($35,000) Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds.

Section 2. That for the purpose of defraying the cost of completing the construction of said indoor tennis courts and facilities in and for said Park District, as referred to and described hereinabove, in the preamble of this ordinance, there be issued and sold Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds of said Park District, in the principal amount of $35,000, which bonds shall be designated "Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds, Second Series of 1972," be dated August 1, 1972, be numbered consecutively from 1 to 7, inclusive, be of the denomination of $5,000 each, bear interest at the rate of six and seven/eighths per cent (67/8%) per annum, payable on May 1, 1973, and semiannually thereafter on the first days of November and May in each year, and mature on May 1, 1989, provided, however, that said bonds, shall be subject to redemption and payment prior to their maturity, at the option of the Park District, at par and accrued interest in the inverse order of their number, on any interest payment date on or after May 1, 1983. Written notice of its option to redeem and pay prior to their maturity any or all of said bonds which by their terms shall have become subject to redemption and payment shall be given by the Park District to the holder of each such bond called for redemption, if known, by registered mail at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of redemption, or if the holders of any such bonds are unknown, then notice of such redemption shall be given by publication of such notice at least once in a newspaper printed in the English language and of general circulation in the City of Chicago, Illinois, and the date of the publication of such notice shall be not less than thirty (30) days prior to such redemption date, and any such notice shall designate the date and place of redemption of said bonds, which shall be at The Bank and Trust Company of Arlington Heights, in the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, shall designate the serial numbers and the aggregate principal amount of the bonds to be redeemed, and shall indicate that on the designated date of redemption said bonds will be redeemed by payment of the principal thereof and accrued interest thereon, and that from and after the designated redemption date interest in respect of said bonds so called for redemption shall cease.

Section 3. That both principal and interest of said Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at The Bank and Trust Company of Arlington Heights, in the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois. That said bonds shall be signed by the President and Secretary of said Board of Park Commissioners and be countersigned by the Treasurer thereof and the seal of said Park District shall be affixed thereto, and the interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be signed by said President and Secretary, respectively, by their facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons.

Said bonds, together with the interest thereon, shall be payable solely from the revenues derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District, and said bonds shall not, in any event, constitute an indebtedness of the Arlington Heights Park District within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation.

Any of said bonds may be registered as to principal at any time prior to maturity, in the name of the holder on the books of said Park District in the office of the Treasurer of said Park District, such registration to be noted on the reverse side of the bonds by said Treasurer, and thereafter the principal of such registered bonds shall be payable only to registered holder, his legal representative or assigns. Such registered bonds shall be transferable to another registered holder or back to bearer only upon presentation to the Park District Treasurer, with a legal assignment duly acknowledged or approved. Registration of any of such bonds shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons thereto attached but such coupons shall be negotiable by delivery merely.

Section 4. That said bonds and coupons shall be in substantially the following form:

(Form of Bond)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ILLINOIS COUNTY OF COOK
ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PARK DISTRICT
INDOOR TENNIS COURT REVENUE BOND,
SECOND SERIES OF 1972

Number —— $5,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that the Arlington Heights Park District, Cook County, Illinois, for value received, hereby promises to pay to bearer or, if this bond be registered, as hereinafter provided, then to the registered holder hereof, solely from the Indoor Tennis Court Fund of the Arlington Heights Park District, as hereinafter mentioned and not otherwise, the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($————) on May 1, 19—, together with interest on said sum from date hereof until paid, at the rate of ———— per cent (————%) per annum, payable on May 1, 1973, and semiannually thereafter on the first days of November and May in each year upon presentation and surrender of the annexed interest coupons as they severally become due.

Both principal of and interest on this bond are hereby made payable in lawful money of the United States of America, at ————, in the ———— of ————, Illinois.

This bond and the series of which it forms a part is payable solely from revenues derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District, and not otherwise, and is issued under authority of the provisions of Sections 9.2-1 through 9.2-6, inclusive, of Article 9.2 of "The Park District Code," approved July 8, 1947, and all laws amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, for the purpose of paying the cost of completing the construction of indoor tennis courts and facilities for said Park District, and this bond does not constitute an indebtedness of said Park District within any constitutional or statutory limitation.

This bond is one of an authorized issue of Thirty-five Thousand Dollars ($35,000), numbered 1 to 7, inclusive, of the denomination of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) each, of like date and tenor except as to privilege of redemption and said bonds are subject to redemption and payment, at the option of the Park District, prior to their maturity, at par and accrued interest to date of redemption, in the inverse order of their number, on any interest payment date on or after May 1, 1983. That is to say, bond numbered 7 shall first be redeemed before bond numbered 6 is redeemed, and so on, continuing such priority of redemption as to all bonds so redeemable. Notice of the redemption of any or all of said bonds which by their terms shall have become subject to redemption shall be given by the Park District to the holder thereof, if known, by registered mail at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of redemption, or if the holder thereof be unknown, such notice shall be published at least once in a newspaper printed in the English language and of general circulation in the City of Chicago, Illinois, the date of the publication of such notice to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to such redemption date, and when any or all of said bonds which by their terms have become subject to redemption and payment prior to their maturity shall have been called for redemption, and payment made or provided for, interest thereon shall cease from and after the date so specified.

Under said Act and the ordinance adopted pursuant thereto, authorizing the issuance of this bond and the series of which it forms a part, the revenues derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District shall be deposited in a separate fund designated as the "Indoor Tennis Court Fund" of said Park District, which shall be used only and is hereby pledged for paying the cost of maintenance and operation of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, providing an adequate depreciation fund and paying the principal of and interest on the bonds of said Park District that are issued under authority of said Act and are payable by their terms only from the revenues of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, and in making all payments required to maintain the accounts created under the terms of the ordinance pursuant to which this bond is issued.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required to be done precedent to and in the issuance of this bond have been done and have happened and have been performed in regular and due form of law and that provision has been made for depositing in said Indoor Tennis Court Fund the revenues received from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District to be applied in the manner as hereinabove set forth, and said Park District hereby covenants and agrees that it will fix and maintain charges for the use of said indoor tennis courts and facilities sufficient at all times to pay the cost of maintenance and operation of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, provide an adequate depreciation fund, and to promptly pay principal of and interest on all bonds issued by said Park District which by their terms are payable solely from the revenues of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, and to comply with all the covenants of and to maintain the accounts created by the ordinance pursuant to which this bond and the series of which it forms a part were issued.

This bond may be registered as to principal only in the name of the holder on the books of said Park District in the office of the Treasurer of said Park District, such registration to be evidenced by notation of said Treasurer on the back hereof, after which no transfer hereof shall be valid unless made on said books and similarly noted hereon, but it may be discharged from such registration by being transferred to bearer, after which it shall be transferable by delivery, but it may be again registered as before. The registration of this bond shall not restrict the negotiability of the coupons by delivery merely.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Arlington Heights Park District, Cook County, Illinois, by its Board of Park Commissioners, has caused this bond to be signed by its President and Secretary of said Board and countersigned by the Treasurer thereof and has caused the corporate seal of said Park District to be affixed hereto, and the coupons hereto attached to be signed by said President and Secretary by their facsimile signatures, which officials, by the execution of this bond, do adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons, and this bond to be dated as of the first day of August, 1972.

Section 5. That upon the issuance of any of the Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds herein provided for, the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District for the purpose of this ordinance, shall be operated on a fiscal year basis commencing the first day of May and ending the last day of April of each succeeding year. From and after the delivery of any bonds issued under the provisions of this ordinance all the revenues from any source whatsoever derived from the operation of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, including all future improvements and extensions thereof, shall be set aside as collected and be deposited in a separate fund which is hereby created to be designated as the "Indoor Tennis Court Fund" of the Arlington Heights Park District, Cook County, Illinois, which shall constitute a trust fund for the sole purpose of carrying out the covenants, terms and conditions of this ordinance, and shall be used only in paying the reasonable cost of maintenance and operation of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, providing an adequate depreciation fund, and paying the principal of and interest upon all revenue bonds of said Park District, which by their terms are payable solely from the revenues derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District, and for the creation and expenditure of the respective accounts as hereinafter provided for.

Section 6. That there be and there are hereby created and established separate special accounts to be designated severally "Maintenance and Operation Account," "Bond and Interest Account," "Depreciation and Replacement Account," "Bond and Interest Reserve Account," and "Surplus Account," into which there shall be paid by the Treasurer in each fiscal year and as soon as may be, without further official action or direction, all moneys in said Indoor Tennis Court Fund in the following priority of accounts:

(a) There shall first be paid into the Maintenance and Operation Account an amount which, together with the unencumbered balance in the Maintenance and Operation Account as of the beginning of each fiscal year, will equal the amount budgeted for the current fiscal year as provided by Section 9 of this Ordinance. The funds in said Account shall be used to pay the reasonable expenses of maintaining and operating the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, salaries, wages, materials, supplies, utilities, fuel, and insurance as provided in the annual budget.

(b) After depositing the required amounts in the Maintenance and Operation Account, there shall be paid in each fiscal year into the Bond and Interest Account the amount of principal of, and interest on, all Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds provided to be issued hereunder which will become due during such fiscal year, and to include principal of, and interest on, all bonds that may be issued in the future on a parity to share ratably and equally in the earnings of the indoor tennis courts and facilities with the bonds herein authorized and under the conditions hereinafter set out, (and for purposes of brevity, such bonds to be issued in the future being hereinafter referred to as "Parity Bonds.") All moneys in said account shall be used only for the purpose of paying interest and principal on all outstanding bonds which by their terms are payable solely from the revenues of said indoor tennis courts and facilities as the same shall become due, and funds sufficient to pay such maturing principal or interest, or both, shall be forwarded to the bank designated as paying agent prior to each current maturity date.

It is hereby determined that the minimum amount to be set aside in the Bond and Interest Account in each fiscal year to be used for the purpose of paying the maturing principal of and interest accruing on the Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds issued under the provisions of this ordinance, shall be as follows:

Fiscal Year Ending Last Day of April	Principal and Interest
1973	$1,804.69
1974	2,406.25
1975	2,406.25
1976	2,406.25
1977	2,406.25
1978	2,406.25
1979	2,406.25
1980	2,406.25
1981	2,406.25
1982	2,406.25
1983	2,406.25
1984	2,406.25
1985	2,406.25
1986	2,406.25
1987	2,406.25
1988	2,406.25
1989	2,406.25
	$37,406.25

Any and all sums received from the purchaser of the bonds as accrued interest thereon to date of delivery shall be paid into said Bond and Interest Account.

(c) After making the foregoing deposits, beginning May 1, 1973, there shall be deposited in the Depreciation and Replacement Account $9,000 each year of the moneys remaining in the Indoor Tennis Court Fund, until such account aggregates the sum of $75,000, and thereafter no additional payments shall be made into such account, except that whenever any money is paid out of said account, payments into said account shall be resumed at the rate of $9,000 per year until such account has been restored to the aggregate amount of $75,000. Moneys in said account shall be retained and used for such replacements as may be necessary from time to time for the continued effective and efficient operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District, but shall not be used for extensions to said indoor tennis courts and facilities. The funds in said account may also be used to prevent or remedy a default in the payment of the interest on or principal of any bonds of said Park District which by their terms are payable from the revenues derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities, and for that purpose shall be transferred to the Bond and Interest Account, and whenever such an amount is withdrawn from said account and so transferred to said Bond and Interest Account, the amount so transferred shall be added to the amount to be next and thereafter paid into said Depreciation and Replacement Account until full reimbursement to said account has been made.

(d) After making the foregoing deposits, beginning on May 1, 1973, there shall be deposited in the Bond and Interest Reserve Account the sum of $5,000 each year until such account aggregates the sum of $50,000, and thereafter no additional payments shall be made into such account except that whenever any money is paid out of said account, payments in said account shall be resumed at the rate of $5,000 per year until such account has been restored to the aggregate amount of $50,000. The Park District covenants and agrees to maintain said Bond and Interest Reserve Account throughout the life of said bonds authorized to be issued under the terms of this ordinance, and until such time as the moneys deposited in said account are equal to the aggregate amount of all interest and principal requirements to maturity of the then outstanding bonds authorized to be issued under the terms of this ordinance and thereafter no further payments shall be made into said account. Moneys in said Bond and Interest Reserve Account shall be retained and used only for the payment of principal of or interest on all bonds of said Park District payable from the revenues of the indoor tennis courts due at any time when there are insufficient funds available in the Bond and Interest Account to pay such principal of or interest on such bonds as the same become due.

(e) All moneys remaining in the Indoor Tennis Court Fund, as established by this ordinance, after all payments into the respective accounts hereinabove described in subparagraphs (a) to (d), inclusive, of this section, required to have been made shall have been made, including any deficiencies as hereinabove provided, shall be paid into the Surplus Account.

The funds paid into the Surplus Account shall be held and used for the following purposes:

(1) For making up any deficiencies necessary to pay into the accounts (a) to (d) inclusive, the required amounts therefor for each fiscal year, as hereinabove provided.

(2) Fifty per cent (50%) of the amount remaining shall be deposited in the Bond Reserve Account if at such time or times said account aggregates less than the sum of $50,000 and thereafter into the Depreciation Account if at such time or times said account aggregates less than the sum of $75,000.

(3) For the calling and redemption of bonds which by their terms are payable from the revenues derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District as said bonds become redeemable according to their terms.

(4) For the improvement, enlargement and extension of the indoor tennis courts and facilities or for the making of any unusual repairs or replacements, or for the acquisition of any equipment necessary therefor.

(5) For any other lawful corporate purpose.

(f) The moneys in any of the accounts created by subparagraphs (c), (d) and (e), as hereinabove created and set forth in this section, may by resolution adopted by the Board of Park Commissioners be invested from time to time by the Treasurer of said Park District in interest bearing bonds or other direct and general obligations of the United States Government and maturing in not more than five years after the purchase date thereof, and such securities shall be sold from time to time by said Treasurer pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Park Commissioners as funds may be needed for the purpose for which said accounts have been created. All accrued interest on any funds so invested shall be credited to the account for which the investment was made.

(g) The above specified amounts of the monthly payments to be made into the Depreciation Account and the Bond and Interest Reserve Account and the amount above specified as the aggregate amount of said Accounts are inclusive of and not in addition to the amounts required to be paid into said Accounts under the provisions of the Ordinance heretofore adopted on June 26, 1972, and authorizing the issuance of the $700,000 Indoor Tennis Court Revenue Bonds of said Park District dated August 1, 1972.

That moneys in each of the above created Accounts shall be kept separate and apart from all other funds and moneys of the Park District and moneys in the Maintenance and Operation Account, above established, shall be deposited with The Bank & Trust Company of Arlington Heights, Illinois, and moneys in all other Accounts above established (excluding the Maintenance and Operation Account) shall be deposited in separate accounts with The Bank & Trust Company of Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Section 7. The Board of Park Commissioners, not less than sixty days preceding the beginning of each fiscal year (or portion thereof as established by this ordinance after the date of the completion of the indoor tennis courts and facilities herein authorized to be constructed) shall prepare and adopt a budget covering maintenance and operation expenses for the ensuing fiscal year, which budget shall be based on the then current estimated cost of providing reasonable and necessary services for the continued effective and efficient operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District.

If for any reason the Board of Park Commissioners shall not have adopted a budget prior to the beginning of any fiscal year, the budget for the preceding fiscal year shall, until the adoption of a budget, be deemed to be in force and be deemed to be the budget for the current fiscal year under the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 8. If the amounts held in the Indoor Tennis Court Fund after the payment of necessary expenses of operation and maintenance under economical management are insufficient to fulfill all the requirements of sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of Section 6 of this ordinance, then first there shall be paid the full requirements of the "Bond and Interest Account"; thereafter there shall be paid the requirements of the "Depreciation and Replacement Account"; and thereafter there shall be paid the requirements of the "Bond and Interest Reserve Account." Deficiencies in any of said accounts shall be made up from the first funds available.

Section 9. That the Arlington Heights Park District, Cook County, Illinois, covenants and agrees with the holders of said bonds and coupons hereby authorized that so long as the bonds or any of them remain outstanding and unpaid, either as to principal or interest:

(a) That the Park District will maintain its indoor tennis courts and facilities and all improvements and extensions thereto in good repair and working order, will operate the same efficiently and faithfully and punctually perform all duties with respect thereto required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Illinois.

(b) That the Park District will establish and maintain at all times reasonable fees, charges and rates for all users of the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District and provide for the collection thereof and for the segregation and application of the revenues of said indoor tennis courts and facilities in the manner provided by this ordinance and sufficient at all times to pay the reasonable costs of maintenance and operation, to pay the interest of and principal on all revenue bonds of said Park District which by their terms are payable from the revenues of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, and to provide for the creation of the respective accounts as provided in Section 6 of this ordinance, and from time to time make all needful and proper repairs, replacements, additions and betterments thereto so that said indoor tennis courts and facilities may at all times be operated properly and advantageously, and when any equipment or facility shall have been worn out, destroyed or otherwise is insufficient for proper use, it shall be promptly replaced or repaired so that the value and efficiency of said indoor tennis courts and facilities shall be at all times fully maintained. No free use of the indoor tennis courts and facilities owned and operated by said Park District shall be furnished to any persons, firm, organization, or corporation, public or private.

(c) That the Park District will establish such rules and regulations for the control and operation of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, necessary for the efficient and economical operation thereof, and rates and charges shall be fixed and revised from time to time as may be necessary to produce funds sufficient for all purposes herein provided until all of the bonds authorized by this ordinance have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest.

(d) That the Park District will make and keep proper books and accounts (separate and apart from all other records and accounts of said Park District) in which complete entries shall be made of all transactions relating to the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District, and hereby covenants that it will cause said books and accounts to be audited annually by certified public accountants showing the receipts and disbursements on account of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, and that said audit will be available for inspection by the public at all times. Each such audit in addition to whatever matters may be thought proper by the accountants to be included therein, shall, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, include the following:

1. A statement in detail of the income and expenditures of the indoor tennis courts and facilities for such fiscal year.
2. A balance sheet as of the end of such fiscal year.
3. The accountant's comment regarding the manner in which the Park District has carried out the requirements of this ordinance, and the accountant's recommendations for any changes or improvements in the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities.
4. A list of all the insurance policies in force at the end of the fiscal year, setting out as to each policy the amount of the policy, the risks covered, the name of the insurer and the expiration date of the policy.

All expense incurred in the making of the audit required by this section shall be regarded and paid as a maintenance and operation expense, and it is further covenanted and agreed that a copy of each such audit shall be furnished to the holder of any of the bonds at his request, and any holder of a bond or bonds authorized under this ordinance shall have the right to discuss with the accountant making the audit the contents of the audit and to ask for any additional information he may reasonably require. Quarterly statements of receipts and disbursements of the indoor tennis courts and facilities shall be furnished the Board of Park Commissioners, and a copy of such quarterly statement shall be mailed each quarter to the original purchasers of the bonds authorized by this ordinance.

(e) That so long as any of the bonds authorized hereunder are outstanding the Park District will not sell, lease, loan, mortgage or in any manner dispose of or encumber the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District (subject to the reserved right of said Park District to issue additional obligations as provided in Section 12 hereof) or any improvements and extensions thereto until all of said bonds hereby authorized shall be paid in full, both principal and interest, or unless and until provision shall have been made for the payment thereof, and that said Park District will take no action in relation to said indoor tennis courts and facilities which would unfavorably affect the security of the bonds or the prompt payment of the principal and interest thereon.

(f) Any holder of a bond or bonds or any of the coupons of any bond or bonds issued hereunder may either in law or equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, enforce or compel performance by the officials of said Park District of all duties required by law and by this ordinance, including the making and collecting of sufficient charges and rates for the use of said indoor tennis courts and facilities, and the application of the income and revenue therefrom.

(g) That the Park District will carry insurance on said indoor tennis courts and facilities of the kinds and in the amounts which are usually carried by private parties operating similar properties, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, fire, windstorm insurance, public liability and all additional insurance covering such risks as shall be recommended by a competent consultant employed for the purpose of making such recommendation, and all moneys received for loss under such insurance policies shall be deposited in the Depreciation and Replacement Account and used in making good the loss or damage in respect of which they were paid, either by repairing the property damaged or replacing the property destroyed and provision for making good such loss or damage shall be made within ninety days from date of loss. The payment of premiums for all insurance policies required under the provisions of this covenant shall be considered a maintenance and operation expense.

The proceeds derived from any and all policies for public liability shall be paid into the Maintenance and Operation Account and used in paying the claims on account of which they were received.

Section 10. That it is hereby covenanted and agreed that while any of such bonds herein authorized to be issued are outstanding, no additional indoor tennis court revenue bonds shall be issued to share ratably and equally in the revenues to be derived from the operation of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District, with the revenue bonds herein authorized to be issued, unless the revenues derived from the indoor tennis courts and facilities for the fiscal year then next preceding were sufficient to pay all costs of maintenance and operation, to pay all sums required to be deposited up to the date of issue of said additional bonds to the Depreciation and Replacement Account and the Bond and Interest Reserve Account and to pay all bonds theretofore called for prior redemption but not yet redeemed, and leave a balance equal to at least One Hundred Twenty-five per cent (125%) of the combined maximum annual principal and interest requirements on all bonds then outstanding payable from the revenues of the indoor tennis courts and facilities and the additional bonds proposed to be issued. The Park District further covenants that if any additional bonds are so issued the maximum amounts to be deposited in the Depreciation and Replacement Account and in the Bond and Interest Reserve Account shall be increased in proportion to the principal amount of any additional bonds so issued.

If prior to the payment of any of the bonds hereby authorized it shall be found desirable to refund all or a part of the bonds hereby authorized, said bonds may be refunded notwithstanding the restrictions as to the issuance of additional bonds set forth in this section (with the consent of the holders thereof unless the bonds to be refunded are subject to redemption and provision for call and redemption thereof is duly made) and any refunding bonds so issued shall share ratably and equally in the revenues of said indoor tennis courts and facilities and the pledge thereof under this ordinance with the portion of the bonds hereby authorized which are not refunded; provided, however, that if only a portion of said outstanding bonds are to be refunded at any time, such obligations shall not be refunded by bonds bearing interest at a rate greater than the interest rate provided by this ordinance, or maturing at a date earlier than the final maturity of such bonds not refunded.

In all other cases, any additional bonds or obligations issued payable from the revenues of the indoor tennis courts and facilities of said Park District shall be in all respects junior and subordinate to the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and shall not become due or be redeemable before the bonds hereby authorized.

Section 11. That the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute a contract between Arlington Heights Park District and the holders of the bonds herein authorized to be issued, and after the issuance of said bonds, no changes, additions or alterations of any kind shall be made hereto, except as hereinbefore provided, until all of said bonds and the interest thereon shall have been paid in full, or unless and until provision shall have been made for the payment thereof.

Section 12. That the sale of the bonds herein authorized to Van Kampen, Wauterlek & Brown, Inc., Chicago, Illinois, pursuant to contract entered into, is hereby ratified and confirmed and after the execution of said bonds in the manner as herein provided, the same shall then be delivered to the Treasurer of the Park District and by him delivered to the purchaser thereof upon receipt of the purchase price therefor, the same being $35,000 and 100% of accrued interest on said bonds from date thereof up to and including the date of delivery and such selling price is hereby determined to be such that the interest cost to the Park District of the proceeds of the bonds does not exceed 7% computed to maturity according to standard table of bond values.

Section 13. That the proceeds derived from the sale of the bonds hereby authorized, exclusive of accrued interest, shall be deposited by the Park District Treasurer in the "Construction Fund Account of the Arlington Heights Park District," which is hereby created, which funds shall be kept separate and apart from all other funds of the municipality and deposited in The Bank and Trust Company of Arlington Heights, Arlington Heights, Illinois which said bank be and is hereby designated as the Depositary for the funds of said Construction Fund Account. The accrued interest received from the sale of said bonds shall be deposited in the Bond and Interest Account hereinabove created and used for the prompt and punctual payment of the interest on said bonds. Said funds in the "Construction Fund Account of the Arlington Heights Park District" shall be held and used solely to pay the cost of the construction of the indoor tennis courts and facilities as provided for by this ordinance in accordance with the estimates, plans, maps, and specifications therefor prepared for that purpose, now on file with the Secretary and open to inspection of the public, and said funds shall be withdrawn from said depositary from time to time by the Park District Treasurer only upon submission by him to said Depositary of the following:

(a) A duplicate of the order signed by the President and Secretary, stating specifically the purpose for which the order is issued and indicating that the payment for which the order is issued has been approved by the Board of Park Commissioners of the Park District; and

(b) Each withdrawal of funds by the Treasurer for work done, or materials or services supplied in connection with the construction of said project shall also be accompanied by a certificate executed by the engineer or architect in charge stating the nature of the work completed, or materials or services supplied, and the amount due and payable thereon. The costs of engineering, architectural, legal and financial services, the costs of surveys, designs, soundings, borings, furnishings, landscaping, and all other necessary and incidental expenses, which are not a part of the construction contract or contracts, shall be deemed items of cost of construction of the project, but shall not require the architect's or engineers certificate for the withdrawal of funds. The Depositary shall release these funds upon the receipt of the appropriate certificate executed by the President and Secretary of the Board of Park Commissioners.

Within sixty days after completion of the work in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor, hereinabove referred to in this ordinance, and after all costs have been paid in connection with the construction thereof, the engineer or architect shall certify to the Board of Park Commissioners that the work has been completed according to plans and specifications, and upon approval by the Board of Park Commissioners of the completion of the work based upon said certificate, and after all costs have been paid, the President, Secretary and engineer or architect shall execute a certificate and file it with the Depositary certifying that the work has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications, that all costs have been paid, and if at that time any funds remain in said Construction Fund Account the same shall be transmitted by said Depositary to the Treasurer and be by said Treasurer deposited in the Bond and Interest Reserve Account.

Section 14. If any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of such section, paragraph, clause or provision shall not affect any of the other provisions of this ordinance.

Section 15. All ordinances, resolution or orders, or parts thereof, in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

Section 16. This ordinance, within ten (10) days after its passage by the Board of Park Commissioners, shall be published once in The Arlington Heights Herald, the same being a newspaper published in said Park District and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect as provided by law.

Passed by the Board of Park Commissioners, on the 21st day of August, 1972, and recorded, deposited and filed in the office of the Secretary of said Park District this 21st day of August, 1972.

Notice to Contractors

FOR WORK TO BE CONSTRUCTED UNDER THE ILLINOIS HIGHWAY CODE

1. Time and Place of Opening Bids. Sealed proposals for the improvement of the thoroughfares described therein will be received at the office of the Village Manager of Mount Prospect, Illinois, Cook County, Illinois until 10 a.m. 5 September 1972, and at that time publicly opened and read.

2. Description of Work. (a) The proposed improvement is officially known as Section 47 — CS, and is located on N. Burning Bush Lane from Euclid to Tano Lane; W. Henry Street from Kenilworth Ave. To Dead End, S. William Street from Golf Road to Weller Creek; and E. Sunset Road from Edward to William Street, a total distance of 3694 feet, to be improved.

(b) The proposed improvement consists of widening and paving the above streets by excavating to subgrade, placing 6-inch Bituminous aggregate mixture base course, and Bituminous concrete surface course Class I, together with curbs and gutters, drainage structures and parking area facilities. Existing adjacent half street surface is to be removed and replaced when Class I surface is installed.

3. Instructions to Bidders (a) Plans and proposal forms may be obtained from the Village Engineer 11 S. Pine St., Mount Prospect, Ill. 60056. All bidders must be prequalified by the Illinois Division of Highways, (b) All proposals must be accompanied by a bank cashier's check, bank draft, or certified check for not less than ten (10) per cent of the bid, or as provided in Article 102.09 of the "Standard Specifications for Road and Bridge Construction," prepared by the Department of Public Works and Buildings of the State of Illinois.

4. Rejection of Bids. The Mayor and Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all proposals as provided in Article 102.09 of the "Standard Specifications for Road and Bridge Construction," prepared by the Department of Public Works and Buildings of the State of Illinois.

By Order of the Mayor and Board of Trustees of the Village of Mount Prospect, Illinois.

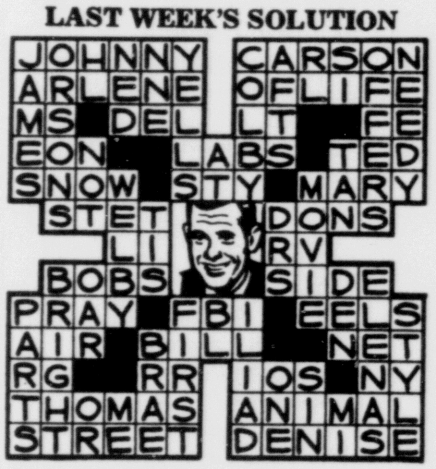
LAST WEEK'S SOLUTION



On the Cover

ABC brings you the XXth Olympiad

A record 21 sports will take the spotlight in Munich, West Germany this week, as the 1972 Summer Olympics are held in that picturesque Bavarian city. The ABC Television Network will televise over 60 hours of the action, via satellite, from Friday, August 25 through Sunday, September 10. Among the spectacular competitive sights are those depicted on our cover: international basketball, and pictured in the intertwined Olympic circle symbol: swimming, men's track and field, the Olympic flame, women's track and field, and boxing. Consult local listings in this week's magazine for specific Olympic telecast time slots.

I would like to know if Cher Bono has been in any movies, if so what were they? When will the Osmonds be on TV? Has the FLIP WILSON SHOW been taken off the air? That was my favorite show.

C.M.
Arlington Heights

Cher Bono

The sexy-vampish looking gal has been in several movies. In fact, her daughter is named after one of them, "Chastity." Oh-oh, you missed the Osmonds on their most recent TV appearance. They were guests on the special 'POPS' seen in late July. We are not sure at this time when they will be on again, so keep a close eye on TV Time listings.

Don't get discouraged, your favorite show, FLIP WILSON, is returning in the fall! NBC has had a great response to his show and, of course, high ratings keep the shows 'on.'

I am writing to find out if THE PERSUADERS will be back on the air this fall. If not, WHY?

J.A.L.
Hoffman Estates

Win a few—lose a few! We lost THE PERSUADERS. The old game of the ratings brought the demise of the show.

Why was LASSIE and LAUREL AND HARDY taken off the air? Where can I get a picture of Svengoolie?

Greg Maass
Elk Grove Village

Write to Svengoolie, WFLD-TV, 300 North State Street, Chicago Illinois, 60610. Both of the shows to which you refer have been rerun several times. They will probably make it back for another time, so keep watching.

Is Mary Tyler Moore married? If so, does she have any children?

M.J.
Elk Grove

Mary Tyler Moore

The star of the MARY TYLER MOORE show is married in real life to Grant Tinker, a TV producer. They have one child, a son Ritchie.

Mary was already a professional dancer by the time she was 17, first in TV commercials and later in chorus lines on variety shows. Believe it or not, but her first attention-getting role was as Sam, the secretary with the sexy voice and beautiful legs whose face was never shown on the RICHARD DIAMOND TV series. After just 13 weeks, she asked to be released from the series. Good move!

Many guest roles followed before she was chosen for the role of Laura on THE DICK VAN DYKE SHOW. During the five-year run, Miss Moore received two Emmys for best actress. Following that, she appeared in several feature pictures. Mary has a very popular show now and there will be new episodes of THE MARY TYLER MOORE SHOW in the fall.

I have a lot of questions. Did James Dean die in an automobile accident? How old was he? What are his movies? Was he married? Where can I write to Lee Majors?

J.U.
Hoffman Estates

James Dean just had his foot inside the door of success when he was killed in an automobile accident. The movie that scored a big hit for him was "Rebel Without a Cause." He did a splendid job in it and was 'known' almost overnite. He was not married at the time of his death. His life spanned the years 1931-1955.

Lee, Jess Brandon on the series, gets his mail c/o ABC-TV, 1330 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10019.

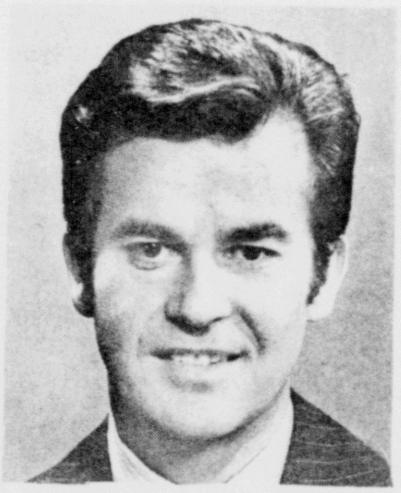
How long has AMERICAN BANDSTAND been on TV? How old is Dick Clark?

Terry B.
Mt. Prospect



Dick Clark

Bandstand originally was broadcast from Philadelphia and now is telecast from the west. It premiered in 1957. Dick, 44, is married to the former Loretta Martin. They have three children: Richard, 15; Duane, 9; and Cindy, 7.

Is Rod Serling's NIGHT GALLERY going to be on next season? Please print a picture of Bill Cosby. Where may I write to him?

Tim Mooney
Arlington Heights

Bill Cosby

Rod's show is coming back next fall. However the show has been cut to a half hour of prime time. It is felt that the show will still have 'great' weird stories and they may be even better this next fall.

Bill, 35, grew up with plenty of sibling rivalry in Penn. Now he has little time for conflict between Cosby the comic, award winning recording artist, motion picture producer and film star. He will be televised this fall on his show called THE NEW BILL COSBY SHOW

Cosby plans to work hard to live up to the image of 'one of the most influential black men'. To help him, he has enrolled for some graduate courses in the field of psychology. Bill feels a need to work with parents who are poor; and hopes to provide an educational environment for his own three children. Write to Bill c/o NBC-TV, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10020.

Len Dawson, Kansas City Chiefs quarterback, steps back and starts to set up as he seeks a receiver downfield. A 15-year pro, Dawson ranked third in the NFL among quarterbacks last year; he has led the AFL in passing four years (1962, '64, '66 and '68) The Chiefs will play the Los Angeles Rams in a pre-season game that will be telecast, live and in color, on the ABC Television Network Sunday, August 27. The popular ABC sportscasting team of Frank Gifford, Howard Cosell and Don Meredith will be at Kansas City's new stadium, Arrowhead, to report the action.

These two men will be in Munich for the 1972 Summer Olympic Games. Jim Ryun (left) is the world record holder in the mile and 880-yard run. He will represent the United States in the 1,500-meter run after winning the Olympic Trials. Erich Segal, the author of "Love Story", is a distance runner of some merit but his assignment in Munich will be to provide expert commentary on distance running for ABC Sports. The ABC Television Network will provide exclusive satellite coverage of the XXth Olympiad Friday, Aug. 25 through Sunday, Sept. 10.

Sue Ane Langdon Tony Randall

Sue Ane Langdon joins Tony Randall Saturday for 'Imagination' show

Tony Randall hosts an hour of song and comedy on "Imagination: Set to Music," on WGN Television, Saturday, August 26, from 7 to 8 p.m.

Randall's special guest star is Jack Klugman. Other guests are Teresa Graves; Sue Ane Langdon, who appears with Tony and Klugman in a number of comedy sketches; Craig Hundley, a gifted 18-year-old concert pianist; the Chute twins; comedians Tom Patchett and Jay Tases; The Establishment and the youngsters of San Francisco's St. Mary's Drum Corps.

The program covers a wide musical range, offering viewers a choice of musical sounds. Included are rock, an opera sung by Randall and guest star Jack Klugman, a Duke Ellington tune sung by guest Teresa Graves and a 17th century Scarlatti sonata.

Randall demonstrates his performing versatility in a number in which he appears as a beggar in front of New York's Carnegie Hall, strumming a uke and soliciting coins for his tin cup. A flashback then shows him years before as "The Great Eddie," a major vaudeville star doing a song and dance routine in the fashion of the '30's, on the Carnegie Hall Stage.

(1947) See 8:30 listing Thurs.

1:30 (44) ★★Give My Regards to Broadway (BW)
(1948) Dan Dailey, Nancy Guild, Charlie Ruggles. A father tries to keep his family vaudeville act together, despite the children's marriages. Until 3:00.

3:30 (2) ★★★★Letter to Three Wives (BW)
(1948) Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell and Kirk Douglas. The "letter" is addressed to three wives from their best friend, announcing that she is running away with one of their husbands—but she doesn't say which one. Each wife examines her marriage in flashbacks, wondering if the wandering husband is hers. Until 5:30.

(7) ★★★Great Missouri (C)
(1951) Frank and Jesse James, after fighting Union soldiers who are plundering their farmlands, apply for amnesty at the end of the Civil War. Betrayed by an Army officer, they turn to a life of crime. Until 5:00.

6:30 (44) ★★Night of the Quarter Moon (BW)
(1959) Julie London, John Drew Barrymore. A girl with a trace of Negro blood marries into a socially prominent family, attracting a great deal of public attention. Until 8:00.

7:00 (9) ★★Road to Denver (C)
(1955) Two Texan brothers, one resolute and dependable, the other foolhardy but basically loyal, find a solution to their long-drawn-out fraternal feud over which one is boss. Until 9:00.

10:30 (9) ★★★Inspector General (C)
(1944) Danny Kaye. Town clown is forced to impersonate a visiting Inspector General. Delightful farce from Gogol's story. Until 12:30.

(32) ★★Terror is a Man (BW)

Meeting of musical minds: Doc Severenson and Boots Randolph in 'Star Spangled Boots'

Boots Randolph has an ambition which he knows will never be realized—but he keeps dreaming about it anyway. The saxophone soloist and recording star says: "I'd like to tour the country leading a big, old-fashioned jumpin' jazz band."

Randolph admitted there is one major reason why his ambition will remain a dream. "It just wouldn't make any money...which is why nobody has tried it, I guess. It would just be too expensive to take a band like that on the road. You would need top-grade musicians. And you just can't hire local musicians in different parts of the country and expect to find the same caliber of talent and experience."

THE tall musician displays his musical skills when he headlines "Star Spangled Boots," a one-hour special to be colorcast on the NBC Television Network Tuesday, Aug. 29. His guests include Doc Severinsen, Barbara McNair and Grammy Award-winning guitarist Chet Atkins.

The show was prepared in one of the havens of jazz, Nashville, Tenn. Jazz and the big-band swing era have been major musical influences on his life, Randolph said. He began playing professionally in the 1940s.

Randolph said: "The mid-40s were the big years of the big bands and I'd have to say that a variety of performers of the era influenced me—Coleman Hawkins, Lester Young, Charlie Ventura, Ben Webster (who was with the Duke Ellington band) and Flip Phillips (who played with Woody Herman's outfit).

"That was a great time for popular music. I don't think the big-band sounds or the big bands themselves are completely lost. I see that Count Basie and the Duke and Woody were at the recent Newport Jazz Festival in New York City. They were tops in the big-band days. Maybe the popularity of that time will never return but its influence on popular music will never really disappear."

BOOTS IN TUNE—Saxophone soloist and recording star Boots Randolph shares the stage with a roster of top guests when he headlines "Star Spangled Boots," a one-hour music-and-comedy special prepared in Nashville, Tenn., which will be colorcast on the NBC Television Network Tuesday, Aug. 29.

How heavy is drug flow in the U.S.? 'CBS Reports' examines this problem

CBS REPORTS: "The Mexican Connection," the widely praised, first-person account of the trafficking of an estimated $1-billion-a-year in illicit drugs between Mexico and the United States, will be rebroadcast Wednesday, Aug. 30, on the CBS Television Network.

CBS News producer Jay McMullen, the reporter on the broadcast, spent eight months in Mexico examining the intricate workings of the air smuggling operation—the major problem in coping with the flow of drugs across the border, according to U.S. law enforcement officials.

MCMULLEN LOOKS AT those who control the operations, how they are run, why they are so successful and what devices the Mexican and American governments are implementing to bring a halt to the traffic.

Following its initial broadcast, "The Mexican Connection" was praised by editors in the nation's press as "a revealing documentary" (New York Post); "...an absorbing broadcast" (Worcester, Mass., Evening Gazette); "...worthy of a Hollywood thriller" (The New York Times); "an excellent job of reporting" (Pittsburgh Post Gazette); and "an assignment (carried off) in the grand old tradition of the news business" (Columbus Citizen-Journal).

The CBS REPORTS broadcast provides an in-depth examination of how the air smuggling organizations function—from the cultivation of marijuana and opium poppy fields to the shipment of the drugs. There are also first-hand accounts from those directly involved in the operations—pilots, financial backers, distributors and buyers.

According to McMullen, air smuggling operations burgeoned with the increase in production and availability of Mexican marijuana and opium—operations which are highly organized and linked together on a nationwide basis.

This little piece of metal can bring nations together

This is what the world's greatest athletes will compete for in Munich, Germany: an Olympic medal. Winners of events will earn gold medals; second-place will earn a silver medal; third-place, a bronze medal. The ABC Television Network will televise an unprecedented 61½ hours of competition for these medals, which symbolize the ultimate achievement in the world of amateur sports. Satellite coverage of the 1972 Summer Olympics will be aired by ABC Friday, Aug. 25 through Sunday, Sept. 10.

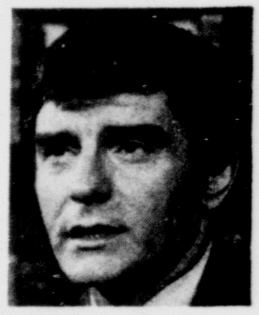
Mike's daytime TV troubles

(This week's column was written by Managing Editor Karen Johnson following an interview with Don Stewart who plays Michael Bauer weekdays on CBS's The Guiding Light.)

We have a few insights to share with those members of the television tribe who settle into their favorite corner and let the light guide them to places like 'Springfield' of Guiding Light fame. The 'sight' upon whom we focus is Don Stewart who projects the role of Momma Bert Bauer's son, Michael.

Mike has had quite a time with life of late. Besides suffering a gun shot wound at the hand of an undesireable named Malone, his marriage is on the rocks. Mr. Bauer, you see, was 'smitten' with the charming Mrs. who happened to be his brother's wife!



Don Stewart

UPON MEETING Stewart we marveled that the Naval Reserve pilot, who holds the rank of Lt. Commander, was in a very healthy condition...bearing in mind what he's been through. However, the 27-year-old bachelor has another less complicated life to lead when he isn't walking around in Michael's troubled shoes. This other life revolves around skeet shooting, boating and singing in nightclubs. The singing routine has been one of the actor's loves since he was a seventh grader back in Norfolk, Neb., where he gave out with Jesu Bambino at a Christmas program.

Mike...or Don, that is...takes both his singing and his daytime job seriously and notes that one benefits the other. "Daytime audiences are very loyal." he told us. "I've sold out in all the clubs I've appeared in. These people don't even know if I can sing a note. They just know that Don Stewart who plays Michael Bauer is going to appear...and they turn out."

ASIDE FROM THAT, though...all that glitters in the world of actors and acting...is not star dust. While those actors who spend their working hours day-side consider this medium an important part of the television business, there are those who evidently don't share the same view.

We make the comment because the names of the daytime shows and the actors concerned are noticably absent when Emmy Award time makes the scene each year. And how, we asked Don, do you feel about this? "It's a real sore spot." the gentleman answered. "Millions of people watch daytime television. I'm sure," he went on, "that some of those same people wonder why daytime actors aren't receiving awards."

Although Stewart admitted certain difficulties in categorizing awards for such as the 'operas' he did suggest that perhaps those concerned should forget The Television Academy (those who name Emmy recipients) and have "another set-up for daytime programs."

Delving deeper into the subject, he related that about two years ago the daytime stars were invited to a party by those at the helm of the Academy. It seems that the 'jist' of the evening was a pitch for membership. Along with the 'courting' gesture it was suggested that if day-side actors saw fit to join they might stand a chance of finding their name on an Emmy. "Some of the actors bought that and joined," he said. "I didn't buy. I think it's ridiculous that they don't consider daytime television for awards.

Besides making money and the personal satisfaction that one achieves in keeping a role in such a competitive market...there's one more thing that makes Don Stewart tick. "I get letters addressed to Don Stewart from people who actually care about Michael Bauer," he said. "A few months ago I received a letter from a nurse who takes care of a bedridden woman. She wrote that 'caring about Michael Bauer' was an important part of her patient's life. If I can give people something they need and entertain at the same time...Well," he smiled, "that's very important to me."
